WHO'LL SEW FOR SOLDIERS

Newton Women Must Volunteer if the Government Call for Hospital Garments Is To Be Met

Knitting and surgical dressings are in a way rather put in the shade at other necessary war work—sewing. Knitters one sees almost everywhere and the work they have turned out since our country's entry into the war has given comfort to many a soldier and sailor. Surgical dressings making carries with it the thought that the dressings made by the means of saving lives and helping to win back to health those wounded on the field of battle. The hundreds of hundreds of thousands of dressings made by the faithful workers are all of them needed, and thousands on thousands more will be needed and must be made. As long as the war lasts there will be need for knitters and surgical dressings makers, and the work they do will win for them the thanks and the blessings of the men at the front.

But those who sew are also doing a needed and blessed work and doing it persistently and patiently although the outside world knows comparatively little about it. Any man who has seen ill or hurt and put into fresh clean pajamas, or shirt, and tucked in between cool, clean sheets, knows the unspeakable comfort and sense of rest that comes when he is so cared for. If any men on earth deserve to know such comfort and rest it is the men who have gone forth to fight the battle for those at home, and it is to assure it to them that women war workers sew day in and day out. It is to assure it to all of our boys who need it that the Newton Branch of the Red Cross and affiliated societies ask more women to join them in sewing.

Since the beginning of the war the Newton Branch of the Red Cross has stood first in sewing among all the branches of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the Red Cross, and the work of the Newton Red Cross and its affiliated societies has put the city at the head of all the cities that surround Boston. This is a record of which to be proud and also a record to be maintained until the war shall have ended with the victory of the Allied Forces which are fighting the war for civilization. To get an idea of what the women of Newton are doing in the way of sewing, here are some of the articles that went to make up the total of nearly 7000 sewed articles turned in in the month of March: Of bags there were 3094; blankets 11; bloomers 18; booties 31; chemises 5; covers, for hot water bottles and for rumblers 315; drawers 11; dresses 29; dresses for children 4; garment for children 14; nightgowns 2; handkerchiefs, 1188; bed jackets 26; kites 511; layettes 1; mops 5; pajamas 287; petticoats 36; pillows 172; shirts 20; surgical shirts 295; surgical shirts for the helpless, 4; undershirts 42; skirts 1; vests 15. Every one of these articles was needed and the demand for all of them will be greater as the war goes on.

Now that the soldiers who have gone from Newton are many of them in the very heart of the struggle that is going on on the western front, the need for all the sewed hospital articles that Newton can send forward is an appeal from Newton men at the front to the Newton people at home. It is Newton's call to Newton, America's call to America. No one doubts the call will be answered if once the women of Newton realize the call is made. The difficulty is to make them realize it.

The Newton Red Cross and its affiliated societies are asked now by the government to work at sewing as they have never worked before. Under the regulations the work must be done in the war workrooms, under supervision and direction, in order that all of it may be according to the standards established by the government. The workrooms in the different villages are equipped with machines, many with electric motors, and the conditions under which the work is carried on is of the pleasantest. The work goes on every week-day, except Saturdays, morning and afternoon, and the call now sent out is for enough volunteers to keep all the machines going all the time. The garments to be made are all cut ready to be sewed together, and the work is of a kind that almost any woman can do.

During the winter many women have attended regularly club meetings at which there have been papers on civic work and discussions on the work women can do in the world. Many women there are who take pride in having the blood of the colonists or the heroes of the Revolution in their veins. What better way to show that the spirit, as well as the blood of the fathers, still persists than to take part in the war work of today with the same high-heartedness and determination with which they took part in the work of establishing the country and securing for it its independence? Discussions and papers are good, but the thing that counts is doing today the work of today. Remember, too, that posterity should have the right to look back with pride to its ancestors who are living their lives today just as those of today have the right to look back with pride to their ancestors who lived in the days of the nation's birth and early struggles.

In all wars, women have a great stake, but in no war have they had a greater one than in the present. To keep from our shores the horrors, the outrages, and the brutalities which women of Europe have suffered from the Hun, Newton boys are fighting along with those from Britain and France and Italy. It is their right to expect that if they are wounded in the fight the women at home will see to it they do not lack for hospital comforts. The Newton war workrooms need many more women to do sewing if Newton is to do its part as it should.

As Rudyard Kipling puts it, in the poem the Liberty Bond advertisements have spread broadcast:—
Peter twirled the jangling keys in weariness and wrath.
"Ye have read, ye have heard, ye have thought," he said, "and the tale is yet to run;
By the worth of the body that once ye had, give answer—what ha' ye done?"

—Next week is Clean-up week. Get busy.

—Have you filed your flour card yet? If not, why not?

THE COPELAND CONCERT

For the Benefit of Newton South Allies' Relief Fund

Last Monday's concert, April 29, at Bray Hall, by George Copeland, in aid of the Newton South Allies' Relief, was the musical event of the season. Mr. Copeland is recognized this country over as the "Aladdin" of the piano. Musical critics everywhere join in acclaiming him the foremost interpreter we have of Debussy.

His program of Monday, however, marked him as a pianist without limitation. The first half consisted of compositions by Beethoven, Bach, Scarlatti, Chopin and MacDowell. Certainly this list of composers shows his ability to interpret not only compositions of modern trend, but also those of the masters.

The last half of Mr. Copeland's program afforded him an opportunity to reveal in just such grooves as he loves to play—Debussy, Grieg, Zueria, Albeniz and Chabrier. It is certainly true that no other pianist has his exquisite touch or his perfect sense of rhythm as displayed in the Spanish dances—and he revealed the beauties of the Bach "Bourree" and the Scarlatti and Chopin groups in a manner consummate. In the first movement of the MacDowell "Tragic Sonata" Mr. Copeland delighted the lovers of the heroic in pianoforte playing.

BOARD OF FOOD ADMINISTRATION

613 Main Street
Waltham, Massachusetts

To the people of Newton:—
To produce and save food and to control its sale and distribution wisely and justly, is now a vital duty of all our people.

The drive for food will demand the fullest possible co-operation of every citizen where he lives.

Hitherto, obedience to the food laws has been assumed, by those in authority, to be a patriotic duty to which our people would willingly respond. This assumption has been justified in a large measure.

The time has now arrived, however, to warn all food slackers who continue to exalt selfishness above patriotism, whether they are dealers or consumers, that drastic penalties await them as provided by the Federal Food Control Act of 1917.

Therefore, local boards of Food Administration are being established rapidly in the cities and towns of Middlesex County to deal with every phase of the food problem on the spot. Active drive for the recommendation of the Public Safety Committee of the City of Newton, Mass., and with the hearty approval of all associations and interests involved, the following board of Food Administration has been established in your community.

Food Administrator, Alfred MacDonald; department of Food Production, Alfred MacDonald; department of Food Conservation, Jeannie B. Kendrick; department of Food Control and Distribution, Alfred W. Fuller; department of Retail Merchants Representatives, H. W. Orr; department of Supervision of Hotels, Clubs, Restaurants and Boarding Houses, Alfred W. Fuller.

I bespeak for your fellow-citizens above named, the support of the loyal people of Newton, Mass., in the Middlesex County Food Administrator, J. HOWELL CROSBY.

MR. ALLEY DEAD

The many friends of Mr. John S. Alley were shocked on Monday to hear of his sudden death, at his home in West Newton from heart trouble. Mr. Alley had been in Boston as usual that day, lunching at the Exchange Club. He went to his home on Chestnut street, West Newton, in the afternoon, and complained of feeling slightly ill and his daughter took him to the doctor's office in the automobile. On the way he suddenly collapsed, and Miss Alley returned immediately to the house, her father passing away while in the machine.

Mr. Alley was 62 years of age, and a native of Lynn. For many years he was engaged in the leather business, at first with his father, who was one of the leading manufacturers of that city, and later becoming one of the firm of Alley Bros. He retired from active business about 15 years ago. He came to West Newton in 1892, and has always taken a deep interest in community affairs. He served as an alderman from ward 3 for four years beginning in 1913, and has been active in the work of the Unitarian church and the Newton Hospital. He was a member of the Brae Burn Club, the Neighborhood Club and the Exchange Club of Boston.

He is survived by a widow, and three daughters, Miss Elizabeth Alley and Mrs. Henry W. Robbins of West Newton, and Mrs. Max C. Sherman of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at his late home on Chestnut street, and were conducted by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the Unitarian Church. The interment was at Lynn.

The bearers were Messrs. Henry B. Day, Frank W. Remick, Clifton H. Dwinell, William A. Young and W. B. H. Dowse, all of West Newton; George S. Smith of Newton Centre, and John Woodbury of Boston.

EDITORIAL

The trustees of the Newton Hospital are fully awake to all the possibilities which lie before them in the way of caring for the soldiers and sailors who become ill while waiting active service, as well as for the shiploads of wounded which are certain to come to our shores. With a present scarcity of hospital accommodations, in and around Boston, it is the part of wisdom to provide NOW for what will certainly be needed within a few months, at the least.

"It is an investment, not a loss, to die for one's country." These words of the late Lieut. Ely, ought to be in the homes of all of our soldiers and sailors, as a comfort and an inspiration alike to their loved ones at home.

On account of a large amount of Liberty Loan advertising, considerable news matter has been crowded out, and will be published next week.

AUBURNDALE STUDY CLUB

The Auburndale Study Club held its April meeting April 23, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albion L. Cummings, Hancock street.

The speaker was Dr. C. C. Carspens, president of the Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. He analyzed the aims of charitable institutions, dividing them into two general groups, and emphasized the importance of investigation on the part of contributors to the maintenance of such institutions in order to ascertain whether the society to receive a donation is doing really ameliorative work or whether it is "tiding a family over into next week's misery." One group offers help of a purely temporary character which promotes negligence, deadens self-pride and respect, and may cause ambition and initiative to die completely.

The other group is moved by a motive to work lasting good in the family needing assistance. Its first effort is to investigate the causes that have led to the condition of helplessness and remove or correct them.

Dr. Carspens ably illustrated his point by citing a case which came to his attention several years ago. A family of eleven had dropped in sad straightness due to the intemperance and idleness of the father. The mother tried in vain to provide food and clothing for the children. Her efforts being futile, she accepted gifts of food and money from churches and some benevolent societies. In time she lost her fighting spirit. Her husband continued to drink heavily and the continual strife against him and her misfortunes deadened her finer sensibilities. She appealed to charitable institutions for help and to a large extent received help in money. When this case came under Dr. Carspens' observation an agent was sent to investigate. The mother was frankly surprised not to get money at the first visit. She did get good advice—such as to call to her mind her own sense of responsibility. In time the father was made to turn about, get work, keep it and stay sober. Today that family commands the self-respect of the community, in which it dwells.

Benevolent people might have helped that family all eleven of them—to there eternal doom.

This case clearly shows the fallacy of being generous with a free hand without knowing for what purpose the generosity is solicited. Far better is it to ascertain where help will be rightly given and give abundantly.

In closing, the doctor touched on the attempts at state organized and operated charities and briefly outlined the very commendable work of the government in war risk insurance showing the tendency of America to provide against possible future wants of the people.

Miss Clara Spence read two selections. Her second reading, James Whitcomb Riley's "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," was read to a piano accompaniment by Miss Isabel Spence, sister to the reader, and left a deep impression.

Mr. Charles E. Boyd, accompanied by Miss I. Spence, played two excellent cornet selections.

Refreshments were served and the evening given over to a social hour.

At the business meeting Mrs. A. E. Binford was unanimously elected to take full charge of the work necessary for the production of a play in June. The cast will consist of club members and bids fair to be exceptionally good.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Annual meetings have been the order of the day this past two weeks and there are still one or two more coming next week. These have brought to a close a year unprecedented in the history of the world. What has it brought to the clubs? Many perplexities, a somewhat diminished attendance, in some cases a lessening of the number of meetings, in others a return to the simple life, but something besides which counts infinitely more than everything else—a desire to be of service and a spirit of self-sacrifice, which has led to the opening of hearts and of pocketbooks in a way never before experienced. The function of clubs in war time has been a problem in many minds this year and their raison d'être has even been questioned by some of the more ardent war workers. "Everything as usual" is a phrase whose meaning is fast disappearing. That is, from now on, impossible. The clubs cannot go on exactly in the same old way. They must adapt their plans to the changing order of the times, but they must not give up entirely the inspirational programs which serve to relieve overwrought minds, and they must help to keep up the spirit of cheer. That is what must be expected of them for the individual member. For the community they must work as never before that existing agencies may not be allowed to flag, and at the same time centre the attention upon the only important question today that of winning the war.

Crombie were tied for answering the greatest number correctly.

The closing meeting for the season brought out the largest attendance of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday at the home of Mrs. C. Peter Clark, where luncheon was enjoyed. Mrs. Elliot Hyde, a former member, was a special guest and Miss Cora S. Cobb, who has been in Washington all winter, was also present. Miss Cobb entertained the club with an account of her winter's work in the Naval Observatory. She returns soon to take a position in the Ordnance department under Major Sanford Thompson. She gave a most interesting description of Washington as it has been this winter and sidelights upon the work of the administration. The seriousness of the international situation, she said, is much more keenly apparent there than anywhere else in the country. Miss Cobb told of the work of tagging, listing and testing of the binoculars which have been loaned to the country, that some have been found absolutely useless having ground lenses or even plain glass ones. She spoke of the crowded condition of the city, of the extreme difficulty of getting accommodations and of the tremendously high prices resulting from the conditions.

At the business meeting these officers were elected for next year: President, Miss Marion Dorr; vice-president, Miss Josephine Ayers; secretary, Miss Anna Thompson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; treasurer, Mrs. W. T. Logan. The club primarily a small study club has contributed to the Y. M. C. A. fund, to the Y. W. C. A., to the Salvation Army, and to the recent drive of the W. C. T. U., as well as to the War Victory Fund of the General Federation.

The annual meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands was held April 29th, at the home of the retiring president, Mrs. C. H. Keeler.

The reports all showed that good work has been done during the year in a quiet way, along the lines that are most important today. The following ballot for officers for the coming year was unanimously elected: President, Mrs. S. A. Thompson; 1st vice president, Mrs. Wm. M. Mick; 2d vice president, Mrs. W. C. Robbins; recording secretary, Mrs. M. S. Wallace; corresponding secretary, Mrs. N. H. Ray; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Bartlett; auditor, Mrs. J. H. Turnbull; directors for one year, Mrs. D. W. Eagles, Mrs. G. W. Barker; directors for two years, Mrs. C. H. Keeler, Mrs. F. S. Fairchild. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. L. H. Marshall presented Mrs. Keeler with flowers in a most gracious manner as a slight appreciation of her untiring services for the past two years.

Last Tuesday the Auburndale Woman's Club held a special meeting in the Congregational Church to listen to three speakers who brought messages of war measures of interest to women.

The first speaker, Mr. Howard Selby, director of the Market Bureau of Springfield, presented the "Four Square Plan" regarding the purchase of food stuffs. His remarks were favorably received and the club voted to authorize the Conservation Committee to prepare a resolution covering the four square plan and put it before the subscription dealers.

The second speaker, Mr. Walter Cannon of Cambridge, made an urgent appeal to the mothers of Auburndale to open their hearts and homes to the sailor boys who are in our midst, far from home and longing for a touch of home life.

The third speaker was Dr. Jane Kelly Sabine, who has just returned from a sixteen months' stay in Switzerland and France.

In Switzerland her task was to care for and house 500 Belgium Refugee children. Dr. Sabine paid a high tribute to the French Swiss, who without a murmur, and with tremendous self-sacrifice cared for all the refugees sent them from every country. As she expressed it, "Switzerland is a 'dumping heap for refugees'."

Dr. Sabine also told of her experience in Dr. Blake's Tubercular Hospital in France, citing many cures of French soldiers returned from the front, also telling many touching stories of French soldiers and their splendid spirit of comradeship. Dr. Sabine displayed and many photographs taken while abroad, in connection with her work.

She also had with her some very wonderful anatomical charts of the human body, raised like our Braille system, so returned blind soldiers could learn massage, thus helping to solve the problem now before the world of what to do with the returned disabled soldier.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Adams has announced that the graduation exercises will be held in the assembly hall, June 15. Each senior will receive four tickets. School will close Friday, June 20. Tuesday Newton swamped Dorchester High by an 11 to 1 score. This afternoon the second of the triangular league games will be played with Cambridge Latin. Cambridge won the first game but Newton has greatly improved since and a victory should be the result.

The seniors have elected the following as ushers at the English Club play: Austin Eaton, Northam Goddard, Warren Brewer, Walcott Forbush, David Hagar, Francis Slayter, Flint Taylor, Clarence Wyatt, and Charles Davenport. Frederick Rantlett is stage manager and director.

The annual school book, The Newtonian, will be ready for distribution on or about June 8. The following Classical High boys will leave for the farm camp at Walpole next Monday: Harrison Fairfield, Richard Loring, John Guppy, Ewing W. Cody, W. Scott, Clifton Giles, and Rex Huntley. It has been hoped to have a contingent leave for Weston at the same time but equipment has not been secured as yet for this camp. Besides the above 8 others have signed up for Walpole, 14 for Weston, and 14 for private places.

At a meeting of the Senior class on Wednesday, it was voted to have the president select the class gift to the school, and to choose a house in which to hold the Senior party.

BOYDEN-BEEBE

Miss Florence Beebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Beebe, of Upper Montclair, N. J., and Quarter master Sergeant Robert Wetherbee Boyden, U.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden of Newtonville, were married last Friday afternoon at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Christian Union Congregational Church, formerly of Central Church, Newtonville. Miss Mildred Beebe was her sister's only attendant and the best man was Mr. Bartlett W. Boyden, Harvard R.O.T.C., brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was gown in white net and wore a veil of lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

About eighty guests attended the ceremony which was followed by a reception. Spring flowers decorated the reception rooms.

Sergeant Boyden sails for France in the near future.

CLAFLIN CLUB

A large audience assembled Friday evening in the Newtonville Methodist Church, when the Claflin Club members presented a patriotic musical program of rare excellence.

It included patriotic songs by the Men's Glee Club, Hawaiian music, both vocal and instrumental, by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corson, and Mr. Johnson of Newton Highlands, and selections by the Claflin Club Kitchen Orchestra, which made a tremendous "hit."

The program was arranged entirely for the purpose of working up enthusiasm to raise money for the Liberty Loan, and it was a most gratifying success.

Mr. George Whitefield Taylor conducted the "drive," and the members succeeded in raising the neat sum of $12,500.

If you will stop and figure out the number of trips your shirts and collars and household linen make to our laundry before you discard them you will understand the popularity of this shop. We send your clothes back in a sweet, clean, crisp condition.

BAND CONCERT

Don't forget the concert by the band of the 301st Field Artillery, Saturday night, May 4, at Bray Hall, Newton Centre. Few people realize what an important part a band plays in active service. During the battle the men are stretcher-bearers, taking up the wounded wherever they may be, principally under a hail of shot and shell. Before the battle begins, the band plays to encourage the men. After the battle is over, when everybody is in a state of exhaustion, the band must play again to cheer and hearten the men.

The band which is to play Saturday night is not only a fine musical organization, but has a fine personnel. Some of the most prominent young musicians of Boston are members of this organization under the direction of Bandmaster Harrison Kellar, a Newton boy. Let everyone attend who can.

Mr. G. H. Papazian is a graduate of an American missionary college in Constantinople. Some 25 years ago he came to this country to take advanced studies at Harvard College to prepare himself for an educational mission in his native land. But political turmoil in the near East prevented him from carrying out his plans. Having decided to make America his home, Mr. Papazian started the first Oriental Rug renovating establishment in Boston as the founder of the American Rug Renovating works. He has now moved to his new headquarters at 5 Arlington street, especially adapted to his business requirements.

Mr. Papazian is an expert on Oriental rugs and his process is considered the best treatment for these rugs. He has originated a unique process of transcoloring, by which white is changed into ivory and browns. No other concern in Boston has the secret of this new process.

JUNK LICENSES AND SALARIES

Aldermen Debate These Subjects at Meeting on Monday Evening

An important and interesting meeting of the aldermen took place Monday night, with only two members absent, Aldermen Early and Blake. In the absence of President Early, vice-President Harriman conducted the business of the evening.

The first business of the evening was the election of an alderman-at-large from ward 6 to take the place of Alderman Morton C. Tuttle, who resigned on account of war work at Washington.

Alderman Clark presented the name of Mr. Hermon Holt, Jr., of Newton Centre, as the nominee selected by the ward 6 Republican committee, but took especial pains to state that Mr. Holt was not his personal choice, although he refrained from making any other nomination. Mr. Holt was then unanimously elected to fill the vacancy.

The board spent nearly an hour in deciding the question of granting a junk license to N. Lipschitz, as recommended by a majority of the license committee, and then refused to grant the license by a vote of 4 to 13, two members of the committee turning against their own recommendation.

The opposition to the license was led by Alderman Carter of Ward 2, who went at length into the so-called gentlemen's agreement of some years ago that only 20 junk licenses were to be granted, and enlarged upon the unjust discrimination whereby ward 2 was the domicile of 17 of the junk men at the present time. Alderman Hangood stated that his views on the matter had been changed on account of the opinion of the city solicitor that a resident from other places could come into Newton and buy junk from the local junkmen, or other persons, and it was unjust to refuse to one of our own citizens a license to take junk, not from house to house, but solely from other junk collectors, and with a strict condition that no junk was to be stored or kept on his own premises. The city solicitor was called into the debate and said that, if persons made a regular business of collecting junk, even when called on by citizens or others, a jury would probably decide that he was engaged in the junk business and needed a license. He thought it would be unsafe for Mr. Lipschitz to do business without a junk license. The license was then refused.

Another interesting feature of the evening was the debate on the matter of granting increases of salary to the city treasurer, street and water commissioners. This order had been passed at the last meeting, but Alderman Whidden had filed a notice of a motion to reconsider, and came to the meeting fully primed to have the matter reopened and thrashed out. He made a long speech on the matter, saying that the board had not been furnished with all the information it should have had on the matter, and stated that he had compiled a list of 22 officials and clerks who deserved an increase in pay, adding about $3000 to the budget. Alderman Angier reminded the board that Finance committee had invited each member to attend any of its meetings, and it was well known that the committee was considering the salary question. They had given a great deal of time and thought to the matter and had presented the result to the board. He opposed reconsideration, but it was carried through and the whole question recommitted to the Finance committee, with instructions to invite the entire board when it considered the matter.

Mr. W. H. Cooley appeared on the matter of extending a sewer in Central street, but didn't know whether or not he wanted to object.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for a driveway at the new Waban fire station; for $675 for garden work in the school department; for $17,000 additional for fuel for the schools; for $500 for Sewer Unclassified account; and for $175 additional for laborers' pensions, all of which were approved. He also recommended $110 for completion of a fence at the Crafts street yard; for $1000 for use of the Newton Company State Guard; for $250 to reinsure the Oak Hill schoolhouse; and recommending authorizing a drain from 620 Walnut street into Bulloughs pond.

Communications were received from the Committee on War Efficiency relative to discouraging public improvements until after the war, and from Governor McCall, designating April 27 as Bird day.

Petitions of A. D. Dowd and S. W. Tucker for auctioneers' licenses, of J. F. Thompson for a wagon license, M. S. Fraser for a truck license, F. L. Crawford for a truck license, the Interstate Hotel Company for a victualler's license on River path, of J. T. Burns to move a small building on Commonwealth avenue and Manet road, and Masten & Wells to discharge fireworks for trial purposes on Needham street, various permits for private garages and apportionment of certain betterment assessments were granted. Other petitions were received from Morris Greenwald for transfer of his junk license, of the Gas Light Company to dig up certain streets, of the Tel. and Edison companies for joint pole on Chestnut street, the Edison Company for attachments on Crafts street, and a relocation on Broadway, for street sprinkling on Islington road, for a sewer in Elliot avenue, for the laying out of Moreland avenue, for sidewalks on Clark street and Farrow road, from Bridget Sullivan to abate a sewer assessment on Keefe avenue, of the Telephone company for attachments on Suffolk road, and of several retired police officers for a higher rate of pension.

On recommendations of committees hearings were assigned on the laying out of Furber lane and Devon street; under the betterment act, for laying a drain off Rowe street; for a sewer in Warwick road, and for establishing a building line on Kent road and certain other streets. Leave to withdraw was granted to a sewer on Otis park; on a junk license for Joseph Hoffman on Barrieau court (although a license was later granted Hoffman on Maguire court); to W. W. Hartford for gasoline on Watertown street and to M. E. Curtin for a public garage on Park street. Licenses were

WEIGH THE BABIES

Campaign To Be Started Here in Near Future

The Children's Bureau at Washington is asking for a nation-wide weighing and measuring test of all children in the country up to the age of five years. The test is a spring inventory of the welfare of the nation's children. About three hundred thousand children under the age of five years die every year in the United States. Authorities agree that at least one-half of these deaths could be prevented if knowledge of modern methods of child care and facilities for following out the direction of skilled specialists were accessible to all children instead of to a few. England and France have realized that work for better children is vital war work; in fact, England has proved the value of her efforts by bringing down her baby death rate to the lowest point in her history. If America can prevent the death of one hundred thousand children during the coming year she will show her ability to get for her children a better chance for life and health, and she will earn the right to call the second year of the war her great children's year. Surely a nation's greatest asset is its children.

Weight and height are a rough index of the health of the growing child. More than two million babies in town and country, rich and poor, well and sickly, will be tipping the scales and measuring up to the yardstick in response to the request from the Children's Bureau. Thousands of communities in the United States will have the opportunity of finding out whether their children are well born and well cared for, thus offering a starting point for bettering conditions which affect children's welfare.

Newton means to shoulder her responsibility in the matter of doing her best for her babies. The work of the weighing and measuring test is in charge of the local committee on Child Conservation. Attractive posters of Uncle Sam in his blue coat leaning over the scales on which stands the sturdy child are already in conspicuous places throughout the city. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts—our ever-helpful messengers—will take fliers from house to house which will tell of the proposed campaign. Serious volunteer workers will then call at the homes where there are small children, and obtain the information which the Children's Bureau asks for. The card which has the questions on it is in duplicate; half of it goes to Washington, the other half which has on the reverse side valuable information as to average weights and measurements for the different ages, remains with the parent. The committee will also keep a record of the babies with their ages, weights and measurements for use in follow-up work. In individual cases or in certain sections of the city where heights and weights are seriously below the average the test will be followed by intensive care. In fact, the test can be of permanent value only as it leads to some permanent development of work for protecting the mothers and the young children of our city.

Our baby clinic stations, which are doing such good work, are to be opened with trained helpers in attendance to care for the babies who cannot be properly weighed and measured at home. May Newton have every baby on her list!

TO TRAIN 500 SOLDIERS

War Department Wishes to Utilize Vocational High School This Summer

One of the most important matters in connection with the war was presented last evening to the city government, and received, as was to be expected, the hearty and unanimous approval of that body.

The War Department of the United States, through its New England representative, Mr. Williston, has requested the city of Newton, through the school department, to house, feed and train in technical courses, two units of 250 men each for periods of approximately eight weeks. This plan proposes the use of the entire vocational school shop equipment and corps of shop instructors for training; the use of the gymnasium for housing, supplemented by the toilet facilities of the Classical High School basement; and the building of a mess hall and kitchen for feeding; the food and service to be furnished by a caterer.

The men to be trained will comprise newly enlisted members of the U.S. army, under the military control of four or five regular army officers. They will have the opportunity of enlisting from Newton as well as from other districts and will be specially selected according to their occupations and previous training.

The War Department will pay the entire cost of the instruction, housing, and feeding on a contract basis of a sum not to exceed $2.00 per day per man, and can be counted on to furnish the first reimbursement within five to eight weeks of the placing of the men, and monthly thereafter. This involves the availability of a fund of probably $20,000 to cover running expenses prior to reimbursement. The government return on the entire plan for 16 weeks for 250 men cannot exceed $66,000.

Captain Dillon, representing the War Education Committee, has officially inspected, in company with Mr. Williston, the buildings, equipment and facilities which it is proposed to use, and has given his unqualified approval of every detail.

The matter was presented by Mr. Everett E. Kent of the school committee, who said that the plan contemplated caring for 250 enlisted men from early in June until the last of September giving two squads of 250 men about eight weeks' intensive technical training. The men were housed in the high school gymnasium but a mess hall would have to be built for the caterer, and there would have to be some new kitchen arrangements and plumbing connections.

Mr. A. M. Lyon, chairman of the committee, thought it a splendid opportunity for some real service and that the school was exceptionally well equipped for the work, and this equipment ought not to be allowed to remain idle when it could be used so advantageously. He did not believe there would be any protest from the residents of the neighborhood.

Headmaster I. O. Palmer of the Technical School said that the U. S. needs 90,000 men trained in mechanical lines. The War Education committee was also considering Worcester and Springfield, but there were few places adequately equipped to do the work. The food of the men would cost from 80 to 90 cents per day.

Mr. W. H. Bixby, acting head of the Vocational School, said that they had been urged to turn over the entire plant to the government.

There was some discussion as to the best method of obtaining the legislation needed to allow the school committee to make such a contract with the government, but it was finally referred to the Mayor and City Solicitor.

At the beginning of the session the new alderman-at-large from ward 6, Mr. Hermon Holt, Jr., was sworn in and took his seat.

SPECIAL AID—RED CROSS

On Tuesday, May 7, there was a well-attended Advisory Board meeting of the Special Aid-Red Cross at the Talbot House, Newtonville, with Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden presiding.

The report of the output of surgical dressings of all kinds for the past month was made by Mrs. W. H. Allen and Mrs. W. G. Starkweather, and showed that the work is progressing with enthusiasm.

Mrs. George F. Malcolm reported an increasing number of knitted articles brought in, with a larger number of socks.

The Girl Scouts give a play on the 17th of May in the hall of the New Church at Newtonville, and they hope for a large attendance. There will be a display of their work.

Twelve soldier lads were entertained in Newtonville last Sunday. They respond gratefully to this attention, and it is felt that the hospitality work is important.

The uniformity and excellence of the work which is done in the sewing department show the advantage of all working together. 250 articles have been made in the sewing rooms during the past month; and these are sent to the Red Cross, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and to the French wounded—though far the greater number go to the Red Cross. More people are needed in this work, however, and the women are urged to give all the time possible.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Two men are dead and one badly injured as the result of an elevator accident at the Stanley Motor Company factory on Hunt street last Friday afternoon.

The elevator, which was only installed last December, was at the fourth story when it dropped to the basement; the cables breaking and the safety devices failing to work. In the elevator at the time were three men, Edward B. Kitching of Roxbury receiving a fractured skull and died immediately, John Lawler of Watertown, having both legs broken and receiving internal injuries from which he died later at the Newton Hospital, while Thomas Harney of Charlesbank road, Newton, is on the dangerous list at the hospital, with injuries to the back.

BRAE BURN CLUB

An important golf event will take place Monday, June 24, when the Professional Golfers' Association, N. E. Chapter, will stage a patriotic 36 hole, best ball amateur-professional tournament on Brae Burn links. It will be for the benefit of the war relief fund of Newton, and an entrance fee of $5 for amateurs, and $3 for professionals will be charged. A meeting will be held shortly at which the final details will be settled.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Henry J. Nichols of Newtonville has been appointed executive chairman of the second War Fund of the American Red Cross, for the city of Newton. The drive will begin on May 20 and will continue through the week including May 27.

Mr. Nichols makes the following statement, which is of interest to all residents of the city of Newton.

"I believe that this drive will be carried on in a way which will please the citizens of all the centers in our city."

The executive committee will comprise James A. Stafford, of the American Multigraph Company, who will act as vice-chairman; William C. Bamberg, of the publicity department of the telephone company, who will act as director of publicity, and all the chairmen of the advisory committees, representing the following centers of Newton's population: Auburndale, Chestnut Hill, Newton Centre, Newton Corner, Newton Highlands, Newton Lower Falls, Newton Upper Falls, Newtonville, and Waban.

"We shall also have the assistance of a chairman of the ladies' committee, and a chairman of the Boy Scouts committee, and they, with a large number of the prominent men of the city, will work among the homes and business houses of the community. Our publicity will be ready for distribution within a very few days, and will excite the interest of all who see the attractive designs and get the heartfelt message which is conveyed."

"We shall open an office in the Newton Club on Walnut street, Newtonville, where a clerk will be ready at all times to attend to the business of the committee. The officers of the club have very kindly given the room for the purpose, and there will be a telephone installed there, which will be known as 'Newton North Sixty-eight Thousand,' that figure being the amount which the Metropolitan Division chairman has apportioned to be raised by the city of Newton. The sum is none too large for us to feel confident of raising—even of exceeding, and we look to the willing and generous co-operation of the citizens of the city to assist us in accomplishing that success."

"So great is the widespread interest of the community in the wonderful accomplishments of the Red Cross in the work of caring for the soldiers in France, as well as providing for the districts, and assisting in laying the foundations for a lasting peace, over the world, that there is no doubt but that the assistance and support of the Red Cross should come from the greatest number of individuals in the community. There is no doubt, also, that many will desire to give large sums, but we would be most pleased if every inhabitant in Newton would be represented in the fund."

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Rudman, head of the Y.M.C.A. war college of Springfield, will be a speaker at the Eliot Church, next Sunday morning, it being Y.M.C.A. Sunday in that church. Mr. Rudman, with the troops at the Mexican border, and has been in France with our American soldiers, so can speak on every phase of Y.M.C.A. war work. The Y.M.C.A. wants men over draft age, who are able to bring things to pass in the Y.M.C.A. war work for the troops in France. If there are any men in Newton who want to render a great service for the troops they should hear Mr. Rudman tell of the things, and talk with him about the opportunities open to the right kind of men in this work.

STOP USING COAL

How Householders Can Relieve the Coal Stringency

The Fuel Administrator, James J. Storrow of Massachusetts, has asked householders to observe these rules: Stop using coal in furnaces on May 1st. A wood fire can be made in the furnace on cold days when temporary heat is needed; and in rooms where special heat is desired, open fires or local heaters can be used.

After May 1, if you have an oil or gas range, do your cooking on it entirely and do not light the coal range. It is wasteful to use an oil or gas range while the coal range is burning. Do not wait as usual until the weather is so hot that you are driven to using oil or gas, but begin to do so now.

If you have storage space, lay in now a supply of green wood for next winter's use, and let it season during the summer. There will be a scarcity of seasoned fire wood next winter. Burning green wood is satisfactory and gives only 65 per cent. of the heat obtained from dry wood.

"The people of New England should realize that there is going to be a shortage of coal as long as the war lasts," said Mr. Storrow. "If we expect to get through next winter without individual suffering and without the closing of many war industries, it will be necessary for everyone to cut down the use of coal."

"Every ton of coal saved now, with but slight if any discomfort to the householder, is another ton added to the huge coal reserve that is the only protection against acute suffering in the closing weeks of next winter."

"There is a great saving in cooking with gas. A ton of coal turned into gas by the gas company has a greater fuel value than a ton and a half burned in the kitchen range. The gas range has the added advantage that the heat may be turned off when not needed."

It is anticipated that the Federal Fuel Administrators of the United States will undertake a similar coal saving campaign when the season there is a little farther advanced.

PLEDGE OF LOYALTY

Prof. E. C. Wilm of Boston University and a resident of Eldredge street, Newton, is the author of the following pledge which has been signed by many German-American college professors in this country.

"At this, the first anniversary month of America's entrance into the world war, and after the ideals and aims of the war have been clarified and matured by a year's earnest discussion and stern practical endeavor, it seems fitting that Americans of German descent should state their convictions and sentiments on the great issues involved in the world conflict. Therefore, we, the undersigned, persons of German birth and members of American college and university faculties, hereby make the following declaration of principles, the support of which we urge upon our German-American fellow-citizens, everywhere:

"We view with abhorrence and condemn without reservation the part which the German Imperial Government had in provoking or permitting the present world conflict; we disavow and disown the doctrine, subversive of international security and future peace, that international covenants may be set aside whenever it is to the interest of any nation to do so; and we condemn, as unbecomingly unworthy of the German nation, the various acts of violence in disregard of such international covenants; finally, we express our firm adherence to the political principles and ends for which the United States has entered the war, the vindication of international right, the self-determination of nations, the dissolution of military and imperialisms, and the substitution thereof of liberal and democratic ideals and principles of government, and we pledge our unalterable loyalty, our material support and our influence until these ends shall have been attained."

The declaration is signed by the following:

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The Newton Woman's Club, at the beginning of the year, voted to have more home talent meetings, thus saving the money for war purposes, and at the annual meeting in April it was voted to send $75.00 to the Y.M.C.A. Red Triangle of Newton, and has by the president, Mrs. A. H. Clifford, been sent.

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The seventeenth annual meeting of this Association will be held Wednesday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock, in Dennison Hall, 835 Washington street, Newtonville.

There will be a short business meeting to hear reports of the officers and executive committee, to elect officers for the ensuing year, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

At the close of the business meeting, an interesting and instructive address will be given by Prof. Lewis J. Johnson, president of the Massachusetts Single Tax League, on the subject, "Needless Obstacles to Village Improvement. How the Single Tax Will Remove Them."

Professor Johnson has an important message. In these times when municipal functions are calling for large and increasing appropriations and contributions, this is a subject demanding intelligent consideration. Light refreshments will be served to encourage sociability. The public is most cordially invited.

The Newtonville Improvement Association invites the co-operation of all in our community to make a more wholesome, more comfortable, a more beautiful Newtonville. The executive committee of the Association is constantly in touch with matters involving the welfare of our people, and on occasion takes active measures to promote that welfare. The Secretary of the Association, Harry D. Cabot, Esq., of 561 Watertown street, Newtonville, will be glad to receive applications for membership.

SAVE THE WASTE

Newton is going to gather its waste for the benefit of the District Nursing Association, beginning today.

The Association has completed all details of the unique campaign decided on some weeks ago, and the work will be started with a rush.

Everybody in the city will be given an opportunity to help the Association secure much-needed funds in a manner that will not call for any sacrifice or much effort. All that is asked of anyone is to search through the house, and rid cellar, attic, and catch-all of cast-off articles and place them in the sanitary bags which will be distributed in all parts of the city.

The District Nursing Association is doing an effective and worthy work in attending to mothers and infants, and nursing the sick in their homes. Members of the Association forces are meeting increased demands, through the result of the war, upon the people who sustain relief societies. They hesitate for this reason to make a distinct plea for certain funds needed now to continue their work; so they decided to try another source of revenue.

Profiting by the thriftiness of certain European countries that refuse to throw any material similar to that which fills American dumping ravines and piles high our ash heaps, the District Nurses hit upon the idea of setting aside a week for intensive conservation. President Wilson's appeal for economy in all possible ways added stimuli to their plans.

Thrift is to be their watchword, and during the campaign they will endeavor to gather every atom of waste material that can be turned into something of value. Cellars, attics, catch-alls that contain accumulations of the shoes, and back yards will be made as immaculate as a tidy housewife's kitchen if the officers of the organization have their way. The money will be used to further an efficient and beneficent work. And, what is just as important, the seeds of frugality will be sown.

The Harrison Co-operative Service, experts in collecting and directing campaigns of this kind, have been engaged. Officers of the Association believe this method of going about the work will make sure a thorough organization of the campaign and its successful conduct.

The details of the plan for collecting the waste are simple. Sanitary bags will be distributed to Newton householders. During the time bags are in the homes, everyone should make a special effort to fill them with old rags, rubber, carpet, rugs, unwearable clothing, copper, brass, lead, worn-out cooking utensils, and other articles which are usually thrown away. The bags will be collected beginning May 6. There is undoubtedly enough material in each home in the city to fill at least one bag, and most homes have more. Collecting these neglected nuggets and turning them into money to be used in saving babies, helping mothers, nursing the sick and needy in their homes, is a very desirable work.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—At the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, "The Man Who Came Back," Jules Eckert Goodman's graphic story of a youth's regeneration, is now in its twentieth week. By having reached this record number of performances, this popular drama has now surpassed the long run achieved by George Arliss in "Disraeli" at the same theatre, and is well on its way towards reaching the phenomenal run of "Under Cover." Added impetus has been given the engagement by the presence in the name part of Arthur Ashley, the well-known movie star, whose screen popularity has followed him in the theatre. Laura Walker has registered heavily in the role of Marcelle, while others in the long cast are William Masson, Margaret St. John, Alice Atwell, St. Clair Hales, Thomas Magrane, Louis Frohoff, Etta Bryan, Sophie Allen, Ethyl Felt, Ivy Kendrick, Laura Thompson, Margie Gilmore and Inez Hall.

EDITORIAL

It is almost an axiom that nothing is ever settled until it is settled right, and that probably explains the persistence with which Mr. Lipschitz seeks a junk license in this city, and believes he is being unjustly treated by the refusal of the city government to grant him that means of livelihood. It was well said, in the debate on this matter, on Monday evening that there was considerable camouflage in the discussion of the case and possibly a brief explanation of existing conditions and how little they would be affected by the granting of the license may be advisable. Mr. Lipschitz has, for some years, been engaged in the business of collecting regularly from licensed junkmen, the staff which they have obtained from their house to house canvass of the city, and then carting this material into Boston. He is doing this now, merely as the agent of the men whom he is serving and receives his compensation either in the way of a commission or in exchange for the material so carried. A junk license would allow him to buy this material directly from the junk men, and when he has carried it to Boston, to sell it to whom he pleases, taking the profit himself. It should be noted that the license, so far as handling, storing and transporting junk is concerned, has absolutely nothing to do with what he is doing at the present time. It will merely allow him to do this business on his own account instead of acting as the agent of others.

It should be noted that in order to do this business properly, Mr. Lipschitz should reside fairly near the men with whom he is doing business, and as most of the junk men live in Norantum, he has made his home in that village.

The hysteria which has been created about the serious nature of adding one more junk man to the licensed force in the city, has carefully overlooked the fact that this man is not engaged in a house to house canvass of the city for junk, and that the necessity of looking after short weights and stolen goods, which are the reasons for licensing junk collectors, does not exist in his case.

There is certainly no need to argue that 20 junk men are sufficient to remove the waste from the houses and stores of this city, but that number ought not to be a bar to granting Mr. Lipschitz the opportunity to do a legitimate business on other terms than that of a regular junk collector.

Notwithstanding the splendid display made by our city government in eliminating from the budget every item of expense which could be put off during the war, we wonder if all the members of the board fully realized the action taken on Monday evening. One of the first matters considered was the postponement of the War Efficiency Committee of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety which urged a general postponement of public improvements, saying in part "postponement generally involves only personal inconvenience, which we feel confident that your citizens will cheerfully bear for the purpose of saving suffering and diminishing the loss of human life in the cause in which the nation is engaged. Generally speaking, public buildings, new parks, new streets and sidewalks will not help to win the war." Then the board unanimously passed an appropriation of $3568 for the construction of Kent road, a street of about 750 feet in length, and which will be a personal convenience to about 6 families.

The city has a splendid opportunity to render the government some real service in the way of training enlisted men along mechanical lines, and there should be no question as to obtaining the legislation needed to authorize the expenditure of money for such purpose.

Mrs. Jones made the presentation speech to which Mrs. Green responded most gratefully.

HARD-WORKING WEEKS

John W. Weeks of Massachusetts in a series of personal letters to some friends, has given them informal assurance that he will be a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate, and at the same time he has taken occasion to express his regret that his duties in Washington have been so confining as to prevent his return to Massachusetts as often as he would like. The senator's modest reference to his work here suggests that from the nature of it, his Massachusetts constituents can know very little of its extent and importance. In fact, there are one to attempt to review the especially useful services the senator has rendered his country during the period of the war, one would be puzzled where to begin or end, and, moreover, would be barred by certain confidences from narrating all that might be said. But it is only fair to the constituents of Senator Weeks for his friends in Washington, who have seen him every day for years and are more or less intimately familiar with the work he has been doing, to tell the outside world something about it.

As a member of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs Senator Weeks has been in a position to make established suggestions with respect to our military and naval forces, and the attitude of Congress and the country toward them, which have proved exceedingly valuable. But it was because of a conspicuous service of eight years in the House of Representatives and of some noteworthy accomplishments shortly after his entrance to the Senate that Mr. Weeks had achieved a standing among his colleagues which lent peculiar emphasis to whatever suggestions he chose to make. In the House, as chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, it was his diplomacy which straightened out the tangled over postal savings bank bill. He framed and had charge of the bill making government reservations of the Appalachian forests and he introduced what is now known as the Weeks-McLean law for the protection of migratory birds. As a member of the Committee on Banking and Currency in the House he was influential in support of the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency bill, and later was made a member of the National Monetary Commission for which that bill provided. This commission did most of the pioneer work in the preparation of what is now the Federal Reserve Act. The framework of the act was devised by the commission, but meantime the Democrats had gained control of Congress and the White House and they preferred a government control of the new banking system to that of the bankers who were best fitted to manage. Meantime, also, Mr. Weeks had been promoted to the Senate, where he secured important amendments to what had become known as the Glass-Steagall bill, and voted for it on the ground that despite defects which he regarded as serious, it would establish a banking system in this country that would be a safeguard against panics, and inflation. His judgment has been amply vindicated, and some of the first successes of the new administration have been the result of the Glass-Steagall bill.

It was, therefore, because the senator had acquired a reputation for sagacious statesmanship that, when the war clouds began to gather and he was made a member of the Committee on Military Affairs, his suggestions regarding legislation and procedure were received with respect. It may not be generally known, or known at all, for example, that the idea of organizing the original Council of National Defense and the Advisory Commission of that body had its origin in his office. Long before the United States entered the war, while a group of prominent gentlemen were conferring with him, he suggested to them the wisdom of beginning early to organize the industries of the country for the purposes of mobilization in the event of war. The idea was taken up instantly, important conferences were held in Philadelphia and at Washington, Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, was interested in the project and in due time laws making provision for a great industrial mobilization were enacted.

The country had not been long in the war when it became evident that a closer organization of governmental activities should be effected and a better understanding be created between Congress and the Chief Executive. At that time and for some months thereafter President Wilson was accustomed, with a wave of the hand, to tell Congress what he wanted and expected it to give it to him practically without discussion. The Secretary of War, on his part, when questioned by Congress and the country as to how things were going, would respond airily that they were going first rate, and let it go at that. In the summer of 1917 Senator Weeks offered an amendment to one of the great bills then going through the Senate, the creation of a congressional committee on the conduct of the war, which should keep in touch with the White House and the executive departments and be able to inform Congress as to how matters were progressing. The Senate at once appreciated the wisdom of the suggestion and adopted the amendment, but the Administration bitterly resented what it mistakenly interpreted as an attempt to interfere with its prerogatives, and under presidential pressure the amendment was rejected by the House.

As the winter session of the sixty-fifth Congress opened, the country had become somewhat distrustful of certain government officials and the work supposed to be going on under their direction. The murmurings grew louder and louder and finally the Senate Committee on Military Affairs boldly constituted itself a Committee on the Conduct of the War and began an investigation of the military establishment, which ran on for months and is not yet complete. The revelations of inefficiency, delay, jealousy and more or less general confusion in the executive departments brought out by this committee are a matter of such recent history that they need not be described here. This investigation was thoroughly non-partisan and, as time has proved, had no other object than to ascertain the truth and tell it to the country in the belief that along with the facts would come reform. Senator Chamberlain offered bills to create a Director of Munitions and a

War Cabinet, which Senator Weeks and a majority of the committee supported. The Administration opposed them both, but upon its own volition, although really as the result of the pressure of public opinion, practically created the office of director of munitions by making Edwin R. Stettin, former purchasing agent for the Allies, Assistant Secretary of War; it organized a "Supreme War Council," consisting chiefly of army officers who had been kicked upstairs out of their departments to compose it, and the President conferred upon the War Industries Board supreme authority as director and arbiter in the purchasing departments of the army and navy.

Mention was made a little way back of the Weeks amendment to a Committee on the Conduct of the War. The Administration almost never accepts suggestions from Congress, and never if they come from Republicans. Nevertheless, the public is now aware that every Saturday morning the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, of which Senator Weeks is a member, meets regularly at the War Department with the Supreme War Council, and is told all the innermost secrets of the conduct and progress of the war. Only today Secretary of War Baker sat with the committee and they discussed the situation with respect to our military and naval forces, and the attitude of Congress and the country toward them, which have proved exceedingly valuable. But it was because of a conspicuous service of eight years in the House of Representatives and of some noteworthy accomplishments shortly after his entrance to the Senate that Mr. Weeks had achieved a standing among his colleagues which lent peculiar emphasis to whatever suggestions he chose to make. In the House, as chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, it was his diplomacy which straightened out the tangled over postal savings bank bill. He framed and had charge of the bill making government reservations of the Appalachian forests and he introduced what is now known as the Weeks-McLean law for the protection of migratory birds. As a member of the Committee on Banking and Currency in the House he was influential in support of the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency bill, and later was made a member of the National Monetary Commission for which that bill provided. This commission did most of the pioneer work in the preparation of what is now the Federal Reserve Act. The framework of the act was devised by the commission, but meantime the Democrats had gained control of Congress and the White House and they preferred a government control of the new banking system to that of the bankers who were best fitted to manage. Meantime, also, Mr. Weeks had been promoted to the Senate, where he secured important amendments to what had become known as the Glass-Steagall bill, and voted for it on the ground that despite defects which he regarded as serious, it would establish a banking system in this country that would be a safeguard against panics, and inflation. His judgment has been amply vindicated, and some of the first successes of the new administration have been the result of the Glass-Steagall bill.

Waban's Honor Roll tablet was dedicated Monday evening with a good gathering of townspeople present, including the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Waban company of the Constabulary.

Introductory remarks by Rev. James C. Sharp of the Church of the Good Shepherd, the singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," by the gathering, the Lord's Prayer, unveiling address by Rev. Charles H. Cutler, D.D., of the Union Church, the singing of "America," and benediction.

Mrs. George Angier removed the colors covering the tablet up to the unveiling of the monument to the children of the seventh and eighth grades of the Roger Wolcott School sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

Two more names are to be added to the roll at once, these being Thomas Riley and DeForest Bush.

The following address at the unveiling of tablet at Waban, May 6, was given by the Rev. Charles H. Cutler, D.D., of the Union Church.

"This tablet is erected and dedicated under the auspices of Co. B, Newton Constabulary. For the initiative and carrying through of the idea we are indebted to our fellow-townsmen, the Hon. George M. Angier, and all will recognize the fitness that the actual unveiling should have been by the hand of the chairman of the Waban War Relief Committee. The boys' name is on this tablet, and is now in France, Mrs. Angier.

In thus dedicating a Roll of Honor to the Waban boys in the service, the thought, I take it, is not that we are honoring them, but that they are honoring us. Indeed, we have reason to feel honored that 29 Waban boys are in the service, for our country's representatives, our defenders. They stand for all that our country counts dear and sacred. They stand between us and a ruthless, relentless, powerful foe of democracy. They are fighting for us—that is just as true as if this great struggle were being fought out on American soil.

When the country is in peril, she trusts her boys, used to be said that the Civil War was fought by boys; but as I saw the Grand Army veterans I hardly believed it, until I read the statistics—that of the volunteers in the Civil War no less than 1,159,789 were not over 21 years of age, while 1,151,000 were not over 18! Yes, the country in trouble trusts her boys (as the Church, or the School, or the Professions, or Business has never trusted them), for the country entrusts to her boys her defense, her honor, her very life. And we older fellows, who have had but a hint of military discipline, can perhaps understand that the intensive, technical training of the modern soldier calls for the nerve and endurance of the boys—to say nothing of the cheerful, gay spirit with which they 'carry on'.

And what are we doing?—what is anything that we can do—to be compared with what our boys at the front and in the service elsewhere, are doing and are ready to do? Liberty bonds—even war relief work, food conservation, denying ourselves a little wealth or meat, business interruption or loss—what, I ask you, are any or all of these when weighed over against what our boys are giving and stand ready to give?

Is there anything, then, that we can do to stand behind them, to sustain them, that we will not willingly do? We pledge ourselves to back them with all our resources, material, moral and spiritual. The overwhelming success of the Third Liberty Loan shows that at least 17,000,000 loyal Americans stand behind the boys at the front. In these boys whom we have sent overseas, and shall send in increasing measure the coming months, we are offering to the cause of the Allies our most precious possession; and as our Great Master said, "Where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also."

Yes—our hearts are with our boys! Our trust is with them! Our prayers go with them! May God bless them, every one—helping every boy to do his duty and the bit more that counts without fear and without reproach. May God take them in His gracious keeping, and when their duty is well done—please God, may they come home to us—every one—fitter and truer men!

Many flying rumors and current reports have been in circulation of late to the effect that Red Cross has no further use for certain knitted garments. At one time word was passed along that no more sweaters were wanted; at another time mufflers and helmets were under the ban and according to the latest version there is no further call for socks. Whether some of this talk is German propaganda or otherwise it is certainly far from the truth. The Newton Auxiliary has seen with regret its once-generous supply of knitted garments decrease from month to month, due, it is believed, to a large extent to the opinion that our boys at the front and in the camps are fully supplied.

Even if this were true, which it is not, everyone knows that woolen garments in war service last but a brief time. There must be a constant renewal of clothing used in the army and navy, and the approaching long days make the summer season an ideal one for preparedness. There can be no doubt that if our country continues to ship men to France at the present rate, a big drive for knitted articles will be on in the early autumn. Now is the time to make ready. The Newton Auxiliary will be very glad at any time to give information on the needs of specified articles, and it is hoped that anyone in doubt of the usefulness of the particular pieces she is knitting or planning to knit will call at the Y. M. C. A. or telephone for information on that point. There is such a large and efficient group of knitters right here in Newton it is a pity there should be any falling off in knitted supplies for soldiers and sailors. Our "Sammies" must keep warm and fit. So womankind must knit, knit, knit.

TOBACCO FUND OVER $200,000

"Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund" has received over $200,000 for sending smokes to our soldiers in France. When it is considered that this sum has been raised principally through small contributions from individuals and that no individual has contributed more than $100 at a time to the fund, it can be appreciated that the interest in this patriotic enterprise is enthusiastic and widespread.

Now that our relatives and friends are being sent across the water, ever-increasing numbers are endeavoring to protect the folks at home from the menace of the Hun, the third hundred thousand dollars will come rolling in far more quickly than did the first and second hundred thousand dollars. It is important for the American public to remember that a carton of tobacco lasts a soldier just a week and that while the fund has sent over 800,000 cartons of unrolling smokes to the front, it is necessary to increase this amount to many millions in order that there will be no tobacco famine among our soldiers abroad.

Here are two letters received from "Somewhere in France."

Private Edwin L. Jarvis, 186th Infantry, in France, wounded in both arms, manages to scribble a note of love and thanks to our boys in France Tobacco Fund.

Yesterday I received a package of tobacco from you and was very glad to get it. At present I am in the hospital without any pay for two months and tobacco was getting pretty scarce. I was wounded in both arms on Saturday, March 9. We were having our first battle in the trenches. The boys were very cool-headed and did some fine work. Well, I will close, hoping you success in your campaign to buy tobacco for the boys in France.

Pvt. L. Jarvis, 186th Inf. in France. Gene S. Robinson, of the 640th Aero Squadron in France, says that the Hindenburg Line will vanish in thin air when the "Sammies" are given the order to start.

I was recently afforded much pleasure by the receipt of a large package of smoking tobacco, contributed through the kindness of "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund." I wish to thank you for this messenger of cheer and encouragement. The hundreds of our boys whom I have known to be recipients of this gift, are unanimous in their expression of the prompt and contributors in this movement, and I assure you that every person who sends such a gift to a soldier in France is "doing his bit" in the fight for the overthrow of autocracy. I feel as thousands of other American soldiers in France, that we are here in a righteous cause, one that the Allies are sure to win. A fact which has impressed me deeply is the increased confidence in victory one finds as he gets nearer the actual battle lines. The sending of American troops to France has brought her confidence, and I am proud to be a member of Uncle Sam's fighting men. America's best blood is here and will continue to come, to save France. The spirit of the people back home is most satisfactory, and the Hindenburg line will vanish in thin air when the "Sammies" are given the order to start. Thanking you in behalf of the boys in France for this interest in us, I am Gene S. Robinson, 640th Aero Squadron, A.E.F., France.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Those who have been in town this past week have doubtless noticed a new assemblage of cottages on the Common and very likely speculated as to their meaning. On the main walk of the Common, which runs from West street directly to Park square, have arisen five more artistic portable houses to be known as the Conservation Cottages. These represent one of the best pieces of co-operation that has been brought about since the beginning of the war. The idea is the outgrowth of suggestions from several sources for bringing together in a convenient spot, easy of access for all the people, the various kinds of conservation work of the different organizations, which have hitherto been scattered over the city. The Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense together with the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee have taken the lead in bringing it about. The organizations co-operating with the above are the Food Facts Bureau, the Boston Public Safety Committee, through its Child Welfare committee, the National Civic Federation and the Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross. Thus it would seem that the Common is, as it were, reverting to its old object, "a training field," though it happens not to be for militia but for an equally important matter, training the people to do their part in defending the nation against the enemy, by showing how food may win the war, how children may be made safe and healthy for the up-building of the nation, and how the Red Cross does its remedial and curative work.

Here also will be demonstration gardens to show what it is possible to do with back yards and vacant lots, and there will be a potato patch to be cultivated by the Girl Scouts, while a model henyard will be conducted by the Massachusetts Agricultural College. All these things will be done in eminently practical ways, with little expense for materials, but they may be the real object lessons to those having little capital with which to begin.

Next time you are in town, look them over.

Newton Federation

Friday, May 17, 10.30. Postponed annual meeting of the Newton Federation. Central Congregational church, Newtonville. Reports and election of officers at the morning session. Luncheon at 12.30. Tickets must be secured before May 14. After-luncheon exercises about the tables.

Afternoon session at 2.30, when the Abundant Woman's Club chorus will sing, and reports of the biennial of the General Federation will be given by the delegates. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, president of the State Federation, will be the guest of honor and make an address. Everybody come.

Patriotic Fete

Have you bought your tag for the annual Community Fete? If not, do so at the first opportunity. These tags, which take the place of tickets, will admit to the Claffin Field on Saturday afternoon, June 1. Reserved seats can be secured at the entrance. The school children will have a prominent part in the program of this Patriotic Fete as they did last year. Then there will be the ponies which the children enjoyed so much last year, and ice cream cones, and all the other things which make a good time. Under the direction of Ernest Hermon, of the Vocational School, the children of Newton Centre will give a patriotic march, those from Chestnut Hill a minuet, and from Thompsonville two Italian folk dances, a Tarantella and a vineyard dance. Then there will be patriotic songs by the Stearns School, and others by the West Newton Music School pupils combined with the glee club of the Vocational school. Watch this column for mention of other features. Remember the date, June 1. If stormy, June 4.

made for the sale. There will be a social tea and a unique and charming entertainment. Every member is urged to be there.

Encouraged by the success of the recent rummage sale the Home Circle will hold in Society Hall, Taylor's block, Abundant, on Friday, May 24, a sale, offering their usual excellent home-cooked foods and other attractions which will be announced later.

The members are justly proud to have planned so much for the recent sale at this time when homes have been so thoroughly ransacked for other needs. The money thus gained was divided between the Welfare Bureau, the West Newton and Abundant Red Cross units and a hundred dollar Liberty Bond.

The attention of the public is called to this month of May, when Newton Upper Falls will be canvassed in a most systematic manner in the interests of the Baby Conservation work, as requested by the government. Through the co-operation of the ministers and Father Donovan, Mr. Hodge and the school teachers, the way will be paved for the members of the Pierian Club to be welcomed in the homes, where there are children five years old and less, to make a list of such. May 21, 22, 23 and 25 are the days set, when the little ones will be weighed here in Newton at the Twombly Dispensary and a record made, thus meeting the demands of the government.

Home Service Work of the Red Cross, of which Mrs. William H. Lothrop of Newtonville is director for New England, is the assistance rendered by the Red Cross to the families or dependents of soldiers now training or already gone to the front. Here in Newton this will be administered through the agency of the Welfare Bureau, the Public Safety committee and the Red Cross co-operating in supplying the funds.

Local Happenings

Mrs. G. S. Cook, Jr., retiring president of the Newton Mothers' Club entertained the members at luncheon at her home on Valentine street, on Monday of this week. The business of the annual meeting followed the luncheon. The club has taken care of all its regular activities besides doing more or less war work, contributing to many of the numerous appeals of the year, and been actively interested, through the efforts of the president, in the Child Welfare work, which is so prominent a feature of the year.

The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Edward Ray Spence; vice-president, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell; secretary, Mrs. William G. Snow; treasurer, Mrs. Gardner I. Jones.

Unlooked-for success attended the repetition of the original play, "You, Penelope," by the Newton Highlands Monday Club on Monday evening of this week. The play, which was written by Mrs. S. Arthur Thompson, was given several weeks ago very successfully. The proceeds of Monday evening's performance, amounting to over $60, will be divided between war work and the W.C.T.U. drive now going on.

The Christian Era Study Club of Abundant met for its annual meeting Monday afternoon, May 6, at the home of its president, Miss Ella B. Smith, 105 Hancock street. The following members were elected to office for the ensuing year:

President, Miss Ella B. Smith; vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Drew; secretary, Mrs. John F. Dunton; treasurer, Miss Susie Johnson.

Members of Newton Federation committees: Social, Miss Marion Shepard; social service, Mrs. N. W. Dennett; educational, Mrs. N. L. Grant; nominating, Miss Elizabeth Wells; clerical delegate, Mrs. Walter S. Clarke.

After the business and usual reports the program for the coming year was presented, and parts assigned to the various members by the president, according to the custom of the club. Studies from the sixteenth century in England, France and the Netherlands will occupy the attention of the club during the entire season.

A social hour followed, when very delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Several new members were welcomed. The club will meet again next October, the 7th, at the home of Mrs. Dennett of Windermere road.

THE POPS

It has been many years since the season of Pop concerts opened so brilliantly as the present one. The opening concert on Monday night found Symphony Hall crowded with an unusually sympathetic and enthusiastic audience. Agide Jachia, the great Italian conductor, recently re-established himself in the hearts of the patrons of the Pops, and it is the general feeling that he is by all odds the best man for the place that the Pops have ever had. The second week of the Pops which opens next Monday evening, May 13, will bring a number of new pieces which will be welcomed by those who hear them, and the same kind of admirable programs which characterized Mr. Jachia's first week.

The following girls have been awarded N's in basketball: Ruth Furlong, Elinor Lyon, Katherine Daniels, Mildred Lovejoy, Elinor Bishop, Katherine Holmes, Lallah Curry.

Monday morning all those who are to take college board examinations were met in the lecture hall by Mr. Adams, who spoke briefly about the requirements, and gave advice as to the preparation.

On Monday the second team defeated Concord High second team by a 4 to 3 score. Hayes starred for Newton, making three runs. Cowin and Andrews were Newton's battery. On Friday Newton staged a great comeback by beating Cambridge Latin 4 to 0. Garrity got a triple with two on scoring later himself. Tuesday, Newton won easily from Huntington, 5 to 1. This afternoon Lynn Classical will be played and on Tuesday the Allen School.

About 1400 four-tailed, non-sterile bandages are being made every week by the Junior Red Cross. Recently about 4000 surgical dressings bags were made. The boys ripped and ironed them and the girls did the sewing.

CONCERT AT BRAY HALL

The concert held last Saturday at Bray Hall was a decided success from every viewpoint, socially and financially, there being about 450 present from all parts of the city. It was given by and for the benefit of the 301st division Field Artillery Band of Camp Devens, and was led by one of our Newton boys, Sergt. Harrison Keller, as bandmaster. Many people consider the band to be a non-combatant force, but this is not true. It is the band that plays the troops into battle, it is the band that plays when the battle is over to keep up the spirits of the men. Far from being out of the fight, the band men are in the thickest of it, for they are the ones who act as stretcher-bearers. This band were not only good musicians, every one of them being a picked player, but they were fine personally, and the committee in charge were much gratified to be able to make about $500 to help them in their service. After the concert, dancing was enjoyed. The committee in charge was Mr. James G. White, Mrs. James White, and Mrs. Allan Hubbard.

MR. COTTON DEAD

Charles H. Cotton of 77 Bigelow street, Brighton, died suddenly Tuesday, following an operation at Copley Hospital, Cambridge. He was born in Center Harbor, N. H., October 25, 1849. At the age of 23 he came to Boston and engaged in the provision business. He was first located in the old Quincy market. Afterwards he started in business for himself at 9 Central market, 50 North street, Boston. His business career extended over a period of forty years. He retired from active business four years ago. He has been actively engaged in church work for a great many years. At one time he was deacon of the Warren Avenue Baptist Church in Boston, and at the time of his death was deacon of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton. He is survived by a widow and six sons. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 P.M. at Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, Mass. Prayers at late residence at 1:30 P.M.

PUPILS OF WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL BUY LIBERTY BONDS

Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, director of the West Newton Music School, was visited on Tuesday evening by a delegation from the vocal department of the school and was presented, in behalf of the school, with a $50 Liberty Bond, and two War Savings stamps, bought from proceeds of entertainments organized by the pupils themselves, with the aid of efficient and enthusiastic head of the department, Miss M. Edith Blake. The delegation was headed by Miss Blake, and included Alice Foley, Esther Johnson, Marie Fleming, Pauline Kimball, Alice Lyons, Griffith Houston, Ruth Paul, Dorothy Greeley, Alvah Wheeler, and Robert Carter. The latter two are boy sopranos, pupils of the school, who have positions in the choir of St. Stephen's Church, Boston. After a spirited singing of the fine Liberty Loan song, "Come Across," the words of which—"Come, buy up the Liberty Loan, friends," they altered for the occasion to "We've bought of the Liberty Loan, friends," and gave Miss Fyfe the first hint of what was coming. Alvah Wheeler made the presentation, with a graceful little speech. Miss Fyfe, in accepting for the school, expressed her appreciation of the fine spirit of patriotism as well as loyalty to the school shown by the efforts of the department. She said that the bond would be kept as a nest-egg for scholarships for pupils of the vocal department, which is doing such fine work. The choruses as well as individual singers have been in great demand at entertainments for war relief work this season. There are several individual voices that are more than promising, which cannot be developed without adequate and continuous funds in the way of scholarships. Some partial scholarships have been donated from time to time, but have often not held over from one year to the next, so that the pupil could not benefit continuously. It is hoped that the work done by this department this year will bring help of this sort for the pupils who require it.

The orchestral group work has been badly handicapped by reason of the necessity for the school to curtail expenses by dismissing the salaried worker whose special business it has been to prepare small groups of pupils in the violin department for the larger groups which Miss Fyfe is gradually developing toward a real orchestra. The work of this department has been shown in many entertainments for war relief this season; notably at the entertainment for the benefit of Navy Wool Funds, given at Players Hall in November, and at the three performances of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" by the Lend-a-Hand Club in February, when 25 of the orchestral class gave the music between the acts, which was much enjoyed.

It is believed, from the many expressions of interest and approval in the demonstrations already given, show the value of this orchestral work and give an idea of what the results of a steady development might be. With the curtailment of its usual resources by the decision not to give entertainments for its own benefit during the war, and by the reasonable reduction of some of the large subscriptions, the school has had to meet only the actual teaching of pupils already entered, or those who fill vacancies occurring. All other activities, such as the orchestral work of the small and large groups, must come from the generosity of the already overburdened teaching force, and cannot be adequate to the proper development of this promising orchestral material. Miss Fyfe has managed, by combining the members of the senior group with her own pupils, to keep this group together through the winter. They have met nearly every Saturday evening at some one of the houses so generously opened to them. It is urgently hoped that another season there may be a definite fund for this work. The orchestra needs music stands, a place for the evening meetings. The smaller orchestral classes need provision for weekly instructors.

MR. MAYNARD DEAD

Mr. Gilbert Maynard, formerly a well-known citizen of Newton, died in Corning, Calif., on April 25. He is survived by a widow, Clara (Cushman) Maynard, and four sons, George S., Walter G., Ralph S., and Albert C., and two daughters, Mrs. Christine Deloy, and Mrs. Gertrude Wheeler, and one brother, Charles J. Maynard, of this city.

Mr. Maynard was born in West Newton in 1843, and resided for many years on the Maynard homestead on Cross street, but some time ago moved to California, where he purchased a fruit ranch. When here, both Mr. and Mrs. Maynard were prominent members of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church.

GOOD WORK!—KEEP IT UP!

That District Attorney Nathan A. Tuttle intends to stop reckless driving of automobiles so far as may lie within his power, was evidenced during the recent term of the Superior Criminal Court at Cambridge, when Samuel Penny was tried for reckless driving. After being found guilty, he was sentenced to serve a year in the House of Correction. The offense took place in Cambridge, where a young girl was struck by an automobile driven by Penny. In the lower court a fine of $100 was imposed, and the case came to the Superior Court on appeal.

*SPECIAL AD*

The Newton Branch of the Special Aid Society had an opportunity the past week to again give its own particular kind of "special aid." This time it was in the form of aprons, to be used in the rooms of the Red Cross Surgical Dressings. The material for the aprons was given by a general Boston merchant, and in twenty-four hours after the material was received at Special Aid workrooms the same number of full-length, snowy-white Red Cross aprons were finished and ready for use!

The new Lighting Fixtures in Italian, Rusty Iron and Polychrome and Colonial styles as shown by Messrs. Franklin & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are really works of art.

ANNUAL MEETING

The hall of the Y.M.C.A. was completely filled Monday evening, when President C. D. Kepner called the 41st annual meeting of the Newton Association to order. President Kepner spoke of the great growth of the Young Men's Christian Association during the past year, and also of the great opportunities before the organization. He asked the question, "Are we able to measure up to our task?"

The report of the Nominating Committee was presented by the chairman, Mr. C. V. Moore, and five directors were elected to serve three years as follows: Mr. L. D. Towle, Mr. George S. Smith, Mr. A. W. Fuller, Mr. S. T. Emery, and Mr. J. Wm. Blaisdell.

Mr. Allan C. Emery spoke of the service which Mr. D. Fletcher Barber, one of the retiring directors, has rendered to the Association since its organization. Mr. Barber's friends regret that he feels obliged to retire from the board of directors which he has served so faithfully for so many years. It was voted to send him a letter of appreciation.

The annual report was then given by H. W. Bascom, who has been General Secretary of the Newton Association for 15 years. He emphasized especially the foreign work of the Association, read extracts from letters of members, and spoke of several local needs which he hoped would be supplied.

Mr. Franklin W. Gause then read letters from C. D. Kepner, Jr., from France, E. T. Colton from Russia, and J. W. Geldart from China.

The speakers of the evening were Rev. H. H. Crane, the new pastor of the Methodist Church, and Mr. George B. Glidden, who had just returned from an important mission in France. Both talks were most interesting.

"The Crimson Coconut" was the title of a one-act play given by a group of amateurs, who have organized to take a repertoire of good plays to the men at Ayer, Portsmouth, Newport and New London, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A.

Next week the new board of directors meets for organization and election of officers for the year.

PIANO PUPILS' RECITAL

Those taking part in the recital were: Alice and Paul James, Ruth Holbrook, Campbell Delesdernier, Elsa G. Haase, Patty Wright, Sally Wright, Donald Frail, Thelma Coombs, Barbara and Eleanor Tracy, Ethel Frail, Ethel Saunders, Jennette Martin.

Modern Warfare

At the end of his Liberty Loan speech in Boston, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Unless we believe wholeheartedly and absolutely in Americanism this is not a nation at all. But we cannot keep it a nation unless we prepare for the tasks of peace and the tasks of war. If we don't prepare to defend ourselves against foes from without we shall be dominated over and dismembered as China is now dominated over and dismembered by other nations."

granted to J. J. McCarthy for gasoline on Old Colony road; to Eleuterio Garmani for a taxi cab, and to Battista and Finelli as common victuallers on Adams street. Kent road was laid out under the betterment act at a cost of $3856; the Edison Company granted a pole on Elm street; $9987 appropriated as the city's share of cost of alterations on Boylston street bridge; the city treasurer was authorized to receive $337.50 from the Food Conservation committee on account of school gardens; and $250 was ordered paid to Harry A. Webber in settlement of land damages.

An order for $750 for heating the Newton Highlands branch library was referred to the Finance committee.

The Finance committee reported that on account of the opinion of the city solicitor, it would be inexpedient to grant $200 to the Newton Hospital for new buildings.

The board adjourned at 10.40.

NEWTON IN THE RED CROSS PARADE

The Newton Branch of the Red Cross is going to take part as a unit in the Boston Red Cross parade May 18.

This was decided unanimously by the Newton Parade Committee at its meeting Wednesday evening at Talbot House. This means that Newton's section of the parade will be a demonstration of the Red Cross activities of the city of Newton as a whole and not a conglomerate of detached groups of what Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the other villages are doing. Newton stands at the head of all the branches under the Metropolitan Chapter, and its showing in the parade will be an attempt to let the outside world know why.

The surgical dressings makers, the sewers, the knitters, the Junior Red Cross, the Girl Scouts and other divisions and auxiliaries will be massed by themselves, and the idea suggested by Mr. Jewell, and adopted by the committee, for the feature to head the line is going to make Newton's section of the parade one that will grip and hold the attention of the spectators from its beginning to its end.

Another thing the committee unanimously decided was that in Newton's part of the parade there shall be no feature nor involving any considerable expense. The committee felt that the Newton branch of the Red Cross is organized for war work, that it has made its record by the work it has done, and that it means to continue to make its record by war work.

The feature that will reflect the greatest credit on Newton will be good-sized delegations of its workers and members taking part in the parade.

Mr. Jewell, Mr. Chase, and Mr. Mellett, with Mr. Horton Allen, ex-officio, were made an executive committee to have direct charge of the parade and the arrangements for it. Mrs. Nichols was made a committee of one to confer with the directors of sewing. Mrs. Lyons a committee for the knitters, and Mr. Jewell, Mrs. Lovell and Mrs. Conway a committee for the surgical dressings makers.

Mr. Horton Allen, who is the chairman of the Parade Committee, is spending the greater part of his time visiting the different workrooms and telling the workers about the parade and the part they are expected to take in it, holding conferences with others in regard to the parade, and settling and straightening out the hundred and one details that continually arise in regard to it.

The members of the Parade Committee are: Mr. Charles E. Kelsey, Mr. Marcus Howard, Mr. George Royal Puffer, Mrs. Verrietta B. West, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, Mrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Miss Helen Kimball, Miss Edith R. Fisher, Miss Dorothy F. Clark, and from Newton, Mr. Theodore E. Jewell, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Miss E. Elizabeth Angier; from Newtonville, Mr. John Cutler; from West Newton, Mrs. Albert M. Lyons; from Chase, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell; from Auburndale, Miss Helen Balch, Mrs. C. J. Surbeck; from Newton Highlands, Mr. Albert H. Mellen, Mrs. L. H. Marshall; from Newton Centre, Mr. Albert H. McAuslan, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mrs. Thomas M. Holden; from Waban, Mr. Herbert R. Lane, Mrs. E. E. Conway; from Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. J. Willard Clancy.

MANY MORE NEEDED TO SEW

The women of Newton are asked not to think there will be any pause in the Red Cross war work and activities because of the parade or the campaign for a national war fund of $100,000,000. The surgical dressings makers are busy with one of the largest orders ever given them, and the sewing division is called upon as it has not been called upon before for more and more hospital supplies.

Every time you take up a paper and read of an American being wounded on the battlefield you are reading of one more of our own men for whom hospital supplies must be ready if he is to have the comfort and the chance for recovery he ought to have. Now that so many of the sewing societies connected with the churches have completed their sessions for the season the members of them are particularly invited to help in the making of hospital garments for our wounded.

And because every member of every one of the church sewing societies probably will not read this, those who do are asked to pass along the word that there can not be too many volunteers to do war sewing. Sewing is carried on in all the village war work rooms every morning and afternoon except Saturday and Sunday, and at any one of them volunteers will be welcome.

Finest New Year Celebration.

The finest New Year celebration in the world is in Japan and China, where before the clock strikes New Year's eve, every debt and account must be paid. No good Chinaman or Jap ever thinks of entering the new year with an unpaid bill. Would that we might emulate that form of celebration—Ladies' Home Journal.

COST OF PROVISIONS

Cash and Carry vs. Charge and Deliver

The writer of this article contends that an efficient delivery system and a proper weekly charge account to worthy people is a less expensive method of handling provisions than a cash and carry plan.

Every householder in the country is interested in the provision business to the extent of his or her daily or weekly purchase. In view of our country's great wish to eliminate waste and to use our full force in a constructive way, we, as good citizens, wish to dispense with all unnecessary expense, thereby saving your time and money and other people's time and money for more constructive work and, in every way possible, help the government.

There is spreading over the country a false conviction in regard to this particular business, and this false conviction is being commented on in the minds of the people, by the press, by men in public places and by the dealers. Because these particular dealers have not solved the problem is no proof it cannot be solved. General belief in any particular error does not make it right.

With the result of years of thought and an open mind for new methods, I believe I have solved the problems, how best to eliminate waste in this particular business.

In the first place, a proper charge account, which I hold should not extend over one week, what a convenience to the people not to have their provision bill "financial in the kitchen," as an alert minded customer a few days ago, so aptly phrased it. A weekly account is a protection against bad bills. It is limited, at least. If it runs for more than four weeks it is no longer a weekly account.

In my experience with the people of Newton I have not lost one account, not one dollar to be charged off as unpaid bills, not one slip. It is the dealer's fault when his customers run up the large bills they cannot pay; it is not the system but the abuse of the system. There should be practically no added charges to offset losses of bad bills if the dealer shows the proper judgment in allowing this privilege, and it is a privilege and a convenience in a residential district like this, where a person's ability to pay bills, and pay them promptly, can be easily ascertained.

The cost of delivery. True, it costs money to send goods to people's houses, but I hold the cost is more than offset in many ways. When your order comes over the telephone it comes in the least expensive way. You will order, in a minute or a minute and a half, goods that, if you came to the store, would require many minutes of your time and my time. You do not take a man from the floor to take your order; he is left at his work from the time he comes to the store until he starts to wait on you.

Putting up orders. My men are busy every minute of the day, either putting up orders or waiting on trade. In a cash and carry system it would require much additional help for the same amount of business, for most people come to the store through a few hours of the day. It would require more floor space to handle the people and that costs money. It would require more time to send a dollar's worth of goods and much waste-time when people are not there to be waited on. It would require three additional men in a cash and carry store to do the same amount of business I am doing with five. My total delivery expense, covering insurance against accident and fire, depreciation, etc., costs less than it would to keep two men on the floor. What difference does it make whether I pay out your money for gasoline or delivery cost, or pay it for help here on the floor?

Some time ago I was interviewed by a party of two who came to Newton to talk to the people and did talk to the people of a plan whereby the customers should pay an additional charge for the delivery of goods. I think the sum was to be 10 cents for each order. I listened to their story and then presented him with a number of facts and figures that surprised him much, and he said in my office: "I believe I have nothing for you; yours, as you conduct it, is the better system." Why should we charge 10 cents for delivery when order to your house when, as a matter of fact, it can be made and is made in the least expensive way. It would be unfair and an overcharge. It is not the system that is wrong, but the improper handling of the system. Have your order ready and give it, complete, over the telephone at one call. Keep your own record of the order so you will not be obliged to call again and ask about the same. Order early, and give your dealer a chance to put it up carefully, before the time of delivery.

When convenient, place your Saturday order the day before, in the later afternoon and thereby take part of the load off the Saturday business. In that way you get an early Saturday delivery of goods carefully handled. All these things are in your interest, enabling your dealer to give you a low cost provision store near your homes with all the conveniences to which you are entitled and to which you have become accustomed.

COPLEY THEATRE—Multitudes have seen "Charley's Aunt," and these same multitudes want to see it again, as well as other multitudes who have heard all about its hilarious scenes and its genuine comic characters. Its record at the Copley Theatre during the past two weeks has been one of crowded houses, and its third week will begin on Monday in answer to the imperative popular demand. Never has "Charley's Aunt" been more gladly welcomed than at the Copley. No small share of its success is due to the acting of the Henry Jewett Players.

After the run of "Charley's Aunt" is ended will be given several plays that are novelties to Bostonians. Among them are "Arms and the Girl" and "The Man Who Went," the latter a companion play to "The Man Who Stayed at Home."

MISS HALL DEAD

Miss Mabel "Brownbridge" Hall, formerly of Newton, died of pneumonia at her home on Peterborough street, Boston, on Monday of this week after an illness of about two weeks. She was born in Newton, the daughter of George W. Hall, and lived for a great part of her life at 60 Elmwood street. She graduated from the Newton High School, and later entered Radcliffe College, but her health failing she was forced to give up a few months before completing her course. A few years afterwards she assumed charge for a short time of the private school, which had for many years been conducted by Miss Elizabeth Spear. Opportunity came after this to go abroad for study, which resulted in her remaining there for several years, during which time she taught in Göttingen and then at the University of Greifswald, France, where she was lecturer of English.

Upon returning to this country she taught in Miss Chamberlain's school in Boston for some time, and lately has had a position in the Evans Memorial Medical Library, and also in the Boston University Medical Library, where she did research work for the physicians, a position for which on account of her wide knowledge of languages she was eminently fitted.

While living in Newton she was closely identified with Channing Church and its activities. During the last few years since living in Boston she has been a regular attendant at the Second Church in Brookline, where the funeral service was held yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Thomas Van Ness officiating.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Stetson, who lives in Hammett, Calif., and a brother, Louis A. Hall, formerly of Newton, but now residing in Medford, Mass.

ANNUAL MEETING

Newtonville Improvement Association Hears Address by Professor Johnson

The Newtonville Improvement Association held its annual meeting in Denison Hall on Wednesday evening, May 15, 1918, with President Ernest L. Miller in the chair. He told of the activities of the Association for the year which included appearance before the Constitutional Convention Committee in the endeavor to secure some legislation regulating the use of billboards, consideration of a possible widening of Walnut street or at least the establishment of a building line thereon, co-operation with the Board of Trade in connection with the question of increased fares on the Street Railway, action in regard to building operations on the corner of Crafts and Watertown streets, the question of junk licenses in the ward, the collection of ashes and the prompt removal of ash barrels, and in general keeping a watchful eye out for the interests of the village.

There are about two hundred members of the Association and the Executive Committee is always ready as an organization to take up matters affecting the welfare of our people and co-operating with other bodies in the city.

The Association voted to allow the Red Cross exclusive use of the bulletin boards of the Association in Newtonville Square during the week of the effort to raise $100,000,000 for the uses of the Red Cross. Harry D. Cabot, secretary of the Association, made an appeal to the members present to do their best in helping the work of the Red Cross and contributing of their means in the furtherance of this most important and pressing need.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, John Daboli; vice-presidents, Albert M. Lyon, Rev. Richard T. Loring, Edwin S. Woodbury; secretary and treasurer, Harry D. Cabot; directors, Horton S. Allen, Charles F. Avery, Percy M. Blake, Charles D. Cabot, William N. Dudley, Robert Douglas, Calvert Cray, George A. Edmunds, Edward P. Hendrick, George B. H. Macomber, E. L. Miller, Henry J. Nichols, J. Everett Hicks, H. W. Orr, Frederick C. Perry, John R. Prescott, William Price, W. I. Lamson, Lincoln Righter, Joseph B. Robson, Alfred M. Russell, James G. Stafford, Charles L. Wilkins, William G. Starkweather.

APRIL'S SEWING RECORD

"Who's sewing for soldiers?" In Newton a number of most patriotic women who realize the work they are doing is for the benefit of our men who are fighting our war for our safety and are fighting it three thousand miles away from home and home comforts. The women who are sewing are working hard and keeping everlastingly at it, but a lot more work could be done if only there were more women at work at it.

"Who'll sew for soldiers?" Will you be one to give a morning, or an afternoon, or a whole day to it each week? There are a great many soldiers going across to Europe, and the news in the papers show a good many of them are being wounded and sent to hospitals. No American soldier ought to be told at any hospital that he'll have to go without hospital comforts because unfortunately the hospital has not enough of them. It is up to the women of Newton to do what they can to make such a condition impossible.

In April there were turned out in the war workrooms of the Newton branch of the Red Cross and Affiliated Societies, over 6000 pieces of sewing. Of these 362, were pajamas and 240 were surgical shirts. There were also made 14, cottle shirts, the very name of which carries with it an idea of the discomforts the men at the front have to fight and which the women who saw are trying to make more bearable. Of layettes there were 35, which is a very good record when one thinks of the articles that are included in each layette. In knitting the record 3423 articles, of which 1426 were socks and 510 were sweaters. There were 218 helmets, 242 muffs, 78 mittens and 202 wristers. Of non-sterile surgical dressings 8559 were made, and of miscellaneous articles there were 5318, of which 3178 were gun wipes. The number of surgical dressings made can not be given, as the work is being done for the government, and the governments forbids a giving out of the figures.

All the workers are doing good, hard work, and doing it persistently and enthusiastically, but there is a need, a great need, of more volunteers in the sewing rooms.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Last Friday evening the Waban Neighborhood Club was crowded with an enthusiastic audience the attraction being the two-act play "The Boy Scout Hero."

Dudley Rhodes played the title role and the boys had the support of Mr. George Roberts as Red Mike and James Chandler as Raze. An orchestra of fifteen pieces furnished music. The scouts who won medals were Henry Ambrose, Collamore Burnett, Eric Lamb, Paul Brown, Arthur Wiley, Homer Tilton, Winthrop Rhodes, and Dudley Rhodes. Mr. Irwin announced that the Waban troop had sold 181 bonds of the third issue for a total of $34,000 the winners of medals in this campaign were announced and medals will be presented next fall.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Elaborate Plans Are Made For a Thoro Canvass of the Entire City by an Energetic Committee

For the first time in any of the war fund campaigns, there will be a distribution of attractive posters to all homes and business places in Newton, the local committee having procured the design and plan exclusively for the people of Newton. There will be two parts to the poster, which will also serve the purpose of recording the contribution of each home. There will be a large distinctive Red Cross on a field of blue, with the inquiry, "Have you given?" beneath it. That part of the poster will be delivered to all buildings in Newton during Friday and Saturday by the Boy Scouts, the committee requesting that all posters shall be hung in the front window of the home or place of business. When the collector calls for the contribution to the fund he will deliver, on receiving a contribution or pledge, a strip of blue with the words, "We Have," which is to be attached to the poster, and so the statement in the window will then be, "Have you given? We have."

On Thursday evening a rally of all workers in this campaign was held at the Newton Club, over 500 men gathering for the event, receiving instructions and enthusiasm for the week's work. Among the speakers were Mr. Nichols, who outlined the general policy of the executive committee in effecting the drive, Mr. Stafford, who described the plans for the reporting of the contributions, and Mr. Bam-burgh, who described the publicity work which has already been done, and which will be used to continue the campaign. The speaker on the war was Private Burns of South Boston, who gave a graphic description of the work of the fighting men in France.

RED CROSS PARADE
Mayor Childs is going to march with the members' division in the Newton Red Cross section of the great Red Cross parade in Boston Saturday afternoon. To march, the mayor gives up an engagement made for the afternoon, and also promises to bring with him eleven other members of the Red Cross. What the mayor is going to do other men all over Newton are also going to do. Prominent men in all the villages have promised to march with the Newton branch and to make personal efforts to get others to march. A large delegation of the men who are to do the canvassing of the city for Red Cross contributions to the Second War Fund are going to march in order to help make Newton's showing in the parade measure up to the city's membership of over 15,000, and its record for work done since the war began. All members will be welcome to a place in the parade. If they will report at the Hotel Vendome on Saturday afternoon before half-past one they will be assigned to places.

Those who are going to march in the parade are advised to wear their most comfortable shoes whether they be brown, black or white. Girl Scouts who are to march may wear either black or tan although an idea to the contrary seems to be general. The line of march is not to be a long one, about two miles. The streets included in it, Beacon, School, Washington, Bromfield and Tremont are all fairly smooth so that travel will not be hard. The two trains on which there are to be cars for the Newton marchers are the one leaving Riverside at 12.57, Woodland 1.08, Waban 1.11, Eliot 1.13, Newton Highlands 1.18, Newton Centre 1.19, and the one leaving Riverside 1.08, Auburndale 1.10, West Newton 1.13, Newtonville 1.16, Newton 1.20. The Newton marchers will leave the trains at Huntington Avenue station and go direct to the Hotel Vendome on Commonwealth avenue where the Newton headquarters are to be and where arrangements have been made for the care of wraps, etc., during the parade.

FLY NUISANCE
One fly can carry and may deposit on our food 6,000,000 bacteria. One fly in one summer may produce normally 191,312,500,000,000 descendants. A fly is an enemy to health—the health of our children, the health of our community. A fly cannot develop from the egg in less than eight days; therefore, if we clean up everything thoroughly every week, and keep the windows and doors screened, there need be no flies to walk and feed on excreta and sputa from people ill with typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diarrhoeal affections and many other diseases. The new roller fly screen, now on exhibit at the Crown Window Shade Company, protects you every minute.

WHITNEY-FARLEY

The wedding of Miss Barbara Farley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thayer Farley of Weston, but former well-known residents of Auburndale, and Lieut. Benjamin Perry Whitney of Wayland, Mass., took place at the home of the bride on Tuesday noon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Frederick A. Reeve of Newton, rector of St. Peter's Church in Weston.

The bride was gowned in satin meteor, covered with lace worn by her mother on her wedding day, and with a double train of brocade. The maid of honor, Miss Caroline B. Creed of Needham, was in ruffled chiffon in pale green, with hat of leghorn, and carried a bouquet of old-fashioned flowers.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Emily Whitney of Wayland, Margaret L. Perry of Newton Centre, Eleanor L. Dennett of Auburndale, and Gladys Harriman of North Wilmington, wore dresses of organdie in shades of rose and orchid. Their hats of leghorn were trimmed with wreaths and black ribbon velvet, and they carried bouquets of old-fashioned flowers.

The best man was Mr. William B. Breed of Syracuse, N. Y., and the ushers were Messrs. J. Clark Bennett of Cambridge, Mortimer T. Farley of Weston, Lieut. A. E. McGrath of Northfield and Arthur F. Farley of Auburndale.

A reception followed the ceremony, Lieutenant and Mrs. Whitney being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Farley and Mrs. Benjamin Whitney.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Whitney will make their home in Weston, and the groom is in service at Camp Devens.

CATHOLIC LIBERTY LEAGUE

At a meeting held Tuesday night at Newton Centre the Catholic Liberty League of the Sacred Heart parish was organized.

This association is the outgrowth of the very successful double-up drive made by members of this parish in the closing days of the third Liberty Loan drive when $67,000 was raised in four days. The men who were responsible for this gratifying accomplishment thought that it would be a good plan to form a permanent organization for future activities.

The following officers were elected: President, A. W. Moriarty; vice-president, T. W. Mullen; treasurer, E. F. Butler; secretary, W. H. Waters.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and addresses were made by the Rev. Timothy Carlin, the Rev. James F. Haney and John F. Cronin, who outlined a general program of useful work that can be accomplished. It is proposed to increase the membership of the league by sending out a general invitation to the Catholics of Newton Centre to assist in promoting the welfare of the organization.

A committee was appointed to get behind the local Red Cross for the $100,000,000 campaign, which opens Monday, and to help in every possible way in the great work of the American Red Cross at home and abroad.

It was also voted to have a flag raising in honor of the 123 members of the parish who are now serving their country in the army and the navy.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA

Under the auspices of Court Genoa, Daughters of Isabella, Miss Mary Barr, chairlady of Catholic Woman's Committee on Food Conservation, will give a talk on food conservation and woman's work in the war, at Dennis Hall, Newtonville, Monday evening, May 20, at 8.30 o'clock. The public is invited.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

On Saturday, George Scott, captain of N.H.S. tennis team, advanced to the semi-final round of the Harvard interscholastic tournament before being eliminated.

Last Friday and Saturday evenings the English Club gave its sixth consecutive original play, written this year by Phyllis Coombs '18. There was an abundance of funny situations, good acting, and an interesting plot. Bob Perry as a charming young lady was the hit of the evening. Edson Jewell as Mr. Sallinger, a member of the home guard, was a close second, and Eunice Leonard's tears, Mary Osgood's brogue, and Walter Graham's love making were thoroughly appreciated by all. In the first act "Ding" Sallinger, Walter Graham, and Heath Sidney, Bob Perry, a derby that he couldn't pass as a woman over a week-end at Ding's house. Sid took him up and in the next two acts the author shows cleverly the amusing times the two chums have when Ding's sister brings a friend home from college to complicate matters.

The other members of the cast were Gerald Donovan, Robert Hopkins, Allen Davidson, friends of Ding Sallinger, Phyllis Coombs as Audrey Sallinger, and Irene Beers as Mrs. Sallinger. Miss Marshall and Miss Carey were the coaches.

Wednesday the senior class met in the assembly hall and the program for graduation day was rehearsed. Emily Mann wrote the music and Ruth Nelson the words to this year's class hymn.

Monday the tennis team beat Milton 4 to 1. Scott, Vaughn and Crosby won in the singles, Leete and Holmes lost in the doubles, and Scott and Vaughn won.

Monday the first and second teams played a fast game, the first team winning 5 to 3. The battery for the first was Owen and Bryson, for the second Cowin and Andrews.

On Friday the baseball team played the most sensational game of the season with Lynn Classical, finally winning 5 to 2 after fourteen innings of hard play. Sawyer went the whole distance and Bryson showed up well. On Saturday Newton will meet an old rival in the person of Waltham, an interesting game should result. The game will be at Waltham.

Gerald Donovan is this year's valedictorian.

Miss McGinnis of the French department, has left school, to accept a position with the McEwain company of Boston. Her place has been taken by Miss Buttman. Miss Story of the French department will teach next year in the Brookline High School. Mr. Thomas, head of the English department, has accepted a position as head of the English department of the Cleveland School of Education, and Miss McGill, head of the history department, has asked for a year's leave of absence to head a Mt. Holyoke College unit in France. Miss McGill expects to leave the first of July.

The High School will be represented by more than 100 Junior Red Cross workers, for the most part in uniform, in the Red Cross parade on Saturday. It is also expected that there will be a N.H.S. float.

POLICE NOTES

James E. Tolan, 17 years, of 10 Raymond street, and John Kinsella, 17 years, of 318 River street, were arrested, last Sunday, charged with "gaming on the Lord's Day." Both pleaded guilty, and were fined $10 apiece.

Former Officer Edward P. O'Neill, now a sergeant in the 301st Artillery at Camp Devens, has been assigned to the Officers' Training Camp which was started this week.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

The Trustees of the Newton Free Library have extended the Librarian's leave of absence, granting him another month. The following letters explain why this is desirable.

Dear Mr. Howes:

A letter just received from Mr. Milam, in Washington, ends with this statement: "I hope you can stay on a long time." That is the first intimation I have had that there was any desire for me to continue longer than the three months. Knowing that you have a trustees' meeting next week Thursday I have wired Mr. Milam that should Washington still desire me to stay on here, that Washington should take this up with you direct. As far as I am concerned personally, it is immaterial as long as I can stand the much-talked of summer heat, which has not arrived as yet. Just at present it is so cold that I am wearing my heavy overcoat and then am cold. There is no hope of the library building being done before the 11th, so that the time in the building before the end of the month in which to get things into good running shape would be short. If I am needed in Newton I am ready to return, though if you can get along without me I should like to stay here.

The work is just getting to a very interesting stage, and now there is a daily circulation of (1 quote from our statistics sheet) 114, 146, 126, 143, 182, 191, for the last six days. I am having built a bookcase body for the auto and intend, when this beastly rain stops, to circulate books from the auto in the lower field, where the recruit division is, and in the wired-in field, from which no man goes except he is transferred out.

There are now catalogued and in the library over 7,000 volumes, of which over 3,000 are in the branch libraries in the Y.M.C.A.'s, etc., and lots of fifty each in the several wards of the hospital. Besides these there are some 6,000 in the warehouse and another 6,000 on the road from Denver. You see I have my hands full. Not being able to buy locally the tables I wanted, I am having eight made by the pupils in the two high schools in San Antonio. Their work that I have seen seems excellent, and it should be, for they occupy two modern and well-equipped buildings.

If my memory serves me, the trustees were given, by the mayor, the power of extending my leave of absence. With best regards to the trustees and others.

Sincerely,
HAROLD T. DOUGHERTY, Librarian.

Dear Sir:

Would it be at all possible for the Newton Library Board to extend Mr. Dougherty's leave of absence? We warmly appreciate the generous three months' period of release already granted. During the two months of it that have already passed Mr. Dougherty has performed most excellent service—so excellent, that we are anxious to have the benefit, as long as possible, of his already acquired knowledge of conditions and the experience of camp work which he has already obtained. The building is now in process of construction and will soon be finished; books are arriving and are being prepared for use, in fact, are put into use just as rapidly as they are prepared. Outside agencies are being established; extension work is being developed. In all these things Mr. Dougherty is showing tact, industry and ability. We are anxious to have him stay, both on his account and for us, long enough to reap some of the reward of these hard days of material preparation.

He is enthusiastic and I believe, not understanding his interest in his home problem, would like to stay in Texas a while longer. All our camp librarians are finding it absorbing. It is, in fact, the biggest work for librarians at the present time.

So we take the liberty of asking, would it be possible for the men at Kelly Field to have the benefit of Mr. Dougherty's good services for a month or two longer than the release originally granted?

I am expressing our sincere appreciation for the generosity which has given him to us for these three months. I am,

Sincerely yours,
HERBERT PUTNAM, General Director.

"Continuity of service is extremely desirable. The best showings were uniformly made where a good man has been in charge for several months; every change impairs efficiency. The personnel, especially of chief librarians, is becoming impressive and includes some of the best men in the country. This is as it should be, but it would be better if these men could arrange for longer service than the one, two or three months which is the utmost many of them have been able to render."

—The Library Journal.

And it's that certain something that makes them better than any other foreign straw hats. The success of Chamberlain straws is due to the careful selection of braids that will withstand our inclement eastern weather. This certain braid together with a certain bleach makes that certain something. Vyse hats, $3.50 and $4.00. Heath hats, $4.00 and $5.00. Beaconsfield straws, $3.00. Revelation straws, $2.00.

Gen. Pershing Says:

"No other organization since the world began has ever done such great constructive work with the efficiency, the dispatch, the understanding, often under adverse circumstances, as has been done in France by the American Red Cross in the last six months."

Here are some of the activities in behalf of which the Red Cross is asking for another $100,000,000 from the people of the United States during the week beginning May 20:

- The organization of more base hospitals and ambulance companies;
- The recruiting and training of nursing personnel for service in the army and navy medical corps;
- The increased production of surgical dressings, hospital garments, knitted goods, etc., for our army and navy at home and abroad;
- The care of dependent families of soldiers and sailors, over 100,000 of which are now being helped by the Red Cross;
- The study of the problem of crippled soldiers and sailors;
- Providing canteen service for troops en route;
- Feeding American prisoners in enemy countries;
- Procuring casualty information for the relatives and friends of wounded soldiers;
- Nursing service for convalescents;
- And relief for our Allies, such as canteen service, tubercular work, hospital supplies and various other forms of assistance.

Optimistic Thought.

Reserve Stock of Patience.

The patience man expends in bearing his little trials of his daily life nature stores for him as a wondrous reserve in a crisis of life.—W. G. Jordan.

Say It and Prove It.

Anybody can say a thing "can't be done," and then demonstrate it by simply remaining inactive; but it takes a real man to say concerning a hard task, "It can be done," and then proceed to demonstrate it in terms of successful finality.

Curing Elephant's Cold.

A circus man, caught in the act of curing an elephant of a cold, was dared to take his own medicine. He declined, but invited the interviewer to return the next day and see the elephant cured. And the next day the elephant was rid of the cold. The keeper placed a bucket of boiling hot vinegar in a bag and then tied the latter about the animal's trunk so that he was compelled to inhale the beneficial fumes whether he wished to or not.

Save Fuel Wisely

Saving fuel is working hand in hand with the Government these days. And one way to save wisely and well is to use SO-CO-NY—the quality gasoline. It means minimum consumption and maximum power.

Inferior, low-grade mixtures mean waste in the form of increased consumption, lost power and excessive carbon deposits.

There's power in every drop of SO-CO-NY. It's clean, quick starting; reliable; obtainable everywhere.

Look for the Red, White and Blue SO-CO-NY Sign. It's the wise way to save fuel.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Housekeepers will be glad to know that there is at present a large supply of wheat substitutes in the market and that they may use rye freely, since it does not keep as well as wheat flour. None of it should be allowed to spoil in these days. It is good news, too, that there will be plenty of sugar for canning. Manufacturers who require sugar for their business must now file certificates of the amount they have used. Those who manufacture "essential" things will be kept well supplied, but those whose products are classed as "less essential," such as candy, soft drinks, chewing gum and the like, will be restricted to 70 per cent. of their normal output. Housekeepers may secure from the County Food Administrator a card which, when presented at the local grocery store, will entitle them to purchase twenty-five pounds for canning purposes. Mrs. George Minot Baker, of Concord, Mass., is the woman food administrator for Middlesex County.

The food demonstrations now being given twice daily, at eleven and at three, in the Civic Federation Cottage on the Common will be found very helpful, for the aim is to show how to use successfully the wheat substitutes, how to prepare appetizing dishes from inexpensive cuts of meats and in general how to serve simple dishes such as are needed in the average household.

If you want to know how to can asparagus, call at the headquarters of the Women's Municipal League adjoining the Administration building of the group. Here will be shown from week to week the articles of food which are abundant in the market which may well be canned at the time. Also demonstrations of comparative food values will be another important feature of the exhibits.

Newton Federation

On Monday, May 20, at 10.15 A.M. the Newton Federation executive board holds its regular meeting at the New Church parlors, Newtonville. Chairmen of standing committees for the new year will be confirmed, and plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Patriotic Fete

The Camp Fire Girls and the Girl Scouts will each contribute interesting features to the program of the Patriotic Fete, June 1. Old English folk dances by the Playgroup directors will add further picturesqueness. A good orchestra will play for all the numbers. Don't forget to get a tag when they are offered to you, and help the good work along. All the proceeds will be used for local philanthropies, which need more than ever the generous patronage of Newton people, as the war brings to them added responsibilities which cannot be overlooked.

Local Announcements

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold in Society Hall, Auburndale, on Friday, May 24, a sale of home cooked foods, delicatessen, dainties, aprons, bags and useful articles, ice cream and cake, candy and a grab bag for children. A cordial welcome to all friends and all goods of Home Circle quality.

Under the auspices of the Pierian Club the babies of Upper Falls will be weighed and measured at Twombly House dispensary on May 21, 22, 23 and 25.

Local Happenings

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was recently held in Players' small hall. The business meeting was preceded by a basket luncheon, baskets of all sizes, designs and colors were auctioned off and the proceeds were given to the Red Cross. Following the luncheon came an entertainment called "A Century of Song." Songs beginning with "The Star-Spangled Banner," written in 1814, up to songs of today, were sung.

by some of the members of the club chorus, while pictures were posed by members of the club wearing the gowns worn at the time these songs were written.

—Miss Margherita Constance Kellen of Bourne street was the recipient of a linen shower from the members of the choir of Grace church last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frederick White, Belmont street, Newton. It was an enjoyable affair, luncheon being served, and the decorations carried out in a color scheme of pink.

—Sylvia Sweet, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sweet, gave a birthday luncheon on Friday at her home on Groveland street. The table was decorated attractively and had as a centerpiece a miniature Maypole. —On Monday afternoon the annual May day for the members of the Cradle Roll was held in the Congregational Church parlors. There were 50 children present between the ages of 3 months and 4 years. The children played games, and refreshments were served at little round tables. The party was a great success and was under the direction of Mrs. William C. Gordon, Mrs. H. O. Cook, Mrs. E. J. Frost, Mrs. F. F. Davidson, and Miss Helen Johnson.

CHESTNUT HILL FIRE

A fire in a three-apartment house in Middlesex Circle, Chestnut Hill section of Brookline, caused considerable excitement about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The house was occupied by F. J. Chase, Mrs. Harry Baldwin and Mrs. F. M. Rogers. It is thought that the fire started on the first floor, and was due to an electric iron that someone was using and forgot to shut the power off. The iron burned its way through the table, through the floor into the cellar, and burned its way into the partitions, causing a large amount of smoke. The tenants escaped in their night clothing. The damage will probably amount to $2000.

ANNUAL MEETING OF C. E. C.

At the Payson Park Congregational Church, Waverley, there was held on Tuesday evening the annual meeting of the Newton Christian Endeavor Union. Supper was served for about one hundred, and after the supper, the annual reports were read and the officers elected for the ensuing year. For President, Mr. Wm. H. Cady of Newton; vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Champion of Auburndale; for secretary, Miss Eunice Jones of Waltham; and for treasurer, Mr. W. J. Champion. Rev. Thomas S. ## "GIVE A DAY'S PAY TO THE RED CROSS"

One of the most important features of the Red Cross drive for a $100,000,000 fund next week will be the work of the industrial organization which will carry its campaign into the industrial and mercantile plants and make a personal appeal to each worker.

Though Newton is essentially a city of homes, it also includes many and varied manufacturing establishments, and the latest effort to put the Garden City "over the top" will be aided greatly by the willingness of the industrial workers to contribute to this most worthy cause. Their subscriptions may be made on a weekly or monthly plan covering a period of twelve months.

The plan includes noon rallies at the various plants, as well as mass meetings at night in the several sections of the city. The speakers will include men of national renown, as well as military leaders who have seen active service and who are qualified to talk on the subject of the Red Cross and what it means to the soldiers, not only of our own army, but those of our Allies.

Briefly summed up, the industrial plan has for its object the carrying to every worker and every employee a description of the work and purposes of the Red Cross—of how it may be made the vital and active agency on his behalf of relieving the suffering and attending the wants of his own fellows, of caring for their dependents, of saying nothing of affording succor to the maimed soldiers of our Allies, of rescuing and providing for the homeless and helpless in the districts devastated by war, and of reconstructing war-ridden areas.

Sergt. Edward Creed, one of Pershing's veterans who recently returned from the trenches, said in an address at the Boston City Club, "The American Red Cross is the greatest organization that there is in Europe today. It is the backbone of the American fighting lines."

"I have seen the American Red Cross nurses in the various towns in France young girls used to every care, the best of treatment, the best of living. They go over there and are subjected to just as hard conditions as the men you send across to fight for you, and yet day after day glowing accounts come back of the heroic acts of our boys. But how many reports come across the water of the girls who stand by the bedside of the men that are gassed, the men in fever; who stay by those bedside under shell fire, putting up with every condition? Bear this in mind—if the American people don't support the American Red Cross Fund they are deserting their own flesh and blood on the firing line."

The organization which is to canvass the industrial plants will include competent team captains and managers. For the city as a whole Louis D. Gibbs of Billings park is district vice chairman, Leverett D. G. Bentley of 18 Baldwin street is district manager, and Fred C. Green of 113 Church street, Watertown, is supervisor of publicity. The work in Wards 1 and 2 will be managed by Duncan Wright of 672 Chestnut street, Waban, in Wards 3 and 4 by Thomas J. Sullivan of 300 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, in Wards 5, 6 and 7 by Miss Ethel W. Sabin of 1206 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls, and Charles Mills of 21 High street, Newton Upper Falls.

Newton has done more than her share in other war activities, and has shown that she is intensely patriotic. Workers, rally to the support of this latest drive, help put your city in the front rank once more, and do so by giving a day's pay or income to the Red Cross. There can be no more worthy object.

N. H. S. TENNIS

Newton High School's tennis players, who cut less figure in the Harvard interscholastic tournament than had been generally expected, went to Milton Academy's courts Monday and won all three singles and one of the two doubles matches from the private school boys. George Scott, captain of the Newton team, won from A. H. Knox, Jr., the Milton leader, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, while Wayland Vaughan, second singles player for Newton, captured a hard-fought match from Delafield DuBois, a Milton third-class student, 6-4, 9-7. In the other singles match Edgar Crosby of Newton defeated Richard Gorham of Milton, 8-6, 6-3.

The best match of the dual meet was that between the first doubles teams, Scott and Vaughan of Newton defeating Knox and DuBois of Milton, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5. Milton's only point was scored by Gorham and John MacDuffie, 24, in the doubles over Joel Leete and Walter Holmes of the Newton team, 6-4, 6-4.

Captain Scott of the Newton team, who will matriculate at Dartmouth in the fall, was a semi-finalist in the Harvard tourney, losing to the ultimate champion—Henry Kaltenbach of Andover. "Sandy" Knox of Milton appeared formidable early in the tournament, but he was put out in the round before the semi-final by John Carleton, Andover's captain, who lost in the final round. The Newton High team was unbeaten in eight dual matches last year and is hopeful of retaining a clean slate this season. Attempts to arrange a match with Andover were unsuccessful.

ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The postponed meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., was held at the Association on Monday evening, May 13, at which the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Charles D. Kenner was elected president; Edwin O. Childs, vice-president; Mr. J. V. Blaisdell, treasurer; and Mr. C. W. Moore, clerk. Mr. James E. Clark and Hiram E. Barker were re-elected as Trustees for a term of three years.

The drilling of the Newton unit of the Constabulary on the Y.M.C.A. field drew many spectators last Wednesday evening, especially the boys and girls. The Boy Scouts were soon following the example set by their older brothers, and were marching up and down the field. Out in the street about forty boys and girls were also lined up under their youthful commanders. This shows once more the great force of example.

THE DANSANT

The 301st Field Artillery Band will play at the Thé Dansant to be given at the Brae Burn Country Club on June 1. This is the same band that gave such a delightful concert at Newton Centre two weeks ago. Every one who attended was very much pleased with the number of selections rendered and a large number of music lovers who attended were very much surprised at the program. To hear this band alone is sufficient to guarantee that everyone who attends this Thé Dansant on June 1 will receive a great treat; and at the same time they will be aiding a very worthy cause, i.e., the War Relief Fund of Newton.

WOODLAND PARK

A Country Day and Boarding School for Young Girls

THIS Junior Department of Lasell Seminary, will train girls of seven to fifteen years, giving work from the third grade of Grammar School through first year High School.

The commodious grounds and buildings of the former Woodland Park Hotel are now being prepared for the use of the school which will open on September 24, 1918.

Thoroughly trained and experienced teachers have been engaged to have charge of the school and full advantage will be taken of the possibilities of help from the equipment and large faculty of Lasell.

The school session of day pupils, from nine till five o'clock, will consist of study, recitation, manual training, exercise, play and rest periods, planned so as to give a normal healthy, symmetrical development. If desired the school automobile will call for the pupil and take her home.

Classes will be conducted largely in open air classrooms. For further information address

A PLEASANT DUTY

We have been asked by the National War Savings committee to carry to our readers the message that spending for non-essentials is stealing labor and capital from the government. It is a pleasure as well as a duty to comply with this request.

It does comparatively little good to draw money out of the bank and lend it to the government. To be sure, the government then has the immediate use of the money; but the bank's lending power is reduced by that amount, which means that some manufacturer of war munitions will find it so much more difficult to finance his enterprise.

The money that really counts is the money that we save by cutting down our consumption of goods. When we decide to make last spring's hat serve for another season, we not only have three or five dollars to invest in War Savings Stamps, but we help release a hat-maker for government service.

We have added the actual labor cost of the hat to the country's resources. Old clothes can do much to help defeat Germany. And there are many things besides fashionable raiment that we can do without. Any reader of "Good Government," with the aid of a pencil and a little concentrated thought, can probably total up a saving of fifty dollars a month or more, without disturbing his way of life or his ordinary comfort. But that is not enough. Those who stand knee-deep in Flanders mud, their backs to the wall, with orders to die where they stand rather than give ground, have few enough comforts. We who are not privileged to stand with them can at least support them by refusing ourselves those pleasant self-indulgences of less perilous times. Every dollar we spend for non-essentials is equivalent to a dollar's worth of German bullets.—Good Government.

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

AT the City of Goodrich, they have officially announced the grand mileage of Goodrich's nation-wide Test Car work of 1917:

1,044,686 linear miles.

4,178,744 tire miles.

Those figures indite the Emancipation Act of motorists, freeing them from tire mishaps and amputated mileage.

Compressed in them is the story of the famous Six Fleets, and how they hurled Goodrich Tires the length and breadth of our nation, over city pavement and country road, ploughing them through sand and mud; mauling them against rock and gravel.

Mathematics has no favorites. That multiplied mileage of 4,178,744 miles coldly, calculatingly, puts the seal of multiplied proof on Goodrich Tires, and stamps them "Tested." In that searching test, no slightest defect, no hidden short-coming could escape the sight of the Goodrich experts.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, under light and heavy cars, defied the rough going of roads wherever the Test Car Fleets rushed them.

The spiral-wrapped, cable-cord tire body, and Goodrich's tough black tread rubber fought the hard fight and conquered.

Seek tire surety and long mileage in the proven service of "America's Tested Tires." Goodrich guarantees you will get it because Goodrich tested and got it.

Tested Tires mean 100 per cent. quality. Demand it. Tested Tires mean supreme service. Demand it.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

The following letter from Lieut. William F. King of Bigelow road, West Newton will be of interest to his many friends in this city.

Dear M:—
I suppose you have often wondered why I did not cable you when I landed. I did not because I could not. For three days I was in a practical prison from which none of us could go out, and after that I was traveling for two days. By the time I got where I could cable I thought it best to wait a little longer so that I could send you my permanent address with the cable.

The town in which I am now stationed is a very pleasant one and the army quarters are comfortable. As for the officers' mess, I truly think that it is the best mess I ever sat down to either in the states or in France. The American soldier in France certainly is not starving. The men all seem very happy and satisfied. They almost never complain, and I have never heard one of them say he was sorry he came across. In the numerous letters that I censor the men all tell their trip the great adventure, and they all speak enthusiastically of France and its people. Probably there is hardly an American soldier in France who would not like to see the war end and our troops go home, but on the other hand I believe there are very few American soldiers in France who far a minute regret they came across. I know that is the way I feel. I have enjoyed deeply every bit of time and every mile of travel that I have had in France. Sometimes my conscience almost troubles me because I have had such a good time and suffered so little hardship in this war-stricken country. But France is not as badly off as I thought at first glance. For food she does not seem at all seriously pressed. Every inch of ground is under cultivation and there is no reason why a large crop should not be forthcoming this year. There are many cattle about and plenty of meat in the shops. Sugar is the only noticeable scarcity. Candy and sweets of all sorts are almost unobtainable. But they are not necessities anyway. Tobacco is another luxury which is lacking.

For clothing the French men and women still seem to keep themselves modestly covered up. Of course the Paris styles hardly run as furious a course as usual, but they are not necessary to life either. The French soldiers are well dressed. They wear a diversity of clothing, but it is all serviceable and warm. Only one article of clothing is hard to obtain, and that is footwear. Leather is scarce. The poorer civilians almost all now wear wooden shoes. The little boys made a great racket as they clattered down the steep, narrow stone-paved alleys in their wooden shoes.

One sees very few automobiles here, and those that one sees are mostly doing military service. Autos are simply another luxury that the French have given up. The gasoline which has been necessary for use in military transportation. All France's sources of fuel supply have been diminished or cut off by the war so all that burns and conveys power is carefully conserved here. Stores are not heated, houses are not lighted, one's feet are substituted for electric cars and taxicabs. In short, it is the luxuries which have disappeared in France, not the necessities. France has the wherewithal to live on sturdily for many a year. But she has not the men to fight on indefinitely. Yet the United States can supply her with men, is now supplying her with men. There can be but one end to this war—the defeat which even now the average German does not begin to dream of.

Do you know that the German prisoners about here will not believe that we are Americans? They say we are Canadians. Their Kaiser has told them that his submarines allow no American troops to cross the Atlantic Ocean. Of course the Canadians are so nice and friendly that it is all right for them to cross to the trenches.

I must close now and give my troops a little drill. Also I have no less than fifty-two letters to censor, and my own also.

Love to all,
W. F. K.

OUTDOOR PATRIOTIC MEETING

Next Saturday evening Norumbega Park opens the 1918 season in a characteristic American way, with perhaps the greatest outdoor patriotic meeting ever held in the New England States. Men of country-wide prominence will be present, including the famous Boston "Ace," William A. Wellman, who will tell of the country's progress in the war, of the fighting at the front, and what good Americans ought to do in the present crisis. A tremendous gathering is expected.

Sunday afternoon and evening all attractions are opened full blast, and the events will be led off by one of the most impressive band concerts which have been given in years. The animals are back and longing for human companions. All the canoes are gaily painted and simply waiting for occupants. The slide-shows and attractions are also newly painted and brought completely up to date.

The park itself is enlarged to twice its former size. New picnic grounds have just been completed. Baseball grounds, the equal of any in the country, have been added. There is a natural amphitheatre which commands the ball grounds and will seat thousands of people. There are locker rooms, for both men and for women, with hot and cold showers, and complete provision for the comfort of everybody who comes.

Monday the theatrical season opens with A. H. Wood's great New York and Boston success, "Cheating Cheaters," with pretty Joan Quest in the leading role. This play is given every afternoon and evening during the week, and is followed the next week by "Rich Man, Poor Man," another success as great.

For twenty years Norumbega Park has been a constant source of pleasure to Bostonians and New Englanders, and has always kept up with the times. This year, despite war conditions, Norumbega has proven more than up to date. She has forged ahead of the procession, and is twice as large in 1918 as in 1917. It is only another example of what American progressiveness will do.

Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., have on exhibition in their Showrooms the largest display of Fire-place goods, Andirons, Screens, Grates, Bellows and Gas Logs in this country.

ALDERMEN

Two New Members Appointed on Board of Health

The aldermen held a rather short meeting on Monday night, with Vice-President Harriman in the chair on account of the illness of President Early. Aldermen Kendrick and Madden were also absent.

The board passed a resolution stating in different language practically the same thing as was voted at the special meeting last week, pledging the city to contract with the federal authorities in the matter of training, housing and rationing the 500 drafted men who will use the Technical High School for four months this summer. Alderman Blake presented the resolution and said that it would be necessary to give the national authorities some assurance of the city's intention to accept the contract before Saturday, as the assignment of the men by the War Department would have to be done on Monday. The cost, he said, had been figured to $1.85 per man per day, amounting to about $55,500 for the entire project. City Solicitor Bishop said that the legislation desired had been delayed by the insistence of the State House authorities that the bill should be a general bill, and the necessity for holding an advertised hearing. He hoped that the bill would reach and be signed by the governor by Thursday. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Several hearings were held, most of which were unopposed. W. H. Hughes asked for permit for gasoline at 926 Chestnut street; H. L. Genereux for permit for gasoline at 2666 Commonwealth avenue; for taking land for drain off Rowe street; for laying out and for building line on Devon road; and for building line on Kent road. Mr. Egerton spoke in favor of taking land for sewer in Warwick road, and Mrs. G. A. Pierce remonstrated by letter against the laying out of Furber lane. A hearing was also held on petition of the Newtonville Auto Rental company for increased capacity for gasoline and the permit granted later in the evening.

Mayor Childs consent in the nomination of John H. Gordon and C. Sidney Ensign as members of the Board of Health, and they were immediately confirmed after several members had given their opinion of the nominations.

The Mayor also approved bill of Dr. A. C. Cummings for Workmen's Compensation, and the appropriation was subsequently made. The Mayor also sent in a petition of the officers of the police department for more pay; for $500 to allow Co. A, State Guard, to undertake military instruction of men on the draft list; for $678.13 for laborers' pensions, requesting the aldermen to serve on his staff Memorial Day, and the claim of Florence H. Russell for injuries caused by police car.

The invitation of Charles Ward Post G.A.R. to take part in the Memorial Day exercises was accepted.

Petitions for common victualler licenses from T. F. Eddy in Newtonville, and Alfred Engerren on the Charles river; of Henry H. Read, John Segerson and F. P. Welsch for auctioneers' licenses, and for various permits for private garages were granted.

Other petitions were received from Enrico Simoni and John Smith for common victualler licenses, for street sprinkling of Chaske avenue and Eddy street.

On recommendation of committees, permission to enter a drain into Bulough's pond was granted Helen L. Bacon; for a sewer in Central street; (Continued on Page 8)

RED CROSS DRIVE

Over $100,000 Already Secured and Quota Will Be Doubled at Least

Newton's quota in the present Red Cross War Fund Drive was thought from the first to be too small and now it has been proven so, for the amount already collected is in excess of $138,000, and reports from all of the various teams have not yet been turned in to Executive Chairman Henry J. Nichols. So widespread is the generous giving of the Newton citizens, both young and old, poor and rich, that a still greater excess over the quota will be attained by Monday night.

The impetus given to the work of the many teams through the enthusiasm created at the rallies last Sunday night was sufficient to produce a very large return on Monday, and many contributions were offered to village chairmen and team captains and solicitors, even without solicitation. By this time nearly all residents have been called upon, excepting those who have been absent at the time of call, and it is that group of Newtonians who are to be rounded up on Saturday and Sunday.

The Executive Committee will meet at the Newton Club on Sunday to make a thorough inspection of the work done by the various teams and ascertain whether there are any stones left unturned in the campaign. The desire to back up the work of the boys in France with the dollars of the people in the United States has been evident everywhere. Very little lack of patriotism has been seen, although it is to be regretted that a large number of the homes of our community do not show the Red Cross poster "Have You Given? We have" in their front windows. That poster was widely distributed and was the cause of many voluntary gifts and a great deal of readiness on the part of householders when solicitors called, for it inspired the desire to attach the strip announcing the personal giving to the great fund.

The West Newton teams are running a stiff leadership race with the rest of the teams in the city, and the establishment by Mr. Oliver M. Fisher of a Red Cross station opposite the Newton railroad station was not only a happy thought, but has been of very great benefit to the fund.

Many interesting stories of giving have come to the attention of the committee. In one instance, Mr. Crosby of a West Newton team stopped a little boy of ten on Highland street, West Newton, and asked the boy if he cared to contribute to the Red Cross Fund. The lad said that he knew he had a dollar at home on his bureau, and although he was saving it up for some other particular purpose, the collector could get it if he would call and ask the boy's mother for it. Another boy in Newtonville voluntarily offered his monthly allowance of a single dollar, apparently forgetting his boyish expenditures for the month in a desire to help the work of the Red Cross at the front. He had been very much impressed by the talk of Sergeant Billy Wellman over at Newton Highlands on Sunday evening.

The mass meetings in the eight sections of the city were all well attended last Sunday night. Perhaps the most notable, on account of the personal relationship of the principal speaker to the locality, were at Newton Highlands and Newton Centre, where, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, Sergeant William A. Wellman, commonly known as "Billy" Wellman, a Newton boy, who is a veteran of the Lafayette Escadrille, gave interesting talks. Sergeant Wellman spoke only briefly about his own personal career in France, but was very earnest indeed in describing the work of the Red Cross in the trenches, in "No Man's Land" and in the hospitals behind the front. It was an impressive sight to see the entire audience in the Congregational Church rise and stand applauding Billy when he walked up into the pulpit, and they listened very attentively to his frank and easy expression of his feelings and his description of what he had seen.

At Newton Centre, Colonel Williams of the Canadian Army also spoke, and at Newton Highlands a description of the work of the past, as well as of the future in the Red Cross, was given by William C. Bambridge of Newtonville, in charge of the publicity of the campaign in this city.

At the Eliot Church in Newton an enthusiastic crowd was drawn by Lieutenant Bankart of the Canadian Army, the Rev. Henry H. Crane being the second speaker; in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Lieutenant Mallet of the French Army, and the Hon. John E. Hannigan of Cambridge were the speakers. At the West Newton Congregational Church, Lieutenant Jack Tut of the Royal Flying Corps and the Rev. Julian C. Jaynes were the speakers; at the Auburndale Congregational Church, Lieutenant Mallet and Dr. Thomas Chalmers, principal of the Allen Military School, were the speakers; in the Church of the Good Shepherd at Waban, Lieutenant Tut was the principal speaker, and in Early Hall, Newton Lower Falls, Lieutenant Bankart, together with Mayor Childs, addressed the audience.

At all of these events there was patriotic music, ministers of other churches, as well as the various village chairmen, were present on the platform or in the chancels, and one of the speakers deeply impressed the audiences which comprised the representative community of the various villages.

RESULTS OF TAX SYSTEM

Professor Johnson's Interesting Address
Last Week at Newtonville

At the annual meeting last week of the Newtonville Improvement Association, Prof. Lewis J. Johnson of Harvard gave an interesting address.

Needless obstacles to village improvement arise from some unintended results of our tax system. We tax a man more if he improves his property than if he does not; moreover, we actually subsidize the man who wholly refuses to improve, not only keeping his taxes light, but by bestowing upon him an actual free gift, in the shape of publicly created increase in the value of his site. We penalize the improver; we add to his burdens and risks; but the man who obstructs progress, who maintains vacant lots, we actually reward. The remedy is obvious. We must reverse this process. We must cease to encourage the non-improver and must add new rewards for the improver. We might leave him to enjoy in peace the fruits of his industry, public spirit, and thrift, without being taxed upon them. This is precisely what the single tax would do, and is intended to do.

(Here the speaker gave blackboard illustrations of how the single tax would benefit the small home owner and others who put their land to normal use.)

The Single Tax is a two-fold proposal; it is offered as the scientific system of public revenue and as, what is of even greater value, a means of ending the disastrous evils due to taxes on trade, industry and thrift, and to the stifling of production and improvement by abusing land ownership, i.e., by holding valuable land out of use. The principle underlying the Single Tax becomes clear upon opening our eyes to the obviously inherent right of the public to the site-value of land, meaning thereby that portion of the value of land due to the presence, activities and expenditures of the community.

Site-value is not an individual product and should not be permitted to be appropriated by individuals; on the other hand since it is a community product site-value should be appropriated by the community and be enjoyed by members of the community on equal terms—in the form of good government and public facilities and improvements. Site-value is the measure of the cash value of government and society, and must in nature of things suffice for the support of all governmental enterprises worthy of support.

All property other than site-value being a product of individual labor should be sacred to private ownership. Its value should not, under normal conditions at least, be permitted to be appropriated by the public.

No object of taxation other than land is enhanced in value by public expenditure and only site-value of land at that; justice accordingly dictates making the site-value of land the sole basis of revenue taxes, and doing so as rapidly as the public may see its way clear to do so. The longer we delay the change, however, the longer must legitimate business, thrift and industry endure the burdensome injustices of our present regime.

Simply for the sake of avoiding hardships, largely imaginary, for the microscopic number of non-producers who are subsidized by the present system and are the sole beneficiaries of it. Such few could, and doubtless would, be readily cared for by special provisions lasting through the period of change.

To be more specific: single taxers favor the abolition of all taxes on personal property, machinery, livestock, buildings, all improvements to land and all other products of labor; on imports; on intangibles, incomes and inheritances, except as these are reached automatically by the tax on site-values. Thus we would untax food, clothing and shelter as well as trade, manufacturing, agriculture and all useful industry; we would carry taxation of the site-value of land at least to the point of permitting adequate use of valuable land (whether for building or for open spaces) to become more profitable than inadequate use of non-use; thus making it easier for workers to own homes and farms; thus opening opportunities for both labor and capital; and clearing the way to industrial peace and well-distributed prosperity.

The demand for land for speculation thus being destroyed, the supply of valuable land would be found to outrun the demand for it. The price of land (measured in combined taxes and purchase price) would drop to a normal figure (in all outlying land to a merely nominal figure), but no cash advantage could come of owning it unless it be kept in proper use. To a user, however, land would be more valuable than now, for he would no longer be taxed for using it. Our present system of titles would remain intact. None would be discommodated except the very few who would be disappointed in their expectation—conscious or unconscious—to live off the labor of others in return for permitting them the use of land. Even such few disappointed ones would be equal to the situation in Massachusetts under the present system of titles would remain intact. None would be discommodated except the very few who would be disappointed in their expectation—conscious or unconscious—to live off the labor of others in return for permitting them the use of land. Even such few disappointed ones would be equal to the situation in Massachusetts under the present system of titles would remain intact.

Some idea of the extent of the evil of holding valuable land out of use can be gained from the fact that more than one-half the taxable land-area of the twenty-six wards of municipal government in the town of Boston is unoccupied land exceeds in assessed valuation all the land in Franklin, Hampshire and Worcester counties combined—outside of the city of Worcester. This means that within the city of Boston there is lying derelict a residential and business opportunity equal in value to a third of the land of the state outside of Boston. No wonder rents are high; buildings are poor, and slums abound! If we should tax away the advantage of holding this valuable land vacant we should soon see a change!

Some idea of the amount of land in this country can be gathered from the fact that the total land area of the United States is about 3,600,000 square miles. The whole population of the United States, giving a separate house and a quarter-acre to each family.

Let us collect into the public treasury the present annual charge upon land ownership and abolish the taxes we now pay in addition; we should thus increase our resources for national defence; each individual, whether citizen or alien, would automatically pay his full and just share of public revenue, and we should then not only gradually become a nation of home-owners and land-owners, but we should perhaps have made the greatest step in all history toward a better government, and toward civilization itself, including our victory in this war.

Each of the belligerent countries, including Germany, so far as we are aware, and certainly England and the United States—handicaps itself by maintaining destructive and repressive taxes. A country which abandons this practice puts itself at a great advantage. Why should not the United States be such a country?

I believe no great reform of comparable magnitude has ever been proposed in which the inconveniences while going into operation would be relatively so light or to which adjustment after its adoption would be so quick and easy as that of permanent suffrage. These are days in which inconveniences are not mistaken for reasons to quit, and it is even more important to put such a reform into effect when the burdens of war are upon us than when the penalties of economic folly are less disastrous.

DEAD IN FRANCE

Richard Blodgett, 20 years old, an American aviator, son of Edward E. Blodgett of 174 Temple street, West Newton, has just been killed in France while in flight, according to a cable message received by his father Tuesday morning.

More than a year ago, when a student at Williams College, he went to France as a volunteer ambulance driver. After several months he became a driver of an ammunition motor, and recently joined the aviators. He had been studying hard, and flying for about three weeks.

Only last Friday his father received a cable from him, saying that he had "got first German, a biplane." Tuesday morning news of his death was received.

It is understood that he was killed while in a fight, and fell inside the American lines.

His brother, also a Williams man, enlisted in the Regular Army. Mrs. Blodgett is now in New York, having gone to see her elder son, who expects to be sent to France within a short time.

WILBUR THEATRE—A typical American comedy, abounding in romance and humor and throbbing with the patriotic spirit reflected from a young woman's heroic fight against political and social corruption, is the basis of "High and Dry," by Lewis B. Ely, which will be seen at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, next week, beginning Monday, May 27.

"High and Dry" is a most original and dramatic play. From one point of view it might be compared with the satirical comedies for which the late Charles Hoyt was celebrated. Ely, like Hoyt, satirizes the prohibition movement as it is handled by unscrupulous politicians. His heroine is a young woman reporter, who takes up the cudgels against a corrupt Congressman in Missouri and, after a series of exciting experiences that test her courage and integrity—and incidentally win for her the sympathy of the public—succeeds in forcing him into retirement. And to prove her true femininity, she wins the love of a Missouri editor who for years has been one of the Congressman's tools.

Woman Suffrage

The mighty conflict of today is but the prelude of great changes the world over. As a result autocracy must go down and following in the wake of that in our own country, at least, may be granted national prohibition and woman suffrage. These two great issues go hand in hand. Sir Oliver Lodge says in his very latest book, "The War and After," "It is perhaps a curious outcome of war that women should come more to the front, but so it is. In every department their help and influence are more and more gratefully recognized. Women have shown that they can take their share in war preparation, in national labor and suffering and achievement, and in service near the front; while they were already engaged usefully in civic and municipal enterprises. War does not spare women vicariously—it does not spare them personally, and they are entitled to a voice in the affairs which lead to the too recent past, have been terribly irritating, but the wisdom of the best must be trusted to hold in check or at least to counterbalance the impudence and folly of the worst."

COPLEY THEATRE—"Arms and the Girl," a play entirely new to Boston audiences, will be given by the Henry Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre next week. Its production in New York some months ago attracted no little attention, and it has been hailed as one of the strongest and most entertaining of dramas dealing with the present war. Its authors, Robert Baker and Grant Stewart, and they have made an especial appeal to theatre-goers by placing its action in Belgium in the early days of the German invasion. "Arms and the Girl" is an ingeniously constructed play, and it is an excellent example of the type of play which, like "The Man Who Stayed at Home" and "Inside the Lines," possess all the atmosphere and excitement of war-time without any of the objectionable stage sensational incidents of cannonading and actual fighting. A complete scenic production will be made at the Copley Theatre, and the cast will draw upon the entire strength of the Henry Jewett Players.

SUMMER KNITTING FOR THE SPECIAL AID

Word has been received from Lieutenant Ware regarding his needs for the coming winter, and the Special Aid is ready with wool and directions for all who are willing to help. This is a work near to the heart of Newtonians as Lieutenant Ware is an old Newton boy.

It is earnestly hoped that many women, before going away for their vacations, will come to the S. A. rooms and supply themselves with plenty of knitting materials for the long, peaceful summer days—peaceful for us because so sadly the reverse for our boys "over there."

The articles needed are 1000 pairs of socks, 450 gauntlet gloves, 68 long-sleeved and high-necked sweaters, and a small number of helmets and ordinary sweaters, all to be ready by October 1. Mrs. Moore, chairman of the work committee, will be at the Y.M.C.A. between 11 and 3 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, May 28, 29 and 31, to explain directions and especially to help those who are in doubt about the proper finishing of the loose socks.

Will all Special Aid members who have not yet paid their annual dues, please make an effort to do so as soon as convenient. Remember the dues are anything from 10 cents to one dollar, and may be sent to Mrs. A. W. Fuller, chairman of the Membership committee, 14 Newtonville avenue, Newton.

BIRDS VERSUS CATS

The nesting season of the birds has arrived. Whether or not there will be the desired increase in birds this season depends very largely on the protection which will be received by the adult birds during the hatching period, and the young birds until they can fly and have learned to shift for themselves.

One of the greatest menaces to the bird life of the country today is the house cat. There are very few cats which, if given the opportunity, will not kill a mother bird on the nest or a helpless fledgling fluttering around on the ground. The great tragedy is as likely to occur in the clematis along the porch, or in the bower garden, as it is in the remote places frequented by the so-called "wild" hunting house cat.

This is no attempt to indict the cat. We have great sympathy for and appreciation of the affection between Tabby and her owner. We are simply asking that at this crucial period the birds be given all benefit of the doubt.

We earnestly ask the owner of every house cat during the next three months to assume the responsibility of seeing that the cat will not be given an opportunity to kill birds.

The country is at war. To win the war we must have food. It is common knowledge that the birds are a tremendous factor in the protection of the food supply from insects. Cats if unrestrained, especially at this season, will tremendously weaken that protection. The logic is simple. The birds are trying to do their bit. Let us all help them.

EDITORIAL

The heart of every father and mother in the city will go out with love and sympathy to those parents whose stalwart sons have given up their lives in a far country, for the honor and the glory of the nation. It is with the utmost sorrow that we record this week the deaths of two of our boys "over there". There is some consolation in the thought that they have fought the good fight, they have kept the faith and have died in a righteous cause, but the heart ache and sorrow of those near and dear to them will only be stilled as time gives us a larger and a finer view.

Credit should be given to Representative Thomas Weston, Jr., and City Solicitor Bishop for the prompt passage this week of enabling legislation to allow the city to contract with the War Department for the technical training of soldiers this summer. The bill was favorably reported by the committee on Cities on Tuesday, and had been passed by both House and Senate, engrossed and signed by the Governor by four o'clock that afternoon.

Newton residents have an unusual opportunity tomorrow night to hear two of the most remarkable men who have returned to this country, following active and heroic service in France. Don't fail to go to Norumbega Park.

Flowers for Memorial Day are earnestly desired by Charles Ward Post. Do what you can to help them in this of the Grand Army of the Republic, respect.

There is not much doubt of what the American Unitarian Association thinks of the "Christianity" of Germany.

COUNTRY EDITOR OPENS HIS MAIL

Minnesota Publisher Tells What He Finds in It and How the Day's Business Usually Is Begun

By Ole M. Levang, Publisher Levang's Weekly, Lanesboro, Minn.

Sure, Mike, it's a delight to be in the newspaper business right now. Every day is one continual round of pleasure. Just to give you an idea, here is the chronicle of one day's happenings, and all other days seem to be more or less like this one.

In the morning, and in the afternoon, too, opening the mail is to be a task of pleasant anticipation; there might accidentally be a remittance from some delinquent subscriber whose conscience had awakened. Now the editor is robbed of even that pleasure. The task has become one to be dreaded because of the increased labor in emptying the waste paper basket. There are letters by the score each mail, and all even demand a donation of advertising space—"on account of the war."

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo wants free advertising space for the Liberty Loan—and gets it. Davison, Morgan's partner, wants free space for the Red Cross—and gets it. Herbert C. Hoover, the nation's food director, wants free space to convince the people that "Save the waste and win the war" is the correct dope—and gets it. The National Liquor Dealers' Association wants free space for a plea against national prohibition during the war—and get it NOT. The Minnesota Agricultural School wants free space to tell the farmers what they don't know about farming in war times. The Minnesota Commission on Public Safety wants free space to tell about how the Fourth of July should be celebrated in this year of war. The Minnesota State Fair wants free space for the purpose of showing the people that patriotism and fair attendance go well together. The Minnesota fire marshal wants free space to advertise what HE has done. The Y. M. C. A. wants free space to help their good work along. A United States senator wants free space to set himself right on the question of national prohibition. A dozen—more or less—congressmen want free space to get mention in connection with some phase of war legislation. And then there is Tom, Dick and Harry, who want free mention of their business and their wares—"on account of the war." Never a hint about paying even for composition. From the government down they all seem to live under the impression that no printer demands wages in war times, and that a newspaper publisher gets the work done for nothing.

And to cap the climax at the bottom of the pile of letters is one from the print paper house with the pleasing information that the Federal Trade Commission has no authority to bring the paper trust to time, and consequently to prepare for still another rise in the price of print paper.

How is that for a cheerful beginning of a working day? The weary grind of the day is interrupted occasionally. An advertiser drops in to inform the editor that, due to war time, it will be necessary to reduce his advertising space—otherwise, how is he to buy a Liberty Loan bond and donate to the Red Cross? Another business man comes in to get figures on a job of printing. Quite naturally the price quoted is a little more than before the paper trust took advantage of the war to boost the price of paper to the country newspaper man and not to the great printing corporations in the large cities. The local customer, in possession of price quotations from the big city concerns, suspects the home printer of scheming to hold him up—and the order goes away from home. But if the local printer should send away from home for goods in that man's line, wouldn't there be a howl, Belinda?

By this time the editor's mental condition is such that he is busy wondering whether he is still fit for "cannon fodder."

Sure, Mike, an editor's life is delightful these days.

CITED FOR BRAVERY

Sergt. Almon W. Spaulding, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Spaulding of 15 Brewster road, Newton Highlands, now serving with the U.S.A. ambulance service in France, has been commended for bravery and cited in general orders by command of Gen. Pershing.

Young Spaulding, a graduate of the Massachusetts Agricultural College last June, attended U.S.A.A.C. camp at Allentown, Pa., during the summer and sailed for France in August. By Christmas he had been promoted to sergeant and three months later, the slight Newton boy, who was not robust enough to join the army, had distinguished himself to the extent of attracting the attention of the commanding officer of the American expeditionary forces.

Young Spaulding was on duty with the French Army when he performed deeds of heroism that resulted in his citation. According to information received at his home, Spaulding was cited by his commanding officer for "splendid conduct" on March 20 and 21.

The citation follows: The commander-in-chief has noted with great satisfaction your splendid conduct on March 20 and 21 for which you were cited by your commanding officer in the following terms:

"Sergeant Spaulding had charge of both posts March 18, 19, 20 and 21, and directed the work with marked ability and courage. He was on the road practically all of the forty-eight hours of March 20 and 21, under shellfire and in waves of gas, directing the movements of the ambulances. In where the gas and mist hung the thickest, Sergeant Spaulding walked ahead of the cars and felt out the way and at all times by his spirit and courage kept the work up to a high standard. On the night of the 21st he found a car disabled on the road, and on examination found that a pipe in the radiator had been pierced by shrapnel. Plugging up the hole with chewing gum he sent the car back for relief. By exposing himself continuously he saw that all commands were understood and obeyed."

By command of General Pershing, M. J. O'Brien, Adjutant General.

DO IT NOW!

An increased use of milk at the present time will give double returns. As a source of energy, muscle building, bone building substance, and vitamins, no food gives greater value to the consumer for the money expended. To the dairyman it is vital that the consumption of milk should be increased. The market is becoming over-stocked, and the grave danger of cutting down the industry has arisen.

Eat more milk in chowders, milk soups, white sauces, creamed vegetables, scalloped dishes, salads, gravies, custard, junket, and cocoa.

The Graphic, Newton, Mass. Gentlemen:

The Red Cross Commission in France is continually receiving requests from the commanding officers for supplying great quantities of tobacco for the use of the American Expeditionary Force in France. The efforts of your paper and other papers in the country to secure funds especially designated for the purchase of tobacco for our army abroad, has made it possible thus far for the Red Cross to respond to practically all of these requests for tobacco without it being necessary to expend any Red Cross funds for this purpose.

We have just received from our Commission in France word that the amount of tobacco which we have been able to supply them with in the past is not nearly enough to answer the urgent calls which we are receiving and will receive in the future. I give below some extracts from recent cables received from our Commission, bearing on this subject:

March 7. Not over 300 cases tobacco in all our storehouses. Last month distributed 1000 cases.

March 13. Have now distributed all newspaper tobacco and should have more. How much can we expect monthly?

March 28. We need 175 cases newspaper tobacco a month for each army division.

April 15. Divisional bodies our troops scattered detachments under training as well as sick and wounded, all make irresistible demand for more tobacco. Minimum needs 175 cases per month for each division. We must be able to supply such demand as we had this week when American aviator who recently brought down two Boche machines in one day walked miles in rain to get tobacco for himself and comrades.

We are depending on you and hope that it will be possible for you to increase your activities in this line to meet the increasing demand. The need is gaining as the number of our troops abroad grows. We sincerely hope that you can make your endeavors proportionate and that you will be able to furnish us with a large quantity to equal the needs as indicated to us from abroad.

Very truly yours,
H. D. GIBSON,
General Manager.LODGES

Mt. Ida Council, Royal Arcanum, of Newtonville, is arranging for an elaborate reception to be given to Mr. Herbert A. Billings, a member of Mt. Ida Council, who was elected Grand Regent of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, on Monday evening, May 27, at Denison Hall, Newtonville.

Triton Council of West Newton, Crystal Lake Council of Newton Highlands, Echo Bridge Council of Newton Upper Falls, Rumford and Waltham Councils of Waltham were invited as guests of Mt. Ida Council to participate in the reception to Grand Regent Billings.

This work that they would help finance it if necessary. We hope we shall not have to call upon them. The matter was referred to the Food Conservation committee, of which I am chairman, and the idea appealed to us instantly. We asked Miss Roof, who represents the federal government and also the Massachusetts Agricultural College in this particular line of work, to find us the strongest possible woman to take up the women's conservation work in Newton under the auspices of the Food Conservation committee. The result was that she recommended to us Miss Annie L. Weeks, who had formerly been a resident of Newton. Miss Weeks is a graduate of the Framingham Normal School, taught for several years, and then took a course at Simmons College in Household Economics and Social Service. Having had six years' experience in social work in Chicago, Cambridge, and Rochester, N. Y., Miss Roof felt that Miss Weeks was well fitted to take up work in Newton. We feel we were fortunate in securing her services and are glad to have her with us today. Finding so many women city leaders in Newton, Miss Weeks has asked to work under title of Home Demonstration Leader.

We are sure that she will help the women in Newton to concentrate their efforts along practical food conservation lines. She is able to prevent duplicating of efforts; and will bring to you many new and practical ideas in household economics. We know that you will help her by co-operating as far as possible in what she is undertaking. You have already begun this good work during the two weeks that Miss Weeks has been with us. We believe the result of a closer affiliation between the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Newton Public Safety committee will result not only in a larger accomplishment of good work, but what perhaps is quite as important—a community understanding of the needs of our country and of our city, and the practical ways to achieve the best results in relieving these needs.

Again let me assure you that you have the heartiest respect and best wishes of the Newton Public Safety Committee.

COMMUNITY SINGING

With the whole spirit of the Sunday night's singing made manifest by the introduction of the new song,

"Chip in a day's pay where you are," "Chip in a day's pay where you are," Some poor wounded soldier you may rescue in the war.

Chip in a day's pay where you are," the address of the evening most fittingly brought out an appeal for Red Cross funds. Mr. George Parker was the leader of the singing, and during the course of the evening he favored his audience with "The Trumpet."

Alderman Harriman was introduced and after congratulating the people on their singing, he said he was reminded of the general who said, "If you will let me write the songs of the army you may write the orders." He then quoted several instances of the appeal of music in connection with the life and success of the army, and then proceeded to speak of the efficiency of the Red Cross, which is starting its new drive this week.

He described it as an organization founded in every land in the world, to alleviate suffering, not only in times of peace, as at the time of the Salem fire, but it is to be found on the firing line in time of war. The Red Cross dates back to the middle of the last century to the Crimean war, when Russia was fighting against France and England. Stories of the intense suffering of the men on the battlefield where there was no provision for the injured, went back to England, and the world-famous Florence Nightingale came forward as the angel of mercy. She was the first to devote her entire time to nursing in the war.

In 1859, in a war between France and Italy against Austria, there came to the front a Swiss who was so affected by the need of care of those suffering on the battlefield that he spent four years traveling around and talking up on organization for the alleviation of all this. So in 1863 there met in Geneva representatives of 14 nations to draw up the rules and regulations of the Red Cross. The insignia of this organization was to be the red cross, and everywhere it was to be considered a neutral and treated as a friend. It spread widely and Clara Barton was the first president of that organization which was founded in America in 1881. It is supported entirely by private contributions, and now they are making a new appeal for funds. All of us cannot go to Europe, but all of us can do something for the Red Cross. Will you do your share?

Senator John W. Weeks was announced as the speaker for the Sunday, and Mr. F. W. Chase will lead the singing.

PATRIOTIC FETE

Don't forget your tag. Wearing it will admit you to the Claflin Field grounds on June 1 at 2.30 P.M. The program for the afternoon is in the hands of the Social Service committee of the City Federation, and will embody many of the features which proved so popular last year. Children from various schools will contribute several numbers.

Under the direction of Mr. Hermann, supervisor of playgrounds, there is to be a patriotic march by the children from the Newton Centre school, and a minuet danced by children from Chestnut Hill. The pupils of the Bowen school will give two Italian folk dances, "the Tarantella" and "the Vineyard." The Stearns school will furnish patriotic songs with flag drill, while the West Newton Music school, together with the Glee Club of the Vocational High Italian folk dances, "the Tarantella" school, are preparing some interesting musical numbers.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

On Saturday, the ball team easily defeated M.I.T. freshmen on Claflin Field by the score of 9 to 3. M.I.T. made only four hits off Owen and Sawyer, who pitched for Newton.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

On Friday morning "Bill" Wellman, the American Ace, a graduate of N. H. S. and a former captain of the hockey team, spoke to the school. His informal talk was perhaps the most interesting and thrilling ever heard at school, as it brought home to the students in forcible manner the risks an airman takes and the amount of nerve and courage one must have. The description of the various ways of attacking different kinds of aircraft, of his experiences on his first flight, and his trips over the German lines with his friend Hitchcock, who is now a prisoner, were most absorbing. In an easy manner he told of returning with his machine full of holes, but himself unhurt, and of the exciting thrills of going into a nose spin or doing some other equally dangerous but common manoeuvre.

Ellnor Lyon has been elected basketball captain for 1915. Betty Boutell is manager.

Newton High had more than 200 representatives in the Red Cross parade who, despite the tar on the streets carried themselves very well.

The senior party is to be held this year at the home of Eunice Learnard, vice-president of the class. The date has not been decided on as yet. The seniors have voted to present the school with a liberty bond as the class gift.

At a recent meeting of the English Club it was decided to have the annual picnic on Wednesday afternoon, May 20, at Concord.

Newton's win from Boston College High on Tuesday proved a costly one, as Henry Garrity broke his leg sliding home. He will be out of the game the remainder of the season. The game itself was the best of the season, Newton winning 3 to 2. Eaton got two doubles and a single.

On Saturday the tennis team won from the Harvard freshmen, 3 to 2.

MAY PARTY

Mrs. Julius Hollander of Hyde avenue was hostess at a very pretty May party given last Saturday at her residence for her daughter Ursula.

The playhouse and the grounds adjoining were beautifully decorated with the national colors, and the party throughout was a most patriotic affair. Miss Ursula made a most charming Miss Columbia, dressed in red, white and blue, with a blue crown set with white stars, while Master Hollander was dressed as a Middy. After a May pole dance around a red, white and blue pole, the children played several games, and then came the grand march. Each child was armed with a red, white and blue cane, with the streamers floating to the breeze, and, forming in line, they marched through an arch, held by Masters Willard Hollander and Jack Alden. Phoebe Alden, Augusta with an individual May basket. These were also decorated with the national colors, and contained patriotic favors in addition to the refreshments. Ice cream was then served to all the guests. Among those present were, Ursula Hollander, Willard Hollander, Jack Alden, Phoebe Alden, Augusta Hallett, Emily Warren, Dorothy Bridges, Helen Bridges, Lorraine Durham, Vera Stearns, Katherine Schraft, Janet MacKenzie, Alice Loveland, Elizabeth Loveland, Anna Bartlett, Ella Neally, Mary Schofield, Elizabeth Schofield and Jacqueline Hartford.

BOARD OF TRADE

On Tuesday evening, June 4, the last of the regular meetings before the summer season will be held at the State Armory at West Newton. The meeting which will be open to the public, will be graced by the presence of the local company of the State Guard, which will devote considerable of the evening to drilling, etc. Lieut.-Gov. Calvin Coolidge and Hon. Channing Cox of the House of Representatives have accepted invitations to be present.

The date has been set for the fourth annual summer outing of the Board, and it is planned to spend the afternoon and evening of June 27 at Bass Point, the trip being made by automobiles.

for street sprinkling on Islington road and Chaske avenue; for hearings June 3 on concrete sidewalks on Farlow road and Clark street; for widening of Clark street; for taking of land for sewer on Elbow avenue; for laying out of Moreland avenue; for establishing building lines on Moreland avenue, Clark street and Centre street between Bellevue street and Commonwealth avenue; for payment of bill of Dr. F. W. Putnam for $7; for granting the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. pole locations on Washington street; granting the Edison company attachments on Crafts street; and the Telephone company attachments on Suffolk road; granting the Gas Light company permit to open certain streets; granting permit for private garage on Wolcott street to H. L. Tange; authorizing appropriation of $200 for increase of salary, division foreman street department; $750 for heating library in Hyde school; and granting leave to withdraw on claims of Mrs. M. J. McHugh for damages caused by Laundry brook; to P. P. Valente for damages caused by collision with police patrol; to Thomas Kelley for damages to garden; to S. W. Shephardson for injuries on account of fall on Bowen street; to Morris Greenwald to transfer part of junk license authority to 99 West street; to Mrs. Bridget Sullivan for abatement of sewer assessment; and to Anna G. Barry on protest against betterment assessment on Seaboard brook.

The finance committee favored $1000 for equipment of the Newton Co. of the State Guard, but expressed its opinion that this was a matter for state financing, but as the Commonwealth evaded this responsibility, the city ought not to allow the men to suffer. The order was passed. The committee also favored $250 for reinsurance of the Oak Hill schoolhouse, and drily remarked that the proper officers of the city ought not to allow this insurance to expire, before talking steps to renew it.

A building line was also established on Kent road, and land taken for drain off Rowe street.

The salary order reported at the last meeting by the Finance committee and over which there was a long discussion at that time, was reported back unchanged, and after Alderman Whidden and Hollis had stated that they did not intend to oppose it further, it was passed unanimously. The order makes small increases in the salaries of the city treasurer, city commissioner, water commissioner and one or two clerks.

The board adjourned at 9.10 after which Alderman Clark called attention to the report in the Graphic of his remarks in nominating Alderman Holt for the office to which he was recently elected. Alderman Clark said that the article gave the impression that he was opposed to Mr. Holt's nomination, while on the contrary he had made the nomination with a great deal of pleasure. Alderman Clark also called attention of the board to the fact that Mr. A. C. Shorey, "the alderman from ward 22," one of the newspaper men who had recently become a bridegroom and suggested that he be given a reception. Efforts to induce Mr. Shorey to rise to the occasion were futile, however, and the members of the board left the aldermanic chamber with reluctant feet.

GIRL SCOUTS' RALLY

On Friday evening the Girl Scouts of the Sunflower Troop 1 of Newtonville, under Captain Daboll, gave a rally at the New Church parlors. Ever since they first formed under Miss Westgate, a little over a year ago, they have been increasing in numbers and have been very enthusiastic in their scout work. This is the first time they have given a public demonstration of their work as a single troop.

At the entrance different groups of girls showed various kinds of work in which they have engaged during the past year. One group was carefully picking over oakum for non-stereile pads to be used by the Red Cross. Some cut out postcards, and still others knit socks. One group of girls, who had been taking lessons at the Newton Hospital in bandaging and first aid, showed the uses for several kinds of bandages. Others illustrated the tying of knots.

After this the visitors were ushered to seats in the assembly-room where a very enjoyable program was gone through.

Dorothy Filene, Doris Jerauld, Lavinia Smyth and Mary Elizabeth Edmunds first gave a drum call. They had been trained by two Boy Scouts and did credit to their careful training. Then Marion Maxim sounded Assembly on the bugle. The curtain parted and showed three patrols on the platform, with Captain Daboll and Lieutenants Buffum and Stewart. Then followed the opening exercises of a scout meeting, including the call to the colors, the pledge of allegiance and singing of America. After this the Scout Promise and Laws were given. Next followed the investment of the following girls as Tenderfoot Scouts: Esther Stiles, Ruth Filene, Barbara Tracy, Elizabeth Leighton, Dorothy Sisson and Elsa Haase. The following girls were made Second Class Scouts: Eleanor Leighton, Dorothy Leighton, Muriel Burgess and Nina Harrington. Emily Kent was made a First Class Scout bringing the number up to four in this troop.

The second number on the program was a semaphore contest in which Philippa Patey was the sender and Alice Allen the winner. The Continental Code message was sent by Veda Leonard and won by Anna Horton.

Some of the older girls gave a very humorous and interesting play called "The Five Kleptomaniacs." Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt assisted by Lieutenant Mary Rolfe had the play in charge and the girls did remarkably well. The following girls took part: Frances Hatch, Eleanor Daboll, Sylvia Chapman, Eleanor Leighton, Marion Maxim, Marjorie Tucker, Norma Marshall, Beatrice Smyth, and Katherine Baker.

Between the first and second acts, candy made by the girls was sold and after the play, cake, cookies and other food were on sale and the young people indulged in dancing.

Over fifty dollars was cleared, part of which goes to the Red Cross.

OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

State Guard and Newton Constabulary Escort
Charles Ward Post

Memorial Day yesterday, was cloudy and cool, an ideal day for a parade, and veterans of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. took advantage of the weather.

The morning details attended to the decorations on the constantly increasing number of graves in the various cemeteries of the city. The most important service of the morning and one of the most beautiful of the day was that at St. Mary's Churchyard, Newton Lower Falls. Senior Vice Commander J. W. Coleman was in charge and Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of Auburndale made the address. This was followed by the annual custom of throwing flowers into the adjacent waters of the Charles river in memory of the sailor dead.

At noon the veterans and their guests were entertained at lunch in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, by the local Improvement Society, chicken pie, ice cream, cake, and coffee being served bountifully.

After lunch the parade was formed on the Newton Centre green, after a wait of some minutes for one of the bands. The procession was formed as stated in last week's Graphic, with Mayor Childs as chief Marshal, General James G. White, as chief of staff, and Major J. C. deMille as adjutant general.

A feature of the parade which was one of the best seen here for many years was the splendid appearance of the Newton Company of the State Guard under command of Capt. W. H. Fand, Jr. The Newton Constabulary also made a fine appearance.

The parade passed thru Beacon and Walnut streets to the Newton cemetery, where the most impressive exercises were held at the Soldiers' Monument, under direction of Commander John Ryan of Charles Ward Post. Prayer was offered by Commander Cole and the Gettysburg oration was given by Past Department Commander Wilfred A. Wetherbee. An unusual feature here was the firing of three volleys by the entire State Guard. The parade then passed thru Walnut street to Newtonville where a detour was made to pass by the John A. Andrew Home on Washington park. The Chief Marshal reviewed the parade opposite Madison avenue after which it was dismissed.

The Veterans, State Guard, and invited guests going to Temple Hall for the usual Memorial Day banquet, the Boy Scouts being dismissed and the Newton Constabulary marching to Cabot park where there was evening parade before dismissal.

After evening parade last night on Cabot park, General James G. White, chief of the Newton Constabulary presented cups and medals to the men and teams who had won recent competitions in shooting.

The six men team competition held by the Mass. Association of National Rifle Association clubs the latter part of April was won by the first team of the Newton Constabulary with the following scores out of a possible 200:

Private C. A. Jackson 197
Sergeant A. D. Wheeler 195
Capt. F. W. Davis 194
Capt. H. G. Bigelow 192
Sergeant C. A. Sawyer 190
Capt. C. W. Fulton 185

Seven other teams were entered in this match.

The cup awarded as the trophy in this contest was exhibited and can be seen at the office of the Newton Committee on Public Safety in Newtonville.

The round robin shoot which has been in progress at the Gainsboro Street rifle range since February was won by the Waban company of the Constabulary and a handsome cup was presented to the company by General White. Silver medals were awarded the following men shooting more than six matches: Captain C. W. Fulton, Lieut. C. A. Sawyer, Sergeant A. C.

OVER THREE HUNDRED PER CENT.

Newton's Contributions to Red Cross Fund Reach $221,000.
Transport to be Named For City.

Newton's contribution to the Red Cross War Fund has exceeded all anticipations of the executive committee in charge of the drive. Nearly three hundred and fifty per cent, is the great accomplishment. Belief in the Red Cross work, willingness to give on the part of the citizens, and well-organized effort by the village chairmen and the teams under their direction, have made the wonderful results possible.

The total of $222,000 has been reached as we go to press, and there are still a number of unreported contributions which will help in raising that total probably another thousand dollars. It is not yet possible to obtain a correct list of the names of large givers, but we shall receive from Henry J. Nichols, executive chairman, a list of Newtonians who gave $100, and over, so that we may print it in next week's issue of the Graphic.

Nearly 600 men in Newton gave their time and efforts to collect this large sum. Eleven village chairmen and 74 team leaders were in charge of 500 solicitors for the fund. From the first rally at the Newton Club, when the leaders and teams received their instructions, supplies and inspiration from those in charge of the general work, there has been active work, intense interest, and high enthusiasm.

At the Newton Club, where the headquarters were established through the courtesy of the executive committee of the club, the several chairmen have been devoted to the requirements of the many men engaged in the work of solicitation, supplies being obtainable without delay, and advice being given by Messrs. Henry J. Nichols, executive chairman, James A. Stafford, vice chairman, William C. Bambridge, publicity director, and Harry D. Cabot, director of the speakers' bureau. Upon the shoulders of Nichols and Stafford has fallen the most intensive work of the campaign, each being in attendance every evening. They have been assisted in the clerical work by Mrs. Woodbridge, Mrs. Titus, and Miss Blaisdell, and during a large part of the time by Horace S. Allen, whose expertness in accounting work has been of great value to the committee.

It is probable that nearly 8000 persons in Newton have contributed to the great amount obtained. Some gifts have been in the thousands, a large number over that figure being in the list, but the participation by givers of small amounts has been the most satisfactory feature of the campaign. Some families with seven or even nine members are recorded with a gift from each one. One family with a cat, has the cat's name recorded; another family with a bull terrier has that animal's name on the list; and many families whose servants were near when the solicitor called are represented by the complete list.

The teams have had much friendly rivalry among themselves, but the greatest interest has been in the accomplishments of the various villages. It was expected that Newton Corner, West Newton, and Chestnut Hill district would be the leaders, but the actual standing of the villages gave a great deal of zest to the work of the solicitors as well as the village chairmen. It seems well-established, now, that Newton Corner under the leadership of Oliver M. Fisher, won in the total amount contributed—a sum exceeding $55,000. The next in standing is West Newton under the chairmanship of Frederick S. Pratt, and the third place is taken by Chestnut Hill, with A. Winsor Weld as chairman, both sections contributing over $50,000 each.

The standing of other villages is as follows:

|                  |          |
|------------------|----------|
| Oak Hill         | $850    |
| Lower Falls      | $850    |
| Upper Falls      | $5,000  |
| Auburndale       | $6,500  |
| Newton Highlands | $6,400  |
| Waban            | $8,000  |
| Newtonville      | $18,000 |
| Newton Centre    | $45,000 |

These figures being subject to correction.

In the industrial drive the manufacturers did splendid work, plants like the Shephard Worsted Mills, Silver Lake Company, Saxony Mills, Martin Manufacturing Co., contributing 100 per cent of employees, the Gamewell Company doing likewise with a total of $1038. Newton firemen, and many small organizations were also liberal.

Complete figures cannot be given until next week, when the contributions of a number of citizens who have been absent from Newton during the campaign are received. Chairman Nichols desires it now that all who have not yet given to the fund may do so by mailing checks or pledges to him at the Red Cross headquarters, Newton Club, Newtonville, if the address of village chairman, team leader or solicitor happens to be unknown.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the campaign was the contest which came during the last few days, when the New England general committee instituted a bidding for the privilege of naming one of the war vessels now on the stocks at an Atlantic coast shipyard. Mayor Childs, in the name of several prominent Newtonians made a bid of $6,000 for the privilege, there being three other cities which bid in the contest. Newton's bid was highest, so that one of the ships will bear the name, "City of Newton."

Many important results will come from this well-organized campaign. One feature alone can be announced now. A tabulated card index of the names of all givers and the amounts given has been made so that future campaign committees will have that information at hand at the outset of a campaign. The salesmanship of the team members was carefully planned, and the benefit of that direction and information will be retained for later use also. There were many experiences with citizens who declined to give to the fund, for reasons which seem almost incredible, and those also will be tabulated upon the card index for use in succeeding campaigns.

MAXFIELD-BACON

Miss Mary Kirtley Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mason Bacon of 3 Bacon place, Newton Upper Falls, was married last Wednesday evening to Dr. James Harris Maxfield of Bloomfield, N. J. Rev. James Clement Sharp performed the ceremony at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, at 8 o'clock in the presence of many relatives and other guests.

Miss Fannie C. Bacon, sister of the bride was maid of honor and the groom's brother, E. Perry Maxfield, was best man. There were no bridesmaids but the ushers, who were schoolmates of the bride, were Helen Smith of Newton Centre, Phyllis Caldwell of Mount Vernon, N. Y., Vera McKee, Newton Highlands, Mrs. John L. Marsh, Shirley, Lucille Webster, East Orange, N. J., and Stephanie Balderston of Philadelphia. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white georgette over satin and a seed pearl necklace, an heirloom in her family. The maid of honor's dress was of pink organdie over pink satin, while the ushers were prettily attired in simple organdies of different delicate colors.

A supper for the immediate families and the ushers followed at the Newton Club, Newtonville, at 8.30. Dr. and Mrs. Maxfield will be at home after September 1st, at 13 Berkeley Heights Park, Bloomfield, N. J.

SENATOR WEEKS HERE

Senator John W. Weeks was the chief guest last night at the Memorial Day dinner of the Boston Rotary Club at Hotel Brunswick, Boston, and was given a hearty welcome. He gave a most interesting heart to heart talk on the war and conditions at Washington, and brought good news regarding the present conditions. He closed with an earnest admonition for everyone to ask himself or herself if he or she was doing all that could be done to maintain and sustain the boys who were giving their lives "over there."

President, William C. Bambridge of Newtonville was the toastmaster and Hon. Seward W. Jones, Alderman Henry L. Harriman and Mr. Fred M. Blanchard were the Newton men seated at the head table with the Senator. An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation to the Club, of a handsome silk banner, by Mr. Alfred H. Wing, one of the directors, in memory of his father, the late Mitchell Wing of this city.

POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

Change of Date For Quota Ordered to Fort Slocum

Thru the callous indifference or stupidity of some government official, the young men in the quota to be sent to Fort Slocum have been seriously inconvenienced. In the first place, the orders to report at headquarters this morning were not received by the Local Exemption Board until late Saturday afternoon and could not be delivered until the Monday mail, and many did not get the notice until they arrived home on Monday night. Yesterday, the Local Board was notified by telegraph to postpone sending this quota until Monday morning, June 3, at 7.30 A. M. As yesterday was a holiday, without mail service, it was impossible to notify the men and most of them were put to the bother of reporting this morning only to be told to come again on Monday. The person responsible for such stupidity ought to be removed from active service in the draft at once.

AUBURDALE STUDY CLUB

The May meeting of the Auburdales Study Club was held at the Walker Missionary Home on Hancock street, Thursday evening, May 23d.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Francis C. Nicholas, a distinguished engineer who has lived in Spanish America for fifteen years. A Roman Catholic himself, he seemed to have understood the character and temper of the Roman Catholic peoples of South America and Mexico especially well, to have become thoroughly acquainted with their home life and social life, and to have acquired much influence with them which he used disinterestedly for their good. His subject was the German propaganda in Spanish America. Some sweeping statements were made rather difficult to reconcile with the present attitude of many of the Spanish-American states, but the talk was most interesting and instructive.

Master John Heibek played two violin solos; an orchestra conducted by Miss N. Chapin rendered several selections and the program was followed by a social hour and an opportunity for the club members and their guests to meet Dr. Nicholas.

THE ATTRACTIVENESS OF CHRIST

Communion Sermon Recently Delivered in a
Newton Church

(Printed by request)

"The Attractiveness of the Cross" was the title of the following sermon, which was from the text: John 12:32, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto myself."

Christ was always attractive. As a babe in the manger he drew the shepherds from their flocks and the wise men from afar; as a child of twelve in the Temple, he attracted the doctors of the law by his knowledge of spiritual things; as a man in his ministry he drew the multitudes who heard him gladly and who marveled at his power; but upon the cross he has attracted all men.

I. The Cross attracts the world's thought. There is no work that God has done which has called forth the thought of the world that the Atonement has. Men have studied astronomy and followed the stately step-pings of God in the sky; they have pried into the secrets of geology as they have thought God's thoughts over after Him; certain generations have been peculiarly scientific, as the one which was dominated by Darwin; but the life and death of Christ have attracted more thought than all other themes combined. There have been books enough written to fill alcove after alcove in the world's libraries in an attempt to interpret that life and appraise that death. When any new line of thought absorbs a generation, it is valued by the gospel of Christ. We come upon an age that is distinctly social and men turn to the study of the social significance of the teachings of Jesus; the world is plunged in war and men ask anew what attitude Jesus took on the subject; Christ is ever vital to the world's thought.

The very fact that there are so many theories of the Atonement shows what an attractive theme it has been. Perhaps no two of us have just the same theory of the Atonement but each of us has been held by its contemplation. Listen to what some of the world's great men have said: Napoleon said: "Comparison is impossible between Jesus and any other being in the world. He is truly a being by himself. In every other life there is what imperfection, what inconsistencies! Near as I may approach and close as I may examine, he remains great with a greatness that crushes me."

Theodore Parker, that princely preacher of another generation, said: "Jesus unites in himself the sublimest precepts and divinest practices and pours out a doctrine beautiful as light, sublime as heaven and true as God. Philosophers, poets, prophets, rabbis, he rises above them all the mightiest heart that ever beat."

Rousseau, the great Frenchman who was so far ahead of his time that many thought him insane, and who lived when infidelity was rampant in France, said: "What sweetness and purity of manners, what sublimity in his maxims, how great the command over his passions! Socrates, receiving the cup of poison, blessed the weeping executioner who administered it. But Jesus, in the midst of excruciating tortures, prayed, for his merciless tormentors. Yes, if the life and death of Socrates were those of a sage, the life and death of Jesus are those of a God."

Thus the life and death of Christ have attracted the thought of men through the ages.

II. The Cross also attracts the world's love. There are multitudes who are not deep thinkers, who have no theory of the Atonement, who kneel before the Cross in love. There is no other shrine on earth where so many are drawn by the power of love.

Unselfishness is always attractive. The martyr's death compels our attention. The world today is being moved by the martyr spirit as men are leaving their homes to give their lives for humanity, and whole nations are entering the lists of the martyrs, willing to die for principle. But a martyr's death means infinitely more to us when we can feel that he died for us. Belgium becomes immortal as she laid down her life to save Paris and London and America.

Our theories of the Atonement may be dim and divergent, but we feel that there is something personal in it. There is a response in our hearts when we sing that stanza: "We may not know, we cannot tell, What pains he had to bear; But we believe it was for us He hung and suffered there."

At the close of the Civil War a man was seen erecting a modest headstone in the national cemetery at Lookout Mountain. In answer to inquiry he said that he was drafted in the course of the war, and a neighbor who had no home ties to hold him volunteered to take his place. He fell in the battle of Lookout Mountain, and the little monument bore his name and the words, "He died for me." So we set up our memorial of the Christ, and on it the confession "He died for me."

We must not forget that the Cross is the attractive force that will win the world. A boy went into a hardware store to work and the first day he spilled a box of tacks on the floor. In his haste to gather them up before his employer should see him, he bruised his hands. Looking up he saw the employer standing over him, looking at his bleeding hands, as he said, "Why don't you take the magnet," and reaching for a large horseshoe magnet he swept it around the floor and had the tacks back in the box in a moment. So we try to save men by picking them up ourselves; we try to correct the trend of the world by our own efforts, and we are bruised and bleeding. If we will only take the Magnet, if we will heed the Cross of Christ, men will be reclaimed, and the world redeemed.

"And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto myself."

PATRIOTIC RALLY

The usual opening of Norumbega Park was made the occasion this year for a grand patriotic rally and an appeal for the Red Cross Fund. It was held on Saturday night and the big auditorium was completely filled with the crowd which turned out.

Besides the speeches, there were some excellent official moving pictures of the war and of the ruins in Northern France and the singing of patriotic songs.

Mr. William F. Garcelon, chairman of the Committee of Public Safety, presided and introduced the speakers with his customary skill and grace.

Lieut. Governor Coolidge brought to the audience the greetings of the Commonwealth in a clear cut and forceful manner.

But the audience was there to see and hear Sergt. W. A. Wellman of the Red Cross Fund, when he was presented by Mr. Garcelon. He was received with hearty applause and three cheers. Sergt. Wellman is not an orator, but his straightforward account of his experiences across the water, his appeal for the Red Cross Fund and his description of a battle in the air was received by the deepest interest and when he had finished he was given another ovation.

Howard H. Kenney of Leominster, who had been awarded the prized "croix de guerre" for 75 hours of continuous work under fire at the battle of Verdun, told of his work with the ambulance corps and his philosophical observations were keen and interesting. He exhibited several helmets, gas masks and similar articles at the close of his address.

95 CENT GAS

The Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners has granted the petition of the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company to increase the price of gas from 85 to 95 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

At the same time the Board approved a contract between the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company and the Boston Consolidated Gas Companies which increases the price paid by the local company for gas at wholesale from 45 to 55 cents per 1000. The contract calls for eighty million cubic feet of gas per month and is in force until April 1, 1919.

The Board fixes the retail price of gas at 95 cents per 1000 feet "for the duration of the war unless meantime otherwise ordered."

DEATH OF MRS. LOVETT

Mrs. Alice Caroline Lovett, a resident for thirty-five years of West Newton, died last Saturday at her home on Mt. Vernon street, at the age of 82 years. Mrs. Lovett was the widow of the late George L. Lovett, and is survived by one son, Mr. Arthur T. Lovett, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles P. Hall, Miss Caroline A. and Miss Louise W. Lovett, all of West Newton. Funeral services were held from her late home on Monday afternoon, and were attended by a large number of friends. Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the West Newton Unitarian Church officiated.

Howard H. Kenney, formerly a soloist at the Unitarian Church, sang "Crossing the Bar," and played Schumann's "Traumerei" on the cello. He also provided a cello accompaniment when Mrs. Laura Littlefield sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," which was Mrs. Lovett's favorite hymn. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. HUNT

Mrs. Fannie E., the wife of Captain Hunt, died last Saturday at her home on Waverley avenue, Newton, following a slight shock of about three weeks ago. Mrs. Hunt was the daughter of Newell and Mary E. Bent of Cambridge and was 72 years of age. She has been a resident here for over thirty years and has been active in the work of Grace Church of which she was a member.

Mrs. Hunt is survived by her husband, two sons, Messrs. Lowell and Charles G. Hunt, and one daughter, Helen, the wife of Edwin S. Hunt. Funeral services were held from her late home on Monday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church and the burial was at the Newton Cemetery.

ITALIAN MEETING

The most remarkable Red Cross Rally of which we have heard occurred at the Stearns School last Sunday at 3.15 P. M. Lt. Vittorio Orlando of the Italian Army spoke in both English and Italian of the work of the American Red Cross in Italy. At the close of his address a table was placed in front of the platform with the American flag spread upon it and Mr. Francesco Argento asked who would be the first to place his dollar upon the Stars and Stripes for the work of the Red Cross. There was a veritable stampede and in a minute's time Old Glory was buried under silver and bills. More than seventy-five dollars was realized in spite of the fact that many of the men had already contributed one day's pay to the campaign. Mayor Childs presided.

CHILDREN'S DAY POSTPONED

A PROTEST Maria Drake Wiswell

What right have you to ask me, "have you given?"

And if I have, what shame to vaunt my deed!

True Charity goes not with blare of trumpets;

Am I not glad to help my brother's need?

Shall I with Pharisaic cant and clamor,

And broad phylacteries proclaim my gift,

When all my eager soul and heart desire

Some portion of my brother's load to lift?

O you who have the power, think for one moment

Before you waste on poster, label, pin,

The gold so hardly earned, so freely given

To check the evils from a monstrous sin.

How many wounds their cost might help to healing!

How many fevered tongues with coolness lave,

If all we gave, our willing contributions

Went to relieve, to strengthen, soothe and save!

O do not dream, we will not succor those who bleed,

And faint and sick, stretch pleading hands for aid.

Without these childish flaunting signs and symbols,

Like wampum to some savage chieftain paid.

Give us a chance to prove our loyalty,

Without the bribe of book or booth or sign,

Test us in this; to show Humanity

That in us lives the spark of life divine.

Yes, we will give! Give till our souls are whitened,

By dew of sacrifice, by Faith, and Love.

But hear our plea or fear the condemnation,

Of Him who rules us all! 'The Lord above!

LARIVEE REINSTATED

A decision handed down Saturday by the full bench of the Supreme Court declares that Frank W. Larivee of Newton Upper Falls is still a member of the Newton Police Department. This is the outcome of legal proceedings brought by Larivee to secure re-instatement.

According to Chief Mitchell charges were brought against Larivee in 1911, and at that time he wrote out his resignation, which was held by Chief Mitchell until November of last year, when further trouble developed and Larivee was informed that his resignation had taken effect.

Chief Justice Rugg, who wrote the opinion, states that the action was contrary to the spirit of the Civil Service law and that the time that elapsed between the writing of the resignation and its going into effect, was unreasonable long.

The decision means that Larivee can collect his pay as a policeman since November.

BUYING AND SAVING

Save and buy for victory.
Let the struggle be a history
Of the world's great war.
The fiercest the people ever saw.

Help the poor boys in France
Buy the cloth to make their pants,
Help Uncle Sam buy them kits,
Get them out of those filthy pits.

Mothers are crying, babies are calling,
Buy a stamp while the boys are falling,
Help them get away from the damp
By helping, and saving, and buying a stamp.

Don't be a slacker, buy a stamp,
Be the weather fair or damp,
Come now, and help your Uncle Sam
To buy the boys their bacon and ham.

Buy! Buy! Buy!
To help the soldier, and our Ally,
Help! Help! Help!
To make the Kaiser yelp,
Save! Save! Save!
To make the Kaiser's grave.

The reprint below is from the Boston Herald of May 20:

"The nourishment of our children. Perfect conditions at the front depend on right conditions among the civilian population behind the lines. One thing that must be avoided is the undermining by undernourishment. In building up children milk is the prime factor. For them it has no substitute. Note, then, these figures given out by the State Board of Agriculture:

Milk brought to Boston:
From Dec. 1, 1916 to Apr. 1, 1917 45,749,709 quarts
From Dec. 1, 1917 to Apr. 1, 1918 41,607,891 quarts

Decrease 4,146,818 quarts
Such a process if continued means oncoming undernourishment.

There should be in all schools, clinics where every pupil is weighed and measured by state officials, aided by local physicians; school lunches should be provided for all mal-nourished children, and for all others that could be persuaded to use them.

Four cents will furnish a lunch of adequate nourishment. Most children can pay this.

Through the children the mothers can learn scientific eating. Dull as it sounds it must be learned. To let the milk consumption of Boston decrease over 4,000,000 quarts in four months is unscientific eating that no community can afford.

Every woman who sees this should visit Dr. Emerson's mal-nutrition clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital at 10.30 every Wednesday and see how simple nutrition, and then go back to her town, get the children scientifically examined and scientifically fed. It is not an impossible task—and it is a vital one."

Since this was printed, we are informed that a plan is on foot to overcome the undernourishment of children in some such way as above. Those interested should write to Miss Antoinette Roof, State Leader for Food Conservation in Cities, 20 Ashburton Place, Boston.

It has just come to our attention that the Finishing Department of the Louis Fabian Bachrach Studio offers some very interesting and well paid positions to people, who are artistically inclined and to those who are interested in and prefer work of a more or less routine nature. Beginners are given a very thorough and careful training and every opportunity to learn. And on account of the shortage of men, there are several positions open to women of middle age, who may perhaps have never worked before, but who because of the exigencies of the day desire to be engaged in some occupation. Those persons interested should call for Mr. Brown at the Finishing Department, 314 Washington street, Newton, Mass.

Those Toothsome Apple Pies.

The origin of the toothsome variety of pastry known technically and practically as apple pie has long been shrouded in mystery. That it has had a long, if not eventful history, is evidenced by the distinct recollection of men now approaching the period of the rose and yellow leaf of the apple pies "mother used to make," and which formed such a prominent place in the dinner pail menu at the midday recess of the old-fashioned district school.

Early Egyptian Maps.

Maps originally appeared among the early Egyptians. They were wooden tablets on which land and sea, roads and rivers were fairly accurately outlined. The evidence of such maps is not only furnished in the old Egyptian papyrus rolls, but some of the actual maps have been discovered. It was once contended that the Greeks were the inventors of the art of cartography, but it has been proved that the Egyptians and Babylonians antedated them in this respect.

ALL LOOKED ALIKE TO HIM

Mrs. Newrich's Footman Helper Possibly Didn't Know There Were Any Other Kind of Cards.

Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the retiring British ambassador, is one of the most democratic diplomats ever accredited at Washington. In fact, he is very much like his predecessor, Viscount James Bryce, and has no patience with the new rich and other artificially gilded society. Although Spring Rice is a luxury for the overburdened diplomat, a story he told some time ago is timely, in that it is applicable to the war millions, of which every warring nation seems to have a big quota.

Sir Cecil's story is about a lady whose husband made a fortune in rubber, and in due time had reached the outer edge of society so as to be permitted to make a few calls, which were better received if made by card. On visiting days, she bedecked herself and her motor, and the round through the streets was always a question of hours.

On one occasion, however, the footman being sick, she broke in the help, not having time to secure another footman. While on her way Mrs. Newrich discovered that she had left her visiting cards at home, and thither she hastened, sending the new footman to fetch them, after which they continued on their mission.

It was quite dark when they reached the residence of a foreign minister, and the lady ordered the footman to leave three cards at the door.

"Can't do it, madame," he said bowing. "I've only got two left, an ace and a deuce."

DEADLY WEAPON OF WARFARE

German Albatross Is Probably the Most Powerful Machine That Has Yet Been Developed.

The tendency in airplanes has been to run to two extremes—for fighting, as small and fast as possible; and for bombing, as large and powerful as possible. In a three-seated, one passenger sits out in front mounted in a machine-gun turret. The pilot comes next, immediately behind the motor, while the second passenger sits behind him mounted in another machine-gun turret. This airplane is capable of carrying many hundred pounds of explosives and, being very fast and heavily armed, generally accomplishes its mission.

The German albatross is capable of a horizontal speed of 300 kilometers (about 187 miles) an hour. It is a single seater and carries three machine guns, which, being controlled by the motor, shoot automatically and simultaneously through the propeller. The sight of these weapons converges at approximately 50 yards in front of the airplane, making the chance of hitting the opponent three times as sure. The motor is equipped with an electric self-starter. It has also electrical devices for keeping the water warm in the radiator while flying at great heights. The wing surface is less than 20 square yards.—Scribner's.

Showing War's Privations.

In such sorely pressed neutral countries as Sweden the war has resulted in rich and poor alike being subjected to many restrictions heretofore unknown. An illustration of this—not without its humorous aspect—is found in a Swedish wedding invitation recently received in the United States by friends of the bride and bridegroom. The latter were members of two wealthy families in Stockholm, and the handsomely engraved missive included an invitation to a banquet at one of the finest hotels in the Swedish capital. It was in a notation at the bottom page that the hand of war manifested itself, in these words: "Please bring your bread cards." This meant, of course, that well-to-do hosts at a wedding could not provide their guests with bread, except in restricted amounts and in the manner prescribed by law.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Spitzbergen Rich Land.

Spitzbergen, virtually the only "No Man's Land" of any value left on the earth, promises to present an important question after the war ends. Jutting up from one of Europe's most northerly points toward the regions of perpetual ice, Spitzbergen received little attention from world powers, even those near by, until its important mineral resources were revealed. By some it is said the country will prove to be a second Alaska in the surprises awaiting its complete exploration and study.

Coal in apparently unlimited quantities, easily mined without shafting, abounds in Spitzbergen. Besides there are found deposits of iron ore, marble, copper ore, iron and copper pyrites, molybdenum, galena, zinc blende and other minerals.

Use of Cement Increasing.

The popularity of cement as a building material may be shown in figures. In a period of 15 years the cement output in the United States has increased from 17,000,000 barrels to 55,000,000. This is an increase of over 600 per cent. With steel a product which it is extremely difficult to secure at the present time, there is a great demand for cement to replace steel to some extent.—Milwaukee Journal.

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

HERE'S a lot of geography in the wear of tires. Some wear well in one region, and wear out in another. Climate, peculiar roads and road conditions are the cause of it. Therefore, good service in a single region is not enough proof of tires that must undergo nationwide use. Least of all could it measure tires up to the TESTED standard, Goodrich demands of tires.

With a command to find out what Goodrich Tires do on the roads of every section of our country, and what the roads of every section do to Goodrich Tires, Goodrich sent its famous Six Fleets of over forty cars, light and heavy, the length and breadth of our nation to an aggregate mileage of 1,044,686 linear miles, and 4,178,744 tire miles.

The Pacific Fleet contributed 166,960 miles on desert paths and coast highways; the Mountain Fleet 55,715 through the Rocky Mountains; The Dixie Fleet 3,285,600 in the South and North Midland; the Prairie Fleet 193,744 on the Great Plains; The Lake Fleet 217,372; and The Atlantic Fleet 254,012 on a grand tour of many tours ranging from Virginia, through New England, and back to the City of Goodrich.

Throughout this road roughing, SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, proved themselves the tires of durability and dependability wherever you go in our broad land. They verified all the good qualities of Goodrich Tires, and revealed many new virtues.

Get the economy, the comfort and certainty of such proven service by demanding the tires proved out in 4,178,744 miles over American roads—America's Tested Tires.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss Grace M. Burt, Editor.

All those who attended the big Suffrage Rally at the Boston Opera House last Saturday night do not now need to be convinced that suffrage is a war measure whatever opinions to the contrary they may have previously held. Both Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the honorary president, laid particular stress on the fact that perfect democracy is not achieved so long as one sex is not permitted to vote.

Elithu Root has said, "The world cannot be half democratic and half autocratic. It must be all democratic or all Prussian. There can be no compromise." In the same way no country can attain true democracy until all the people vote. Since the war began the countries of Europe one after another have been extending the right of suffrage to women and we, claiming to be the greatest democracy of the world, cannot come to the peace table when the war is over as such, unless we too, have granted women the right to vote. That is the position which President Wilson has taken. It is certainly the one which the United States Senate should take and the one which the House of Representatives has taken in its passage of the amendment a few weeks since. Our own senators are blocking the wheels and the speakers did not hesitate to say so. A speedy passage by the Senate and an equally speedy ratification by the States will settle a matter now before the country forty years and release active workers for the great readjustment after the war is over. The present anomaly of one woman because she lives in Massachusetts, being deprived of her voice in the government, while her sisters and mother living in suffrage states may do so, or of being able to vote in one state and losing the privilege when she moves to a non-suffrage state, is one of inconsistencies of making suffrage a states' rights matter. Let us speed on the passage of the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Whereas, The women of this country are a part of its people no less than the men; therefore be it Resolved, That we the Newton Equal Suffrage League having 300 members, hereby urge the United States Senate to pass immediately the women suffrage amendment to the national constitution, which has already been passed by the House of Representatives.

The officers for next year are: President, Miss Jessie M. Fisher; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel L. Powers, Mrs. William Z. Ripley, Miss Lucy E. Allen, Mrs. Lorena F. Mather; recording secretary, Mrs. Priscilla E. Blakmore; corresponding secretary, Miss Kate Fox; treasurer, Miss Martha L. Lathe; auditor, Mrs. Arthur E. Viets; directors, Mrs. Louis J. Balliet, Mrs. Addison C. Burnham, Mrs. Henry P. Curtis, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., Mrs. Albert Everts, Mrs. Frederick J. Pawett, Mrs. Jesse C. Ivy, Mrs. Herbert R. Lane, Dr. Carolyn Y. Wentworth, Miss Anna M. Whiting. The following were chosen delegates to attend conventions during the year: Mrs. William E. Birdsall, Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, with these alternates: Miss A. M. Whiting, Miss Marjorie L. Lane, Mrs. Austin W. Fisher, Mrs. Burton P. Powers, S. J. Powers, Miss Lucy E. Allen, Miss Grace E. Burt, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., Mrs. Philip Dunbar, Mrs. Louis J. Balliet, Mrs. S. L. Eaton, Mrs. H. R. Lane, Mrs. Leland Powers, Mrs. Robert E. Clark.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 4, 5 and 6, will be busy days for the club women who are delegates to the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. At two o'clock on Tuesday the convention opens in Arlington Street Church, Boston, with the reports of officers which will occupy most of the afternoon. In the evening after general singing of war songs come the reports of the Biennial. Mrs. George Minot Baker will tell of the place and the journey. Mrs. Grace M. Poole of the business sessions. The Arkansas State Song will be sung by Mrs. F. V. Hart of Lynn. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will speak of the various conferences. Mrs. Joseph E. Cushman of the distinguished speakers and Mrs. F. E. Dowling of things that didn't get into the papers. The credentials committee will be on duty from 1 to 2.30 and from 7 to 8 P. M. on Tuesday, and from 9 to 10.30 A. M. Wednesday.

On Wednesday the polls will be open from 12 M. to 2 P. M. and from 4 to 5 P. M. At the sessions that day both morning and afternoon there will be business and reports of departments. That evening as guests of the Boston City Federation, the hostess of the convention, the delegates will have an opportunity to enjoy an organ recital by Mr. Benjamin L. Whelpley and an address by Mr. S. K. Ratcliffe on "England's Message to America." At the close there will be an informal reception in the church parlors. Thursday morning comes the concluding business, the report of the election and the remaining department. A full program indeed, but one teeming with suggestions for club workers and well worth the while put into it. Plan to take in one or more of the sessions and feel yourself a part of the big forward looking movement of the times.

State Federation Annual Meeting

Following a tour of inspection by Lieutenant Colonel Rogers of the Adjutant General's office of Massachusetts, Governor McCall has conferred upon the Allen Military School of West Newton the official military recognition of the Commonwealth. Under Lieutenant Salmon the cadets have been showing special interest in extended order drill and bayonet practice. Two school periods a week have also been added to the instruction in military theory in the battalion school. Owing to this increase of attention to the military phase of its work the ordinary school athletics are receiving less attention. It is the intention of Mr. Balmers, the director, to still further emphasize the physical development of the boys' long military lines without excluding a fair amount of athletics. The school now feels that aside from its chief business of fitting boys for college, it is to serve the Commonwealth and the country in fitting its students for posts of usefulness in the national service.

Patriotic Fete

Clafin Field will be a busy scene tomorrow afternoon, quite out of the ordinary run of meets. Sunny skies and mild temperature is all that is needed to make the Patriotic Fete a big success, unless it be an enthusiastic audience, but that is taken for granted, for whenever and wherever the children are the central attraction there the children of an older growth are sure to be.

The program will open with the singing of America and a flag raising. Listen to the attractions which will follow

About $2000 was turned over to the Newton Centre Branch, and the balance through subscriptions through Chestnut Hill and Newton Highlands Committees.

Interpersed there will be community singing under the leadership of Dr. L. H. Naylor. Then there are the prizes, the candy, the ice cream and lemonade. Annual Meeting Newton Equal Suffrage League

On Tuesday afternoon the Newton Equal Suffrage League held its annual meeting at the home of Miss Anna M. Whiting with Miss Jessie M. Fisher, the president, in the chair. Reports of the year's work were submitted and the same board of officers were re-elected for next year. Some account of the annual convention held in Boston last week was given, as also of the mass meeting at the Boston Opera House on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Henry D. Sleeper, state organizer, was present as a guest and told of the work of the United States Senate consideration at headquarters to secure the passage in the Senate of the Susan B. Anthony Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. She did not hesitate to say that the two Massachusetts Senators are hindering its passage and that great efforts must be put forth in order to bring it about.

As a result of Mrs. Sleeper's talk the following resolution was passed: Whereas, It is our belief that a nation which has entered a war for Democracy should be willing to establish Democracy within its own borders;

Whereas, The women of this country are a part of its people no less than the men; therefore be it

THE POPS

The fifth week of the most successful season of Pops that Symphony Hall has known opens next Monday evening, June 3rd, and with this week the season is half over. Wednesday night will be the last night in which Mr. Jacques Hoffmann will be concert-master and Thursday evening his place will be taken by that admirable artist, Julius Theodorewicz.

One notable feature of the week will be "French Night" which is set for Tuesday evening, June 4th. For this evening Conductor Jachia has arranged delightful programs of music by the leading French composers. Naturally, "La Marseillaise" will be given due prominence during the evening.

Mr. Hoffmann is to be soloist on Wednesday evening. Thursday evening Florian Whittmann, first viola, will play two short pieces; on Friday evening Julius Theodorewicz will play a Chopin Nocturne with harp accompaniment played by Mr. Cella and on Saturday evening Alfred Holy will have some harp solos.

SAVE AND BUY THRIFT STAMPS

By Harold Fitts, Co. D, Grade VII, Bigelow School

The United States is in the greatest conflict ever known and everybody is on one side or the other, whether he wants to be or not. When we do nothing we are on Germany's side, but when we get busy and do all we can we are fighting for America.

In order to win she must have not only soldiers but also money. She needs this money to buy proper materials for fighting, to build enough ships for transporting soldiers and their supplies, and to pay the soldiers their wages.

The government raises this money through taxes, bonds, and thrift stamps. When we pay taxes, the government takes the money and does not give it back. When we buy bonds and thrift stamps we lend our money to the government and we are paid interest for the use of it until the government returns it to us.

There are many people who cannot afford to buy liberty bonds but everybody can save, to buy thrift stamps. Small savings of everybody amount to great savings for the Nation. No base ball or football team can win without support no matter how good the players. They must have bats and balls and gloves. Besides this they must have followers who will stand by them and cheer them on.

But we can't lick Germany by making a lot of noise. It's what we do that counts and our soldiers must know that the whole Nation is backing them and ready to do all it can.

That is why every one of us must do his part and buy thrift stamps. We must work and earn all we can and then buy thrift stamps with our money. We must be more careful of our clothes and make them last longer, especially of our shoes. We must remember these things and be on the watch for ways to help by saving. The more you save, the more you help.

George Washington.

MAY PARTY

The Annual May Party of the Unitarian Sunday School, West Newton, was held Saturday afternoon, May 25th, in the church parlors. The program of the afternoon consisted of the following numbers: 1 A patriotic Maypole dance. The pole being decorated with the flags of the Allies and wound with red, white and blue ribbons, sixteen little girls taking part. 2 Two sets of tableaux. The story of the Sleeping Beauty and the story of Snow White. Miss Marion Bassett of Newtonville had charge of this part of the program and the young actors were members of her kindergarten class. 3 An Egyptian dance by Miss Marhta Dunder of Waltham, which was enthusiastically received and enjoyed. Miss Dunder showed remarkable skill in the execution of her act. She was accompanied by Miss Olsen of Waltham. 4 A Grand March by all the participants in the program, headed by Squads A and B of Troop 5, Girl's Scouts of Newton. Master Raymond Carley, as drummer, immediately preceded the parade. 5 A play for the share of the applause. 6 A play by Miss Dunder which was most attractive and featured her ability as a toe dancer.

At the close of the program ice cream and cake were served in the dining room.

Mrs. A. B. Rich presided at the piano, and the affair was in charge of Miss Mary A. Sprague. The proceeds amounting to $50 are to go to charitable institutions.

NORUMBEGA PARK

Dame Boston and all Dame Boston's sons and daughters, as well as her nieces and nephews in all the neighboring towns and cities, are going in a steady stream to Norumbega Park these days, and particularly this week, for the sake of the delights of canoeing, of seeing the many rare animals, of the wonderful restaurant with dancing between the courses, but also to see delightful Joan Quest in A. H. Woods' master success, "Cheating Cheaters," which plays there this week.

Next week the Liberty Players present "Rich Man, Poor Man" another success nearly as great.

There is tremendous interest this year in the new picnic grounds, including baseball grounds and an enormous amphitheatre, which are now open to public inspection. They very nearly double the land area of the park, and make it a great attraction for big outings.

THRIFT CLUB RALLY

Interesting Exercises Held at Classical High School

One of the largest patriotic rallies ever held in this city was that held last week Thursday afternoon in the assembly hall of the Classical High School, when the "Thrifty Army" from the Bigelow, Stearns, and Peirce schools gathered in the assembly hall of the Classical High School.

All present were tremendously surprised that so strong an organization could have been formed within the comparatively short space of two months, and were also surprised to witness what the children had accomplished. Their earnestness and originality of working and saving was rewarded by the gift of Mrs. Cabot Stevens, the organizer, and Mr. Frank W. Remick of four stamps to each girl and boy in each class or company in each school. These rewards were given by Mayor Edwin O. Childs. General Hugh Bancroft was introduced as the worthy son of a noble father, two Generals in one family, and both present on this occasion. They were enthusiastically greeted with the regiment "yells" for Thrift. A surprise guest was Lieut. Jack Tutt of the Royal Flying Corps now on furlough.

Mr. Frank W. Remick presented the companies in each school, who had obtained 100 per cent., with three silk flags, British, French, and Italian.

The Stearns School has not only gone over the top with four Liberty Bonds, but has also made a splendid record with Thrift stamps—one Company, Miss Keyes of the sixth grade, received flags.

The Bigelow School was represented in the awards by Company A, Miss Dyer's class in the eighth grade and the Peirce School had six companies with 100 per cent. records.

Dr. Strayer, Head of Educational Department at Washington, of the W. S. S., requested Mrs. Stevens to conduct a "Thrift Story Contest," the winning stories to be sent to him for publication. The result of the contest was reported by Miss Bragg representing Supt. U. G. Wheeler. The "Best" story of all submitted, was adjudged to Delia Gravel, 8th grade of Stearns School. In a later issue we shall publish this. "The Best" for Tony Visco, a sixth grade lad in Eliot School of the Stearns District. He was called upon to read this, and received tremendous applause! The best stories submitted by Bigelow children were judged to be those written by Dorothy Fernald, eighth grade, and Howard Fitts, seventh grade. The best from Peirce School were Alice Grace and Mary Yeager. Rewards given by Mrs. Cabot Stevens to winners in "Thrift Record Sheet Contest" for having earned and saved by self-denial in most original ways and papers kept the nearest are as follows: Stearns School, Arthur Connolly, Caroline Marchant, Stewart Carrington, Mary Munhall, Dora Shriberg, Josephine Scrive, Evelyn Deagle,

Michael Vassalotti, Louis Annes, Helen Van Buskirk, Florence Langill, Samuel Shriberg, Eunice Crambell, Hilda Greaves, Dominic Lombardi, John McCarthy, May Conant, Angelina Bellafato.

Bigelow Regiment, Hazel Bell, Robert T. Person, Barbara Leach, Norton Leeds, Elizabeth Leeds, Henry Wilson, Jr., Avis Trowbridge, Leo Valpe, Ena Hopwood, Frank Bavis, Mary R. Heard, Barbara Partridge, Gilman Angier.

Mr. Frank W. Remick gave the rewards to Peirce Regiment, to Dorothy Thompson, Robert Brace, Agnes Pond, Marie MacGillivray, Paul Reilly, Ethel Riley, John Rice, Margaret O'Connell, Elliott Smith, Susie Thompson, Lawrence Clark, Helen Riley, Walter G. Colligan, Rosemary Park, Raymond Woolston, Bertha P. Kellar, C. D. Stefano, William Evans, Annie Anderson, Marion Andrews, Edward Stearns, Helen McCourt.

With very few exceptions the Stamp buyers in these Regiments are not children from wealthy homes and could not buy largely, but rich and poor alike have worked to secure money to buy, or denied themselves former pleasures or luxuries. Thus the potential value of the lessons in Thrift and self-denial is not to be estimated solely by dollars loaned now to Uncle Sam.

The program also included a solo by Howard Fitts, and an entertainment entitled "Sally Sunshine and the Thrifters" in which the characters were portrayed by Miss Grace Garcelon, Miss Margaret Gustine, Mary Heard, Florence Doucet, Elsie Dunleavy, Robert Pearson, Ede Dewing, Mary O'Neil, Leonard Smith, David Lawler, and Frances Rogers.

Lieut. Tutt held close attention in a witty description of his experiences with the Flying Corps in France. General Hugh Bancroft said he had come expecting to make an address on "Thrift" but had discovered that the school children knew all about that subject so he entertained them with questions and answers. Gen. William A. Bancroft offered warm congratulations to the school children and to Mrs. Cabot Stevens for the fine work accomplished as well as for the success of the entertainment and then he presented the awards to the different schools and announced the winners of the essay prizes. Rev. Mr. Person of Eliot Church and Mr. E. C. Adams of the High School, came down to speak but the hour was so late that neither did more than offer his congratulations for the successful afternoon and the spirit of Thrift exhibited.

The Thrifters from the Peirce school were James Carter, Roger Brace, John Mitchell, John Sheehan, Edith Smith, Arthur O'Connell, John McGrath, John Fraser, Paul Andrews.

Those from the Stearns School were Margaret McNeil, Velma Perry, Simon Delory, Josephine Antonnelli, Joseph Morrell, Della Gravel, Camella Esposito, Stuart Carrington, Amelia Sivigny.

While those from the Bigelow School were Louise Baldwin, Hazel Bell, Eleanor Clark, Lorraine Drefren, Frances Ford, Mary Heard, Beatrice Jenkins, Dorothy Fernald, Barbara Leach, Elizabeth Leeds, Suzanne Loizeau, Alice Ratcliffe, Ralph Bischoff, Frank Bowes, Carleton Bell, Herbert George, Duncan Howlett, Howard Rich, Harold Wilm, Richard Wales, Charlotte Towle, Lilla Ritcey, Gilman Angier.

They were assisted by Miss Dorothy Fish, Miss Elizabeth Henry Miss Jean Howard, Mr. John Woodbridge, Messrs. Philip O. Chalmers, Clifton Dyke, Donald C. Chalmers, Alexander P. Paddock, Percy H. Winch, Randall Abbot, Wendell Burbank, Miss Mary Markham, Miss Susan Doran, and Mr. H. M. Walton.

Editor Newton Graphic.

You have told me you plan to extend the courtesy of your columns to a report of the children's Patriotic Rally last week at the High School Hall.

May I ask that you express my sincere appreciation of the assistance that came to us from all sides? To the principals and teachers who co-operated splendidly from the inception of the movement, I owe much. Their "spirit" made possible the results that we have secured. Not only purchasing of stamps to help Uncle Sam, but a "heart and soul movement" behind it all! To the committee of ladies, and our advertisers we are indebted.

A big movement is on to start a summer's continued buying when schools are closed. The children have been a great joy to me. Let no one lag behind. The need is great.

Yours sincerely,
MINNA E. C. STEVENS,
Executive Chairman W. S. S. for Newton Schools.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—How often have we heard of emotional actresses in motion pictures who insist they cannot properly "emote" unless there is a violin at hand to play sobby music. And we recall one very famous screen star who demands that an entire orchestra be furnished in order that her temperament be escorted to the ethereal heights of frenzy. Now comes Dorothy Gish, who with her sister Lillian appears prominently in the cast of "Hearts of the World" at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, and knocks the emotional music theory into a cocked hat. Little Dorothy claims that it would be very embarrassing to D. W. Griffith, the producer, if she or her sister insisted upon doing all their future emotional scenes to the same music that accompanied the taking of their latest picture, "Hearts of the World." Never have actresses registered the emotions of a mimic play under such extraordinary circumstances. And never have they exploded the theory of "necessary emotional music" as a necessity than in the present instance.

BOARD OF TRADE

On Tuesday evening, June 4, the last of the regular meetings before the summer season will be held at the State Armory at West Newton. The meeting will be open to the public, which will be graced by the presence of the local company of the State Guard, which will devote considerable of the evening to drilling, etc. Lieut. Gov. Calvin Coolidge and Hon. Channing Cox of the House of Representatives have accepted invitations to be present.

COTTAGE CHEESE

Dr. Mellen gave a demonstration lecture on Cottage cheese in the cooking room at the Hyde School on Wednesday morning. Dr. Mellen is sent out by the Department of Agriculture, and will be glad to speak on this subject to clubs or groups of women. Arrangements can be made thru Miss Weeks, Newton North 313 or thru Miss Roof, 20 Ashburton place, Boston.

GIFTS ARE APPRECIATED

The Newton Committee on Public Safety is constantly receiving letters from boys now in France thanking the Committee for help to dependents at home and for articles of clothing sent to the soldiers in France. Below is one of the many letters received by the Committee.

March 16, 1918
To the Newton Public Safety Committee:

Just a few lines from a few Sammies, somewhere near the front line trenches, in appreciation for the bags, which we received from this Committee. It sure cheers us fellows up to know that our wonderful city is behind us, and we are doing all in our power to make the good people of Newton proud of their boys, and so far we have done nobly. Watch us when we go over the top. Newton will be first, and the boys will bring home the bacon, even though we are "Only Volunteers".

A CHANCE TO BUY

If a boy or girl comes to your door showing a blue card and asking you for an order to buy Thrift Stamps, give a moment to what is said. Uncle Sam is to send out these children as his agents. They take no money, nor deliver stamps. The letter carriers do that unless your own child is a member of the "Thrift Army" and buying for you through one of the schools in the contests there. Help them all you can, but General Bancroft, chairman for Middlesex County, has issued to Mrs. Cabot Stevens these blue cards for "Thrift Army" and other children to use preparatory and during the Thrift Intensive Campaign, beginning June 7. Give your weekly order to the collector. Medals will be awarded those who can secure most order. Uncle Sam's war program must be carried on by the help of everybody's "mite", i. e., the Thrift Stamp!

Solicitor's Regiment, name and address will be on every card.

ANOTHER PEST

The leaf roller, a tree pest but little known in this part of the country, has made its appearance in Newton and is giving City Forester W. W. Colton a lot of trouble as the matter in which the worm works nearly defies its extinction by spraying. It hatches early in May, works its way into the opening buds on the trees and when the leaves form either rolls itself inside a leaf or spins a fine web that covers it completely while it feeds. All sorts of trees are attacked, but the pest prefers the oak.

So far it has invaded Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, Newtonville, and Chestnut Hill. The Forestry Department is making use of a solution of nicotine sulphate in fighting the pest, which is a tiny green worm, like a caterpillar, but more destructive than the gypsy or brown-tail moths.

LOGGES

Under the auspices of Mt. Ida Council, No. 1247, Royal Arcanum, a reception was held last Monday evening in honor of the election of one of its members, Herbert A. Billings to the office of Grand Regent of this state.

There was a large gathering of members and visiting members who were pleased to pay their respects to the Grand Regent also several of his associate officers, namely, Grand Orator, John T. Friary; Grand Secretary, William L. Kelt; Grand Treasurer, Horace G. Williams; Grand Guide, W. T. Irving; Grand Sentry, C. H. Holgate, and Chairman of the Committee on Laws, John E. McKenna.

Dr. Michael Chirug, regent of Mt. Ida Council, was in charge of the occasion. A collation was served.

FINED TWICE

Morris Temple of Natick drove from Newton Centre to Natick in exactly twenty minutes last Friday night. Monday he paid a fine of $15 in Natick for overspeeding, and Tuesday he was fined $10 for the same offence in Newton. The policeman who made the complaint in Newton said that Temple's car passed him at high speed, on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, at exactly eight o'clock Friday night. Twenty minutes later, at a point considerably more than ten miles away, Temple was stopped by a Natick officer.

COPLY THEATRE—At the Copley Theatre next Monday, the Henry Jewett Players will continue to present for its second week "Arms and the Girl," the new Belgian war comedy by Grant Stewart and Robert Baker. Although its authors have had the temerity to place the scenes of their play in the midst of the atmosphere of Belgium during the German invasion, they have also had the artistic sense to write a play that possesses intrinsic merits of its own, aside from its timeliness. The cast draws upon the entire strength of the Henry Jewett Players and the scenic environment brings before the audience some of the most picturesque aspects of Belgium. This is the era of war plays, and their success at the Copley indicates that they are what the public wants.

Worthy Prayer.

Prayer for worldly goods is worse than fruitless, but prayer for strength of soul is that passion of the soul which catches the gift it seeds.—George Meredith.

Diogenes and Alexander.

Diogenes was explaining to Alexander about his tub. "I could have got a one-room apartment with bath on the Acropolis, but how could I keep any reputation as a cynic if I lived at a place like Marathon Manor?" And leading the hero to a clever little place that had not yet been spoiled by the crowd, he welcomed him to Bohemia over the red ink of Chios.—Exchange.

Of Egyptian Origin

The Basques are a curious race, and for a century scientists believed it impossible to discover their affiliations, and with good reason, for they tried in vain to connect them with other European people. In recent times a careful and intimate study of the language has revealed them to come from Egypt at a time so remote that even tradition and legend show no traces of that far off migration.

HELP WIN THE WAR

Which of these practical ways of war saving are you already using?

England has been saving between fifteen and twenty million dollars a week in labor and material by such economies as are suggested here. We must begin these economies NOW. We must not prolong the war through stupid inability to profit by the experience of others.

Consider what you would do if you suddenly found your income reduced a certain amount. How would you save if you were compelled to save? Will any of these ways help you?

1. At home do you put out all unnecessary electric lights and gas lights?

Most of the electricity and gas which we use at home is made by burning coal. Save by beginning the day with the sun.

2. Do you keep the temperature in your house down to 68 degrees and see that there is sufficient humidity in the air?

This saves heat and improves health.

3. Do you avoid unnecessary travel?

The government has already called upon citizens to take no unnecessary trips on railroads. The railroads are needed for war service, both passenger and freight. Think before you go!

4. Do you save gasoline, rubber and skilled labor by cutting out all unnecessary use of motor cars?

Gasoline is one of the most important war supplies. Every gallon counts. Rubber is also in demand. Chauffeurs are needed on government work.

5. Do you save the time of your friends and the labor of the telephone company by cutting out unnecessary telephone conversations?

Later we may be asked to avoid all but business and emergency calls between certain hours. The government needs the telephone in its war work. Let us keep off the lines!

6. Do you buy only clothing that is necessary, and which will wear well? Are you wearing out your old things?

By so doing you are saving labor and material that should be employed for war work.

7. Are you making simplicity in dress and living your motto?

The simpler your clothes the greater the saving in making and laundering. To dress or live extravagantly in war times is not only unpatriotic, it is bad form.

8. Are you cutting down on amusements?

Recreation is necessary, but many amusements nowadays cost money, and we should lend our spare money to the government to be used in practical ways for winning the war. So far as you can, get your amusement more out of doors and out of your brains and not out of your pocket-book. Read more, use the public libraries and the museums.

9. Are you foregoing personal luxuries?

This applies to any expenditure not essential to your health or efficiency or to the health or efficiency of your friends.

10. Have you more sweaters and woolen clothes than you actually need?

The war demand for woolen sweaters has only just begun. If you have any you can spare, pass them on to those who need them and so save dollars on the limited supply of wool. Do not knit articles not needed by you or by those to whom they are sent as gifts.

11. Have you closed off rooms not in constant use?

This is an effective way of saving labor, coal and light.

12. Do you produce anything? If not, you can, by your economies, or by doing without personal service, be just as useful by releasing someone else who can produce.

13. Do you refrain from unnecessary repairs and improvements?

Do only what is necessary to keep things from going to pieces. Don't worry about shabbiness in war time.

14. Do you carefully save tin foil, bottle tops and tubes, old rubber articles, newspapers, wrapping paper, and twine?

All these are of war value if there is a practical way of disposing of them in your locality.

15. Do you shop when you do not need to?

Every separate transaction involves the labor of several different people—salesmen, packers, bookkeepers—in addition to that of the manufacturer. Remember that laying in a supply for the future may be good housekeeping in peace times—in war times it is unpatriotic, hoarding, and hinders the government. Don't question whether you can afford it, but whether the country can afford to let you have it.

16. When you go shopping, do you carry home as much as possible?

This saves labor. Tell the salesman you want no extra wrappings.

17. Have you put away all your unnecessary silver and bric-a-brac, or anything which requires labor in cleaning?

This saves time, which can be used for war knitting or Red Cross work.

18. If you are so placed that you have several servants, have you carefully considered whether you can in any way cut down the number or substitute women's work for men's, indoors or out?

The government is in great need of men for shipbuilding, transportation, farming, etc., and of women to take their places, and in the finer grades of war work.

19. Are you buying War Savings Stamps, so that you can help the government with every twenty-five cents in cash you save? Can you not start each child and member of your household filling a Thrift Card or a War Savings Certificate?

You can buy these at every bank or post office. Remember that $4.12 to $4.23 invested in 1918 means $5.00 returned to you in 1923.

20. Have you planned your war garden for the coming spring?

War gardens are usually on land which would not be used otherwise. Food from your garden is more palatable, relieves labor, and does not have to be transported. Last year's gardens saved the food situation.

If you are unwilling to do your share in these or equally effective ways, you put yourself in the same class with the healthy young man who refuses to serve his country.

Do you let the war and the war economies make you gloomy? The world has no use nowadays for anyone who can not serve at home with the same high courage, cheerfulness, and gallantry that we expect of our men in the trenches.

To Cleanse Fur of a Cat.

Take a large cupful of granulated corn meal, add pinch of fine grape seed. Place cat on apron or other cloth, then rub meal gently and thoroughly through the fur, gathering the meal up and repeating three or four times. This will heal and leave skin perfectly clean and the fur soft and luxuriant. Will also remove fleas.

Announcement

The practice of calling upon telephone operators for information as to the time of day has grown to the point of interfering with the efficiency of telephone service.

For such information 100,000 calls are made daily in New England, the bulk of such calls coming naturally at times when it is most difficult to handle them.

Service efficiency now demands that the work of the operating force should be relieved of unnecessary burdens; and that all energies be directed toward the furnishing of effective telephone service, and to that alone.

Prompted by these considerations, the practice of giving information as to the time of day will be discontinued, beginning June 3, 1918.
